O. P. KRUGER'S AUTOBIOGRAPHY COUNCILORS IN A COMBINE

Bought for High Price by a Munich Publisher-Boer Tactics Used by Germans.

London, Sept. 11 .- In his presidential address to the British Association at Belfast, yesterday, Prof. Dewar dealt with the question which is occupying all intelligent minds in Britain today, the question of higher education in its bearing upon trade. He said Britain's backwardness was an extraordinary and disastrous phenomenon; this country was two generations behind Germany. He appealed to the King to assume a dictatorship on behalf of sci-

BOER TACTICS ADOPTED. The second day of the German military maneuvers terminated suddenly at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, after scarcely two hours' fighting, in consequence of the failure of the Guards division, which came under a cross-fire from the fifth army corps, with the result that two battalions were put out of action immediately opposite the position occupied by the Emperor. The beaten third corps drew off in a westerly direction.

The Daily Mail's special correspondent says Boer tactics were freely em-ployed, though not entirely. The trops were instructed to use theier own initiative, direction by officers being not always possible on account of the great extension of the firing line. Several old tactical methods were also put into operation, including the forward rush and shock attack with drums The artillery also followed a new tactical method, being no longer concentrated and massed at a single point, but placed at intervals in single batteries.

KRUGER'S AUTOBIOGRAPHY. Mr. Kruger's autobiography, which will be published simultaneously in many countries on Nov. 15, will be a volume containing 100,000 words. The Munich publisher, Lehmann, has paid a high price for the book, and its serial rights, in all languages. Mr. Kruger's friends assert that whatever is made out of it will not be kept by him, but will be handed over to the suffering burghers. A French translation has been arranged. Nighoff has purchased the rights for Holland, and Fisher the English language for Great Britain, Canada and other British colonies and the United States. The bear and the United States are the state of the and the United States. The book contains the story of Mr. Kruger's life from childhood to the negotiation of peace. It was dictated by Mr. Kruger to his private secretary, Mr. H. Bredell, and Mr. Peter Grobler, formerly under secretary of state in the Transvaal. The English translator is Transvaal. the Jameson raid, and the remainder will include the story of the negotiations with Mr. Chamberlain, on account of the war. Mr. Kruger's departure from the Transvaal and incidents of his life in Holland. The early chapters describe his youth, education, hunting adventures, shooting his first lion, and experiences in chasing rhinoceroses and tigers. The succeeding chapters contain an account of the chiefs. One of his most exciting adventures was when he was alone in a journey to the Orange Free State to act as mediator in making peace with Mos- moon. A chapter on civil war brings

Political chapters contain incidental bor in the mines, the dynamite monpoly and railway interests, and the history of the Jameson raid is accompanied by a reflection on what Mr.Kruger describes as the irritating policy a week ago. of Mr. Chamberlain in the negotiations. Mr. Kruger's astuteness in diplomacy is revealed in this portion of a deeply interesting book. He also attaches great importance to a series of telegrams between Miss Flora Shaw and Mr. Cecil Rhodes, in which Mr. 'hamberlain's name is freely used. Mr Kruger, while politically dead, still speaks in this memoir with old-time vigor and subtlety.

Mr. Stickman, of Blenheim, has taken the position in the Bank of Com-merce recently held by Mr. Lount. A Port Huron dispatch says: Miss Cora Hill, daughter of Capt Andrew A Port Haron dispatch says: Miss Cora-Hill, daughter of Capt. Anderson, of St. Clair, whose elopement with Capt. She left home Sunday night, came to this city, and thence went to Canada. Yesterday her father received a message from Chatham from his daughter, as follows: "Sorry, but it cannot be helped. We are married now."

Conspiracy to Loot Franchise-Hunt ers - Bound to Secrecy by Death Penalty.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 10.-Amazing revelations of how nineteen members of the upper branch of the municipal assembly, bound together by a death penalty oath, robbed and looted all who sought franchise favors from St. Louis, were made to the grand jury today by J. K. Murrell, who returned from Mexico, prepared to tell all he knows of the terrible story of corruption. Murrell's revelations are the climax of months of investigations of corruption in the municipal assembly, Murrell served as a member of the House of Delegates in 1899 and 1900, during which years the oathbound nineteen were implicated in two transactions. One was the Suburban Railway "grab," and the other was the socalled "lighting bill."

Although both measures were passed in 1900 it was not until early this year that any of the corrupt transactions came to public knowledge. The first revelation came in the discovery of $75,-000 in a safe deposit box of the Lincoln Trust Company, placed there by a representative of the St. Louis and Suburban Railway Company to secure a blanket franchise to operate its cars over the streets of the city. The or-dinance had passed both branches of over the streets of the city. The orthe municipal assembly, but was nullified by the courts through the efforts of citizens.

The Suburban representatives and the gang then disagreed as to the payment of the money. The street railway men objected to paying anything since they had received no benefit from the legislation, but the delegates de clared that as they had fulfilled their part of the contract they were entitled to their reward. The resulting squabble led to investigation by the grand jury and wholesale indictments. The grand jury found that the Suburban Company had contributed $135,-000 as a corruption fund to influence legislation in favor of the ordinance. Murrell swore today that the nine-teen members of the gang were bound by the following deadly oath: "I do described solemnly swear before the Almighty sions. God, that in associating myself and in becoming a member of this combine, I will vote and act with the combine, whenever and wherever I may be so
