THE CALUMNY

by Oh HELL

"People are no damn good."

SOVIETS CLAIM

ood for a couple of riffs of "It's a Long Way to Outer Mongolia". And who can forget Hot Lips Lenin, the father of modern jazz and the first cat to sport a beatnik beard? In the days before the October revolution, he used to sit outside the Czar's palace and hypnotize the masses with his way out wailing of "South Red Square Parade" and "Wheat Field Stomp". Then they nursed it, rehearsed it, cleared it with the commissar of culture, whipped it into the party dialectic, and they called it the birth of the blues. Man, that's the way it began.

"To the Woods!"

"No, no, no, a thousand times no . . . anything but the woods! . . . Anything??"

Zap — You're Sterile!

"Zap—You're Sterile.—That's all there is to it", says inventor Dr. Goebels, world famous biophysicist. "Yes, my new X-ray machine will revolutionize reproduction".

With the news of this sterilization machine, the Brunswickan obtained the following comments from Campus Authorities:

Duz Dismal Peecy: Too late, too late!

Tricky Dicky: If you want my opinion of the whole business, it strikes a sour note.

Bill Reddung: "I'll buy". Dean Will'e Argue: Well hell, lads, here's your chance.

Frankie O'Toolebox: I'll remain faithful to self-control, rather than remote control.

Cooling Bee: I haven't time to see you now.

Fweddy: Wild oats forever. Winky Goaway: Well, I mean, really, after all, it's hardly of any real consequence.

Dr. Kiddy Karty: I believe I'm correct in saying that the Greeks originated the whole thing — they did it with swords, I believe.

STUDENT LICENSE

include special weekend excursions, particularly following exams, sight-seeing tours to K.C.'s log jams, and the well-known Fort Nashwaak.

Students are asked to support this new university activity and are reminded that all proceeds will go towards the New Building Fund.

Miss Semen: What an impertinent question, young man.

Dick Grunt: Must have one for the House.

Seedy McLoud: Boys will still be boys.

Prof. Pritch: . . . and my multi-bank Chrysler Mark IV Sherman tank roared up the hill . . .

Deener Pshaw: So what?

Dr. Bayley: Can they do anything about the common cold?

Deen Deenen: But it isn't natural, is it?
