THE PARR MILK CASE
In the course of his judgment in this case, His Honour Judge Deroche said in referring to Mr. Parr's denial that he had put any water in his milk, as follows: "I have no reason for disbelieving Mr. Parr's statement, and it is not for me to say whether Mr. Parr himself or his farmhand or his wife, or who put water in the milk, if there was water in it. The charge is not that Mr. Parr watered his milk, but the charge is he delivered at the factory milk diluted with water; it does not matter how that got there. Mr. Parr is held responsible according to the reading of the Act, from the standpoint of public opinion and citizenship. If an enemy of Mr. Parr saw fit to water his milk what is he going to do? It looks as though under the Act a man is responsible for looking after that milk of his until it gets to the factory. It might give him a good deal of trouble. Possibly something like that might have happened and Mr. Parr be quite innocent personally."

Miller's Worm Powders are of excellence the medicine for children who are found suffering from the ravages of worms. They immediately alter the stomachic condition under which the worms subsist and drive them from the system, and at the same time, they are tonical in their effect upon the digestive organs, restoring them to healthful operation and ensuring immunity from further disorders from such a cause.
