MATH-HERE BOTTON

ASSESSMENT BOT

HELDEON-DEGAL

STATE AND STATE OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY

the Dissolution of the Control of th has triumphed, Mackenzie has succumbed, and the House is to be dissolved. The write are to be issued on the 7th There is weeping and wailing and gnashing of testh among those who never will return or be returned.

or be returned.

Moss mourneth in sackeloth and ashes.

Ilke one of similar appellation in early time, he has behold the Promised Land from the Pisgah-height of expectancy lying stretched out in rich juxuriance before him, but is not allowed to exter and six possession.

I met him near Osgoode Hall to-day and sendeled with him.

"Well, Tom," said I, "I hear you have him allowed. This is rough."

[From the London Telegraph.]

"Well, Tom," said I, "I hear you have ten dissolved. This is rough."

"Yes," said he, shaking his mournful head.

"Your career has been a brief one."

"Too true, but that's better than if it had been a briefone. However, such is life."

"Yes, it is a green problem, solved to day, dissolved to morrow. How said late, shar I Insertable are the ways of Brown."

"The Mose but late of verdant hue, has green as grass and cot as down; a stateman has replied that the wondth here."

"The Mose but late of verdant hue, has green as grass and cot as down; a stateman has replied that the wondth here has been within the work of the many of the had not been happy to do so if he had not been with the work of the work of the had not been happy to do so if he had not been happy to do so if he had not been happy to do so if he had not been from the work of heads and the Globe. Mackennish has broken his solemn pledges made to several members of the Lower Provinces that there should be no dissolution. He has deceived his best friend, slatified his promises and placed a number of his supporters in a very humilist, inposition, all because of Brown's selfable interference. But I might have known it I can truly say with the post-restriction of the had not been friend of wivacity. At Val Richer, we will be a supporter in the lower Provinces and placed a number of his supporters in a very humilistic postition, all because of Brown's selfable interference. But I might have known it I can truly say with the post-restriction, and because of Brown's selfable interference. But I might have known it I can truly say with the post-restriction of the self in most in the self-report has a self-report and the self

wilk MS WALLINGS.
You must be mistaken ! it cannot be so! I'm good friends with Mackensie and he'd let me know.
Why only het week I'd a letter from Mac, Anna he biologed me his word that we shouldn't go the he people te get re-indored by their votes, "For," said he, "there's so many been turning that yet the heart of the people to get re-indored by their theorem. The people of the people to get re-indored the fire, By them which the favour of Gov'ament desire, And twould be slightly rough on our meabority out on our meabority of the second to the heart of the same when the people were the word that the people. The word the same heart of the transporter of the second to the light of the second to the light of the second to the fire. They them which the favour of Gov'ament desire, And twould be slightly rough on our meabority of the second to the light of the second to the light of the legal of the light which is our power on the Ministry Dore, To mip in the bud this preporterous measure; "The saids of the second the second to the light of the menckle guid as the effect on the min' of the p-blic, wha believe we get two or three times as manckle for Government advertisements as 'we ithers'.

"Are you eving to sling the light fantastic bestle-orus, "e be night, Mr. Brown," I enquired, "I see the Globe is devoting some attention to the subject of dancing."

"Nae mon," said he, "I dime care aboot it mysel. You was a powerfu' atriche though."

"Yes," said I, "Addison, Steele, and those ancient essayists who wrote for the Spectator were able and talented in dividuals.

"I dima ken wha writes for the Hamilton Spectator," said Brown, "but they cawns compare wi' the writers for the Globe."

"I wasn't alluding to your Hamilton contemporary, but the English Spectator, published early in the eighteenth century. You'll find the substance of that talented atticle in Nos. 67 and 370. The Globe is at its old work of raising lead issues, and is following the bad habits of a comic comporary, seizing the brain work of dead authors in a felonious Grip.

"I transpecture is sure to follow. I wonder the outraged shade of Steele don't spall the plagiarist at his thievish task."

I notice the Parliaments Buildings are being fixed up for the auproxements the fence at the rear has been made a Christman The eld cone has been the cone of the cone of th Beak Monabb is quick to take offence at the lawyers who practise in the Court; he is also ready to take a fence in the hunting field, and he didn't decline this one, other wise he might have given offence to his liberal-minded relative.

Morkeller is still boarding in the basement of the Parliament Building. Mowat and family occupy a higher position in the Government hashery until "Surplus Castle" is gut in repair.

If the Grits are disposed to be a little extraorative that the continuous c

JIA-TUEL BRIGGS, D.B.,

Gra daste of Coboconk University.
Toronto, Jan. 2...d.

An Iowa Rosance — A special despatch to the Chicago Times, i von Davenport, Ia., December 26, says:—San-vething like two the Chicago Times, i von Davenport, Ia., December 26, says:—San-vething like two the Chicago Times, i von Davenport, Ia., December 26, says:—San-vething like two the Chicago Times, i von Davenport, Ia., December 26, says:—San-vething like two the control of the Chicago Times, I which was made to the when he was lived the came to the came to the control of the Chicago Times, I would be a rich law of the Chicago Times, I would be a rich law of the Chamber. Miss Kate used to remark to her asquaintaince that she would be a rich low on the control of the