

Better, Cheaper, Stronger Than Wood

You can't put a better fence around your property than the Peerless Lawn Fence. It is neat and attractive—strongly and staunchly built. Made from heavy, No. 9 steel wire, well galvanized and coated with white enamel—will stand for years and cannot rust.

Peerless Lawn Fence

is handsome enough for city property and is strong and cheap enough for the farm. It will keep cattle out and stand up under the heaviest snow drifts.

Peerless gates are made with an electrically-welded, solid frame—last a lifetime and always look and work well.

We make a full line of poultry and farm fences and gates.

BOYS FOR FARM HELP The managers of Dr. Barnardo's Homes invite applications from farmers, or others, for the boys who are arriving periodically from England to be placed in this country. The young immigrants are mostly between 11 and 13 years of age; all will have passed through a period of training in Dr. Barnardo's English Institutions, and will have been carefully selected with a view to their moral and physical suitability for Canadian life. Full particulars as to the terms and conditions upon which the boys are placed may be obtained upon application to Mr. Alfred B. Owen, Agent Dr. Barnardo's Homes, 50-52 Peter St., Toronto.

THE SPICE OF LIFE.

A bibulous friend of mine says there is only one thing in the world worse than whisky, and that is no whisky.

"Pa!" "Well, what is it now?"
"Pa, when I grow up, how will I keep from marrying the wrong woman?"
"You won't."—Life.

DIED YOUNG.

"Alfonso XIII.," says the helpful and instructive Woman's Home Companion, "was the son of Alfonso XII., who died five months before he was born, at the age of twenty-eight."

Mrs. Faraway—I suppose you have forgotten that this is the anniversary of your wedding day?

Professor Faraway (abstracting himself from comic sections)—Eh? What? Dear me! Is it, really? And when is yours, dear?

"Lincoln," said a veteran diplomat, "used to compare fair weather friends to the rainbow."

"They both look fine, and they bend very polite," he would say, "but they're never around when the sun isn't shining."

A DIFFERENCE.

A man was in the office of one of our wizards of finance having an interesting talk, when an accountant entered with a bunch of papers. Without stopping to read them over or stopping the conversation the great man signed them all and handed them back. The accountant hesitated and then asked:

"Don't you want to look over those vouchers, sir?"
"Vouchers! Did you say vouchers? Hand them back here; I thought they were affidavits."—Ourselves.

Twelve persons decided to lunch together every day, and agreed not to sit twice in the same order. One of the number, a mathematician, surprised his associates by informing them that their decision meant that one and one-third million years must elapse before they would again be seated in the original order. Two men can sit together only in two different ways, three in six ways, four in twenty-four, five in 120, six in 720, seven in 5,040, eight in 40,320, nine in 362,880, ten in 3,628,800, eleven in 39,916,800, and twelve in 479,100,600.

A carping old Scotch woman said to her pastor one day:

"Dear me, meenisters mak' muckle adae about their hard work. But what's two bits o' sermons in the week tae mak' up? I cud dae it masel."

"Well, Janet," said the minister, "let's hear ye."

"Come awa' wi' a text then," quoth she.

He repeated with emphasis:
"It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop than with a brawling woman and in a wide house."

Janet fired up instantly.

"What's that ye say, sir? Dae ye intend onything personal?"

"Stop, stop!" broke in the pastor.

"You wud never dae for a meenister."

"An' what for no?" asked she sharply.

"Because, Janet, you come ower soon tae the application!"

The old gentleman had returned to the home of his boyhood for the first time in ten years or more, and, on the last occasion, he had written "and wife" after his name in the hotel visitors' book. Of course, the landlord was glad to see him, and grasped him warmly by the hand. "Ain't grown a day older than when you were here last," he said. "No?" said the old gentleman, half inquiringly. "Not a day," returned the other emphatically. "Your wife seems to have changed more'n you." "Yes?" "Oh, yes; leastways she does to me! Looks thinner than when you were here last." "Indeed?" "Yes. She ain't near so fleshy as she was according to my recollection. Seems like as if she's taller, too, and her hair don't look just the same to me, an'—an'—" "And," put in the old gentleman softly, "she's not the same wife, you know."

The Right of Way

In the bowl of the

DE LAVAL CREAM SEPARATOR

❑ No confusion occurs between the cream and skim-milk currents.

❑ There is a guarded channel for each, and yet any dilatory fat particles have full opportunity to join the cream current without disturbance in any way. Each has its full right of way from entrance into, until discharged from the machine. That's why the skimming is so perfect.
