PICKPOCKET JUMPED TRAIN AT BRANTFORD

Story of Passengers on a Train Near This City.

Robbers Later Tried to Bribe Man They Had Robbed.

BRANTFORD, Ont., July 5.—Charles Crowley and Ancil Dublin, two pickpockets, who are said to have operated on trains in Western Ontario for some time, are being held by the local police, with a view to securing their deportation. The men are charged by Joseph Malakoff with having picked his pocket on a Grand Trunk express last night while he was travelling from Montreal to Chicago.

Malakoff claims that while he was on the train east of Brantford three men crowded about him and relieved him of $23 and a railway ticket to Chicago. One of them jumped off the train at Brantford when he was pointed out, while Crowley intercepted Malakoff and endeavored to engage him in conversation as he commenced a pursuit. Later, when Dublin approached Malakoff and offered him $15 to forget his trouble Malakoff accepted the money, but also arranged with the conductor for the arrest of the men by Detective Sergt. Nickle at London. It was claimed by Malakoff that Dublin, together with giving him the $15, by a dexterous move returned the missing money to Malakoff's pocket.

Both prisoners were in the toils here on June 12, when they were picked up together with a number of others of a gang following the Barnum and Bailey Circus. After their dismissal on that occasion information was received here that Crowley, while under arrest on a similar charge in 1908, participated in a wholesale robbery of a train at Youngstown, Ohio. A reward of $500 was then offered for his arrest, and it is possible that the local officers may now collect it.

Crowley's wife accompanied him at the time of the arrest, and according to the police was a "gun" in the game. She explained her presence in Canada by stating that she had visited friends at Belleville, Lachine, Kingston and Owen Sound during the past few weeks.

Gypsy Gang Make a Clean Up in Quebec—They are in Trouble.

QUEBEC, July 5.—A band of Brazilian gypsies who made their way from Calgary, where they say they went twenty years ago, arrived in Quebec a week ago and encamped on Lewis Heights.

Three of the women were arrested yesterday for telling fortunes and went to jail under the vagrant act in default of paying a fine of $20 each. They not only paid the fine in the jail, but deposited an extra $100 as bail to appear again in the police court this morning. Later two others of the gang were arrested for theft. This morning a dozen citizens appeared in court and declared they had been robbed by the first three arrests. The police will now round up the gang.

The jockey, fortunately, was not hurt and the horse, picking himself up, finished the course rideless. In the above picture doctors are seen attending to the badly wounded disturber of the race.

NEGRO HAD CLOSE CALL

NEWPORT, R.I., July 5.—Ten thousand people, men and women, witnessed a riot on Newport beach last night, when a negro, fleeing from a sailor he had stabbed in the back, shot and killed a 14-year-old boy. For nearly an hour police reserves battled desperately with the mob, which was determined to get possession of the colored man. Only by carrying him into the surf and holding him in the water up to his neck beyond the reach of the crowd did the police succeed in retaining him.

WAR IS NOW CERTAIN DISGRACEFUL INCIDENT

LONDON, July 5.—A disgraceful incident marked the arrival at Belgrade to-day of 1,384 Bulgarian prisoners of war, according to a special from the Serbian capital. The prisoners were marched through the streets in the presence of immense crowds of Servians, who closed in cheering wildly at the rear of wagons loaded with wounded lying three deep, many of them, apparently dying. Even this did not stop the outbreak of the mob, and the correspondent adds that peace between the two nations is impossible after this.

FLAG INCIDENTS WERE PLENTIFUL

Stars and Stripes Received Some Rough Handling Out West.

WINNIPEG, July 5.—When the One Hundredth Regiment was returning from Sewell Camp yesterday, a waiter stepped to the curbing in front of the Union Bank, and waving the Stars and Stripes shouted, "Hurrah for the American Eagle." Cal J. B. Mitchell, in command of the Regiment, ordered one of his men to request the American to put away the flag. Before the soldier could comply several civilians preceded him. One of them grabbed the flag and threw it into the street, where it was torn and trampled under the feet of the soldiers. A free fight followed, and several of those who took part received black eyes and cut faces. The young man escaped serious injury. Another flag incident occurred at Moose Jaw. Waving two American flags on Main street, an American was set upon by a score of youths. The Stars and Stripes were trampled into rags, and the American enthusiast was rolled in the mud. Later, an American attempted to raise a flag on top of a lamp post. It was torn down and a free fight ensued.

Methodist Chapel Prey To Militants

LONDON, July 5.—A Methodist chapel in the Welsh seacoast town of Pwllheli, whose construction recently cost $40,000, was destroyed by fire this morning and an attempt was made also to burn down the Baptist tabernacle in the same town. This is the fourth case of sacrilege in northern Wales during a week. As is usual when an incendiary fire occurs at the present time the militant suffragettes are suspected by the authorities but no evidence was found to incriminate them.

BRITAIN CELEBRATES GREATEST BLUNDER

The London Times' Comment on July Fourth Festivities.

