Yanks Outthit 10 To 5, Take Fifth Game From the Giants By 3--1 Count

RUTH IN UNEXPECTED ROLE OF BUNT ARTIST TURNS TIDE FOR YANKS

Waite Hoyt, Flatbush "Boy Wonder," Turns in Second Win Though Hit Harder Than Nehf—Has Held the Giants To One Run in 18 Frames.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—A bunt in a baseball game doesn't hold a candle to a home-run as a popular feat, but a little bunt which "Babe" Ruth laid down on the grass at the Polo Grounds today showed how much importance sometimes attaches to the less sensational performance.

The "Babe's" home-run in the ninth inning of Sunday's game was for the Yankees, as a team, just one more run, and nothing more. His bunt in the fourth inning of today's game, the fifth of the 1921 world's series, proved the turning point of the contest, which was won by the American Leaguers by the score of 3 to 1 over their National League opponents.

The victory again gave the Yankees the edge in the series, which now stands:

Won.	Lost.
Americans	Nationals
3	2

Waite Hoyt, the "boy wonder" from the Flatbush section of Brooklyn, pitched the Yankees to their third victory in the series, his potent right arm being aided by some great defensive work on the part of his teammates in holding the Giants' scoring propensities to a minimum. He had been scored upon in the first inning, an error by McNally paving the way to the Giants' only tally, but the Yankees tied the score in the third when Mike McNally was passed by Artie Nehf, the Giants' crack left-hander, to third on Wally Schang's double and came home on Elmer Smith's sacrifice fly.

It started here. Crossing the plate directly after-wards making the Yankees two up on their opponents. It was Meusel's powerful right arm, however, which proved the most telling argument of the game outside of the box work of Hoyt. His quick throw to first of first base, which had the big gun in the Giants' line-up guessing when safe blows were necessary to put across runs. The youthful Yankee twirler was hit more freely than in his shut-out game of last Thursday, as the ten safeties for the National Leaguers attest, but he would have had another scoreless game to his credit with a little better luck in the first inning, which witnessed the Yankees' only fielding blunder, a mess made by McNally of George Bunt's bunt. As it was, the Flatbush boy won the honor of being the first to win two games in the present series and of holding the heavy-hitting men of the McGraw clan to one solitary run in eighteen innings.

Both on the defensive and offensive sides of the Yankees' play the work of Meusel stood out conspicuously. The lanky right fielder of the Yankees hit 500 for the day, with a single and a double in four times up, his double, as related, scoring Ruth who needed to win the game, and his own.

$292,522.33 Will Be Divided Between Huggmen and Giants

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The players participating in the 1921 world's series funds will divide $292,522.33 a new high record for the players' share. Under the rules of the game, the fifth of the series. The increased seating capacity and higher admission charges account for the new high record. While today's attendance and gate receipts fell slightly below those of Friday's game, the official figures gave $5,758 paid admissions for a total gate of $116,754. Of this amount the advisory board collected $17,513.10, the players $59,544.84, and the club owners $39,696.36. The best previous figures for the players' total share were those of the 1919 series between Cincinnati and Chicago, when the players' pool amounted to $260,339.66. While the present series has not yet evolved a winner and loser, the two local clubs' players will divide $219,391.65 on a basis of approximately $131,634.97 to the team which finally captures the championship, and $87,756.68 to the losers. Subject to possible minor corrections by the Advisory Board accountants, the Cleveland and Pittsburgh players in the role of second place winners will divide something like $48,878.84, while the two St. Louis teams, as third in each pennant race, will split $29,252.33. The four umpires' remuneration will be provided from the Advisory Board's fund upon a basis of a sum equal to one winning and one losing player's share combined and divided into four equal parts.

ZURICH TAKES FIRST FROM WINGHAM 4--3

Albert Beats Morden in a Pitcher's Battle.

WINGHAM, Oct. 10.—The first game of the North Wellington League finals was played today between Zurich and Wingham, and resulted in the most keenly contested and exciting game ever played here. The final score was 4 to 3 in favor of Zurich. The deciding run came in the ninth inning. The return game in Zurich next Saturday should be a real battle, as Wingham's team is by no means beaten.

Wingham led, 3 to 1, until the eighth inning, when a couple of costly errors gave Zurich two runs, and in the ninth the boys from the South added another, which gave them the game. The game was a pitchers' battle between Albert of Zurich and Morden of Wingham, and both put up splendid exhibitions.

