ONE OF HYMEN'S FREAKS.

Man Marries Former Wife, a Native of Canada, Not Knowing Her Identity—She Knew Him.

Remarried twenty years after they had been divorced, the man not knowing when the marriage ceremony was performed, that the woman at his side was his former wife, was the matrimonial experience of a Helena, Montana, couple now enjoying a second honeymoon in the east.

The woman, however, knew the secret, but found enjoyment in not revealing it to the man until after he was again her husband.

James Hurlbutt and Ruth Emery were married when he had not arrived at man's estate. She was 18. Less than a month before the marriage they had met for the first time at the home of a friend in Quebec. After a brief honeymoon he set out alone for the States to seek a fortune in the west.

A misunderstanding arose not long after he left. Angry letters passed between them and soon she wrote him it was her wish that their correspondence should cease, and he consented. He was in Chicago when her letter came, but at once left there and traveled farther west. Reluctant, the wife hurried to Chicago, but found no trace of Hurlbutt.

Some years later she secured a divorce on the grounds of desertion and married Rufus Beresford a mine owner. He died in New Mexico, leaving several properties in Montana.

The widow came to Helena and recognized her former husband at a party. She was a stranger to him. She engaged him to examine her properties. The friendship thus established led to love. After the ceremony she told him her secret and he declared he was doubly delighted.

King Edward Cuts Some Kissing.

Until the accession of King Edward not only each peeress, but every daughter of a peer, was entitled to a ceremonial kiss from the sovereign on presentation at court, and at Dublin castle, the Viceroy, as Lord Lieutenant of the Monarchy, was required by etiquette to accord a similar salutation to every woman presented, no matter whether young or aged, married or single, homely or beautiful. Fortunately the vast majority of the daughters of Erin are extremely attractive, so that the Lords Lieutenant seldom complained, and it is doubtful whether the reform instituted by Edward VII. in abolishing viceregal salutation at Dublin castle was quite as popular as most of the other innovations which he has inaugurated. He, however, justly took the ground that since he himself had sacrificed the debaucheries at court there was no reason whatsoever why the Viceroy of Ireland should continue to enjoy it as his representative. It may be added that until now the Nationalists have not seen fit to add this measure on his part to the long list of wrongs for which they claim the Emerald Isle has been subjected by the British Crown.

There are certain forms of ceremonial kiss, however, which Edward VII. has not attempted to abolish. Thus, Archbishops and Bishops of the church of England, Ambassadors and Ministers, plenipotentiary Cabinet officers, and the great dignitaries of court and state, kiss his hand at the audience at which he confers upon them their appointment, and the fact that they have "kissed hands on a papetite" is always recorded in the royal almanac. The London Gazette, similar homages is paid to Emperor William, to the venerable Francis Joseph of Austria, to the Czars of Russia, to the Sultan of Turkey, to the Kings of Sweden and Denmark, to the Sovereigns of Spain and Portugal, and to many of the minor rulers of Germany. Indeed, one of the most picturesque incidents of the ceremony of the accession to the Crown of Emperor William, was when at the close of his first speech from the throne old Prince Bismarck and the still more aged Field Marshal Count Schlieffen, bowed low to kiss the hand of the young Monarch, whom they had known intimately ever since his earliest infancy.

Girl

Toilers

Gain Strength for Work

In office and factory, shop, store or kitchen girls are at work all over this land, and, alas! far beyond their strength.

Young women who work are especially liable to female ills. Too often the girl is the bread winner of the family and she must toil unremittently, no matter if her back does ache, her limbs and abdomen throb with dull pain and dragging sensations, and dizzy spells make her utterly unfit for work. These are the sure signs of female irregularities which kill beauty and youth.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

builds health and strength for all women who work and are weary. It creates the vitality that makes work easy. From the thousands of grateful letters written by working girls to Mrs. Pinkham we quote the following:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Overwork and long hours at the office, together with a neglected cold, brought on a female trouble until finally I was unable to go to work. I tried change of scene and climate, but found that I did not regain my health. I then thought of a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when her health was in the same condition that mine was, and straightway sent out for a bottle. I finished that and took two more before I really began to improve, but after that my recovery was very rapid, and when I had finished the sixth bottle I was well and able to go back to work again. I certainly think your medicine worthy of praise, and am indeed glad to endorse it.

MILLIE ALMA ROBITAILLE, 78 rue St. Francois, Quebec, Que.

Oh, if Canadian girls who work would only realize that they have but one life to live, and make the most of their precious health and strength!

Mrs. Pinkham extends to every working girl who is in ill health a cordial invitation to write her for advice. Such letters are always kept strictly confidential, and from her vast experience Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help you—and may save your life.
