

NEW STEAMER FOR THE PACIFIC.

The following account of the splendid new steamer Colorado, constructed to ply between San Francisco and Panama, is given by the New York correspondent of the Sacramento Union.

The Pacific Mail Steamship Company's new ocean palace, the Colorado, was opened to public inspection yesterday. She is 363 feet in length, 45 feet in width, 81 feet six inches in depth, measures 3,890 tons, and cost about $1,000,000. Her engines, which were built at the Novelty Works, have cylinders of 105 inches diameter and twelve foot stroke, and are of the finest workmanship. The cabin accommodations on the Colorado are not inferior to those on the great Cunard steamship China, there being on the main deck fifty-two commodious state rooms for families, and in the second cabin comfortable berths for fifteen hundred passengers. In fire apparatus the ship is completely equipped. From the main boilers several great tubes extend to stem and stern, and to these are attached twenty-four hose pipes, with inch-and-a-quarter nozzles, capable of flooding every part of the ship at five minutes' notice; a steam pipe communicates with the hold, to be used there in the event of fire in the cargo; and in addition to these ample precautionary provisions there is in the fore-cabin a donkey-engine to run the force-pumps, entirely independent of the main engines, so that if the central engines would flood the ship from the fore-cabin, with such enormous hydraulic power on board, there would seem to be absolute safety; but further to provide for the contingency of fire, or of a leak over which the 24 force-pumps cannot gain mastery, there are on the hurricane-deck a large number of metallic life-boats, in each of which are constantly kept several sealed cans and tanks of water and bread. Not the least interesting display which the Colorado is able to make in these days of Chesapeake pirates is her armament. She carries two 20-pound field-pieces on her quarter, and two 30-pounders at the fore, and in her arsenal are Sharp's rifles, common muskets, revolvers, pikes, and axes in abundance—and the ship's crew of 120 men may be armed and marshalled on the hurricane-deck in two minutes' notice.

On her trial trip out to Fortrose Moore, last week, the Colorado made good time, and the return trip was made in twenty hours. She will sail on Thursday next for Panama, via the Straits of Magellan, and is expected to reach Panama under easy steaming within 50 days. Arrived at Panama, she will take her place in the line with the Sacramento, Golden City, Constitution, and Golden Age, the Pacific consorts of the New York and Aspinwall steamships Northern Light, Ocean Queen, Costa Rica, Arizona, Henry Chauncey, and Montana.

H.M.S. GRAPPLER.—Orders have been received by the last mail from England to pay off the crew of the gunboat Grappler preparatory to her being sold. Lieut. Com. Verney will leave this colony for England about the beginning of next month.

SIR MOSES MONTFIORE, the great Hebrew philanthropist is now ninety-two years of age, but retains his intellectual powers unimpaired, and his physical vigor is astonishing for one on whose head the snows of nearly a century have fallen.

It is stated that Admiral Parry is not to sail with his fleet from the Pacific until the conditions of the peace between Spain and Peru have been fulfilled. The Senate has resolved to send an address of thanks to the Queen for ceasing the Crown lands to the State.