LONDON, July 5.—The Times in an editorial on Independence Day, referring to the fact that the celebration of the Fourth has become an Anglo-American festivity, says: "It has become one of the established functions of British life, and we who rarely commemorate the triumphs of our history make an annual point of joining with Americans in celebrating its greatest disaster. Such a spectacle as is seen twice a year in London, all Englishmen eulogizing Washington's memory and honoring Independence Day, would be well nigh unimaginable anywhere else."

"One never at any rate, hears of Austrians banding together to celebrate Kossuth's birthday, or of Cavour and Garibaldi being acclaimed in Vienna, or of Madrid celebrating the deeds and fame of Bolivar, or of Poles being in any danger of becoming one of the national heroes of Russia; and probably there are few who stop to think what it signifies when Englishmen make a feast day of July 4th, and publicly venerate the name of Washington."

Honoring Britain's Humiliator. It means in the first instance that they are celebrating the most tragic blunder in British history, and in the second that they are paying tribute to the memory of the man who brought Britain to the depths of humiliation and impotence. It has come to be a sort of annual penance. Year after year this old and ugly nation dons the white sheet, and through the mouths of some of her most eminent sons expresses contrition for her share in the American Revolution. Four mistakes were great, we have at least amply, sincerely and repeatedly admitted it."

Was Killed

BERLIN, Ont., July 5.—Daniel Wicks, of Stratford, aged 32, who was riding on the bumpers of a Grand Trunk freight train at 12.30 o'clock, fell off and was run over at the Weber street crossing. Conductor Cooper heard him groaning while passing along the top of the cars and stopped the train. Although the lower part of the body was terribly mangled, he did not lose consciousness, and lived three hours after the accident.

CHARLES DURBOROW FORCED TO LEAVE THE WATER WHEN NEAR GOAL

Charles Durborow, the Philadelphia amateur, failed to accomplish the never performed feat of swimming from the Battery in New York city, to Sandy Hook. He was in the water for seven hours and thirty-four minutes and had covered twenty-one and one-half miles and had but one-half a mile to go. He could see the sandy beach of Sandy Hook, he had the strength, but the tide had turned and he found it useless to swim against it. Mr. Durborow has been the nearest of any of the swimmers who tried the feat, the next nearest having to quit two and a half miles from the goal. Captain Webb, the famous professional swimmer, tried it in 1888 and failed, and said that no man could accomplish the swim.

Striking Miners Attack Trains and Do Much Damage.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, July 5.—Bloody riots connected with the general strike of the gold miners on the Rand, which yesterday caused the death of four civilians and the wounding of fifty others, in a fight between the strikers and the troops, continued throughout the night.

At midnight a mob looted a gunsmith's store, and firing became general. Squads of cavalry with drawn swords, patrolled all the streets, frequently charging and scattering groups of rioters, who constantly collected again in order to loot the stores and to destroy the electric lamps, the light from which helped the troops to discover the disturbers' whereabouts.

Firing was incessant for hours after midnight in the riot area, and many further casualties occurred, but it was impossible to obtain accurate details.

There were repeated cavalry charges and fusillades, accompanied by the crashing of windows, shouting and wild confusion, and the rushing hither and thither of excited mobs. All this took place in virtual darkness, during which the constant flitting to and fro of ambulances and Red Cross attendants created the impression that very serious incidents were occurring, and it was easily possible under the circumstances to exaggerate the number of casualties and the damage done.

The police and troops showed great restraint throughout the affair.

JOHANNESBURG, July 5.—Four civilians were killed and fifty wounded in a midnight riot connected with the miners' strike. The cavalry made repeated charges against the mobs and wild confusion continued throughout the night with most of the streets in darkness, the lamps having been destroyed by the rioters.

The situation which arose here last night was never equalled in the checkered history of this country. The mob which seized the railway station at Johannesburg and the Braamfontein siding some half a mile away, were unrestricted masters of the situation and had the railway officials at their mercy, while the troops and police were engaged in other parts of the city.

The rioters held up all outgoing trains. The station master appealed to the ringleaders to allow the trains to leave with women and children hastening out of the danger zone. The ringleaders promised to do so, but never fulfilled their promises.

Later, when the police got the upper hand, an attempt was made to dispatch the southern mails. This was the signal for a savage onslaught by the mob with sticks and stones. The police within the building were overpowered. In the meantime an enormous crowd gathered outside. Mounted troops charged them three times and the rioters retaliated with stones and bullets.

By nine o'clock at night the situation was extremely grave. The Park station was in flames and incendiary were setting fire to large buildings. The Star building was ignited front and rear and soon also was a mass of flames.

Mounted forces galloped up but found it impossible to take control. They were jeered when they called on the rioters to cease their disorders. At first the troops and police refrained from using their firearms, but later fired over the heads of the rioters, who continued to shower them with stones and bottles. The second volley was fired into the crowd with the effect of somewhat cowing the rioters.

Reinforcements of dragoons by continued charges finally scattered the rioters.

Made Two Mistakes. LONDON, July 5.—The Johannesburg correspondent of the Daily Mail sends the following: "The authorities blundered, first, in taking advantage of an old Dutch law to prohibit a meeting of the strikers, and second, in permitting the strikers to enter the square to hold a meeting."