UMPS SHOULD BE IN PRESS BOX, RING SAYS THEIR ANGLE'S WRONG

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—In the fifth inning of this one George Moriarty stopped the game while he ran to the Giants' bench and told somebody to shut their mouth. If they would only appoint somebody to do the same in our section of the grandstand a person might maybe get a few hours' sleep. The way it is you just begin to doze off when some umpire or other makes a decision which is all wrong—that is, it's against the Yankees. Five or six hundred assorted fish, including some of the experts themselves, leap to their feet yelling "Robber," and before you can get back to sleep you have seen three or four more plays.

During my 64 years' experience with the national pastime I have mingled with bugs of all cities and in all stages of the disease, but I never seen none as far gone as the Yankee bugs and still able to walk. If the Yankees win this series they will be no living in New York City, and if they lose it will be so much the worse. They don't seem to be no future here for a man that is in the sears and yellow and wants to pass his declining years listening to something besides baseball talk.

Umpring All Wrong.
As far as the umpring is concerned, of course the system is wrong, and Judge Landis will no doubt have it arranged different before next fall's alleged classic. An umpire's place is in the grandstand, and especially in the press-box, where a person can see the play and see them right, and if you doubt believe it, come and set in my seat tomorrow and hear how wrong the guys are that is down there on the field trying to umpring the game from that ridiculous angle. Why that ridiculous angle? Why, Bob Meusel come up to bat in the ninth inning today and hit a two-base hit to left field, and he hadn't no sooner got to second base when this here Rigger said it was a foul, and made him come back and bat over. That is just a sample, and the worst of it was that all we guys believe it, and especially in our hind legs and boo. Meusel himself didn't say nothing to Rigger, but that was probably because he ain't only known him a week.

However, that ain't telling you the game in the detailed account. Suffice it for me to say that I haven't been so thrilled since the day Carpenter went back to France when the Giants' grounds and Bancroft forced Burns at second. Frisch singled and Meusel walked, and the bases were full with Kelly at the bat. No, he didn't. He singled to center field, and drove in the Giants' only run.

Boucher or Ross Will Go After Net Singles Championship

J. G. Boucher and Ross meet this morning on the grounds for the Free Press cup, emblematic of the singles tennis championship of Western Ontario. The winner of this game will play Dr. Tisdale of Delhi, present holder of the cup, for the title. The game will commence at 11 o'clock and the finals will be played on the London Hunt and Country Club greens in the afternoon.

WINDSOR COLLEGIANS BEAT DETROIT SQUAD

Canadians Found Yankee Defense Easy To Penetrate.

DETROIT, Oct. 10.—Northeastern High had a defence against Windsor Collegiate Institute on Collegiate Field this afternoon, but lacked tally-making ability, and went under 7 to 0, the Canadians scoring in the final period after carrying the ball from their own 30-yard line by forward-passing methods the Falcons could not diagnose.

Previous to the successful wide-open play, the Green and Gold held Windsor for downs three times, but the Canucks were inside the Yanks' 5-yard mark, the visitors finding the defending forwards tighter than a "blue-law Sunday."

When the Canadians did register, it was on a fourth down, the forward pass being short. Gilles and Churchill did particularly meritorious service for Windsor. The line-up:

Lo! Flowers

Sporting Editor, Advertiser:

Dear Sir—As you know, the Alert Lacrosse team played the final with Sudbury for the intermediate championship of Ontario here on Thursday. This was the second greatest event in amateur lacrosse circle of Canada for the year. In looking over the sporting columns of the "Toronto and London papers, I find that the Alert Lacrosse team was the champion of the game in keeping with the importance of the event, it having given almost a full column to it. As for the others, they gave from a column to two columns to a description of the baseball world series game in New York. The event here was Canadian, and an exhibition of our national game. The event in New York was foreign, professional, and an exhibition of the game, which is not our national game. What encouragement is there in this for Canadians to develop our national game and good amateur sport?

Moreover, with reference to this final game, the intermediate championship, not one of the home team was ruled off, and only one of the visiting team, and that for a minor offence. And just here I would like to say in reference to the Sudbury players, that although 200 miles from home, with no supporters, without very much practice just previous to their coming, and with the game going strongly against them, they kept their heads and played the game square from start to finish, without any whining and without any grumbling, proving themselves to be sports of the right type. It is just such games as that of Thursday which makes for the finest type of amateur sport. Respectfully yours,
HUGH L. STEWART.
