SMU, QEH, 'X' Send Tigers On Mild Losing Streak

"Les Trois Renards," a drama of stark realism and hard life, "jammed" about 50 more head of people into the Dalhousie gymnasium Saturday night than the Xaverians scored points at the same time in Antigonish, where the X-men triumphed in their most annoying fashion, by drubbing a hapless Dal quintet by the stratospheric score of 120-54.

The loss extended Dal's losing streak to 9 in a row, as a smooth passing high school five and a lanky SMU crew outscored the Bengals earlier in the week. Ironically enough, the last basketball game won by the Tigers was over the X-men in Halifax three weeks ago.

Big feature of the X game was the fact that only one Xaverian hooped more than 20 points, statistically as well as in fact, proving that what St. FX has is a team, rather than a collection of individuals. At half-time the X-men had built up a 65-20 bulge, on the strength of deadly accurate set-shots, and spent the rest of the game adding to their horrible total. The only bright light for the Tigers, in a game which is best forgotten, was Dave Matheson, who improved to the extent of 21 points, mainly scored on fast breaks while the X press was applied to the bottled-up Tigers.

However, one could not take anything from the defeated. They played a steady ball game throughout. A tribute must be paid to the fine conduct manifested by the Dalhousie Tigers. Many teams when encountered with similar circumstances would have blown their stacks and exhibited flaring tempers befitting savages, but on the contrary, the Tigers displayed great sportsmanship in defeat.

Letter To Dargie

Dear Mr. Dargie:
At the last meeting of the Dal Alumni Association (the only one held since Christmas, hence the delay) the fine record of the Dal team in the Christmas Invitation Tournament was noted with great satisfaction. I was instructed to offer our congratulations to the team and to you.

Most of us follow the progress of Dalhousie's teams with considerable interest. In this instance our pride in the victories over Providence, Brown and Harvard was surpassed only by our pleasure in the reports of the team's good sportsmanship and popularity.

We consider that this year's hockey team is in all respects a credit to Dalhousie.

Yours truly,
C. B. HARVEY,
President,
Dalhousie Alumni Association.

Elizabethans Drop Dal

Last week Dal hoopsters were once again defeated by Queen Elizabeth High, the team that will carry Halifax's laurels into the Dominion Juvenile playdowns; the being 49-40.

Although playing without the services of their star guard, Bill White, the QEH boys had little trouble after the first half in subduing the Tigers, who had played a hard game on the previous night against Saint Mary's, and simply lacked the spirit and stamina.

With fifteen players ready for action, coach Thomas chose to stick with the same combination throughout most of the game, alternating centers when they could no longer stand up under the pace. As a result the Elizabethans were able to fast break the tired guards, and after overcoming a 24-23 half-time deficit they were never headed.

High scorers of the game were Shurman of QEH with 15 points, and Edgecomb and Dobson of Dal with 11 and 10 respectively.

QEH High: Shurman 15, Wickwire 7, Wetmore 6, Beaton 6, Thompson 5, iPers 2, Tupper 2, Simmons 2.

Dalhousie: Edgecombe 11, Dobson 10, Goldman 6, Rankin 6, Matheson 5, Tzagarakis 2, Doig.

Dal Puckmen Whip SMU

Dalhousie Tigers outscored Santamarians 6-4 last Wednesday in an Intercollegiate Hockey League game played at the Dalhousie rink. The Tigers' Bob Dauphinee and Saint Mary's Jimmy O'Regan tallied "hat tricks" to lead the scorers.

At the end of the first period the campus rivals had to be satisfied with a tie as Dauphinee put Dal in the lead only to have "Ducky" Reardon for SMU tie it up.

Score 3 in 2nd

In the second period Dauphinee gave the Tigers a lead they never relinquished. Plucky Stu McInnes notched Dal's second marker while Dauphinee assisted by "Punch Line" mates completed his "hat trick". Gerry Nickerson and Roger LeBlanc were put off five minutes for fighting as referees Legere and Swartzack attempted to keep control. Dal's durable defense duo of Rolly Perry and Gerry Nickerson gave Gadyamack "stonewall" protection as Gerry kept the twine clear of pucks, to give Dal a 5-2 lead.

In the final frame tempers flared and play became ragged. The referees had their hands full as both teams seemed more intent to go after one another than goals. Jocko Lewis of Dal and Billy Conrod were caught "mixing it up" behind St. Mary's net. Jimmy O'Regan of the red and white, finished off his "hat trick" when his team was two men short. This completed the scoring but not the penalty parade as when the final "gong" sounded Bobby Goodfellow and Sammy Almolky were off serving a five-minute fighting penalty.

Inter-Fac Hoopla!!

Dents rolled all over Law B 53-25. The score was a good indication of the play as the Dent team outclassed their lawyer rivals. Wild and rugged Connors led the way with 19 points closely followed by King with 16. Marshall had 10 and Meynell had 8 for Law.

Law B—Epstein, Lee 4, Marshall 10, Power 3, Meynell 8, Farquhar.

The Engineers continued their winning ways and this time it was the A & S "B" team that felt their ire. The score was tied 7-7 at the end of the half but the Engineers put away 21 points in the second half as compared to 11 for the B team. The final score 28-18. With a low score like this there were no real high scorers. Gladwin had 8 and Jones and Tomes had 7 and 6. Schlosberg had 6 for A & S B.

Commerce still maintains second place in the league standings when they downed a stubborn Meds teams 43-32. This was a very rough game and two of the Commerce players were almost thrown out of the game as they both had 4 fouls on them. Gibb of Commerce and Brown of Meds were the high men for the game as they both amassed 12 points. Eight points were hooped by Henly and Young of Commerce and Jannigan of Meds.

Commerce—Gibb 12, Henly 8, MacKenzie, Davison, Berringer 6, Burke 2, Snarr 1, Johnson, Young 8, Shaw 2.

Meds—Brown 12, Gladwin 6, Langley 2, Jannigan 8, McDonald 4, Saunders.

Law A finally won a game when they took the powerful A & S "A" aggregation 33-21. This, too, was a rather rough game and Pappas of Law was forced out of the fray via the five fouls regulation. Bryson had four fouls called on him. McGrath and Yeadon had three called against them for Arts. The score was close at the end of the first half 20-15, but the Law team poured on the coals in the second half that the Arts team could not match and Law won the game going away. Choo-choo MacKenzie finally got hot and he pumped in six baskets, good for 12 points. Nip Theakston put 8 points in in the first half which was his total scoring for the night. McGrath had 7 for Arts.

Law A—Bryson 2, MacKenzie 12, Theakston 8, MacKenzie 2, Pappas 6, Elman 3, Vinegar, Unsworth.

Filmore, Stevenson Curl In Final Draw

The final game of the Dalhousie playdowns will be played on Wed., Feb. 15 at the South End Curling Club. Teams skipped by Stevenson and Filmore will battle it out for all the honour. Both teams survived the single and double knock-out elimination series, each having one loss.

During the week of Feb. 6-10 four games were run off. In the first game Filmore defeated MacIntosh 9, 8 and Flinn 12, 3 to reach the finals. Stevenson and Campbell won the first game by the score of 6, 2 and lost the second 10, 4. Campbell was later defeated by Filmore 6-5.
