make us prove it

The secret is our new Sanitone Synfactant process. It floats dirt out, then forms a protective shield on the fabric to actually repel dirt. So colors are brighter, whites are whiter. Fabrics look and feel like new again. It's a Sanitone exclusive.

Eliot drama at Playhouse

One of the world's great dramas will be recreated by a distinguished company of actors when T. S. Eliot's Murder in the Cathedral is presented at the Playhouse Monday, October 28 at 8:00 p.m. by the National Shakespeare Company.

Murder in the cathedral tells the story of a priest-king who is slain for his people, and investigates the nature of martyrdom—the simultaneous joy and grief that invigorate faith.

Thomas A Becket, the Archbishop of Canterbury, is seen struggling to achieve the right death as he says "I am not in danger, only near to death."

First, four visions tempt him, three showing the glory of the world, the fourth showing the glory of conscious martyrdom. After Becket triumphs over his tempters, he delivers his last sermon from the pulpit of the cathedral. Then comes his murder.

With Becket lying dead, the four murderers turn to the audience and each tries to justify the deed by asserting that it was necessary to make England what it has become.

The National Shakespeare Company's production of Murder in the cathedral is staged by James Karr under the supervision of John Houseman, and features Michael Levin as Becket. The play is being done in repertoire with Shakespeare's Othello and Taming of the Shrew.

Houseman's many accomplishments include co-founding the Mercury Theatre with Orson Wells, directing Leslie Howard in "Hamlet" and Louis Calhern in "King Lear." Most recently, Mr Houseman directed the Broadway production of "Pantagleize" for the APA Repertory Company. He currently heads the Juilliard School of Drama.

The gifted stage craftsman William Pitkin has designed a unique aluminum space stage for the National Shakespeare Company — the first of its kind ever to be used for touring.

UNB students may pick up free tickets at the Residence Office, and STU students at the STU business Office.

The Creative Arts Committee, which is sponsoring Murder in the Cathedral, plans to bring several other famous artists to Fredericton. Alirio Diaz, classical guitarist, will perform at the Playhouse Nov. 21. The Aeolian String Quartet will perform at Memorial Hall Feb. 11.

The National Shakespeare company will return March 3 to perform G. B. Shaw's Don Juan In Hell at the Playhouse

Ryerson president resigns after vote

TORONTO(CUP)—Dave Maxwell, student president at Ryerson, was forced to resign Wednesday (Oct. 9) by a student council determined to keep him at his word.

Maxwell had threatened to resign three weeks ago if a proposal to turn Ryerson into a free school was defeated by referendum vote.

The proposal went down in flames and Wednesday night anti-Maxwell forces on council rammed through acceptance of his resignation.

Arts representatives, claiming the vote turn out was small and unrepresentative (less than 25% voted), bitterly opposed acceptance of the resignation but lost 16 to 11.
