It will be remembered too, how inadignant both were when a World representative, in reply to their denunciations of the World's action, asked Mr. Murray if he ever knew any scooper who jumped the U. S. jail. Well, the result was that Mr. Murray had to give up auctioneering in Toronto, no one would put confidence in him, and Oliver found the reputation of his rooms falling away. And though Murray went regard a way scording to the add nation of the according to the all nations in the newspaper men and other gentle.

It will be remembered too, how in-advent, and the labor, and the consecrated why dignant both were when a World representation's birth and early history, comes to establish amid many difficulties and embarrassments, a great with other gentlemen, the object of the society being to colonize land in the North-west. It was explained that as most of the company would either be newspaper projectors or connected with newspapers, they would possess every facility to encourage a speedy settlement of the tract of land the secretary-treasurer submitted him. Coate's auction rooms. Mr. Oliver, too, Toronto, no one would put confidence in him, and Oliver found the reputation of his rooms falling away. And though Murray went reund in a brazen way people could see that his record was "crooked."

Some time ago Murray was a lightning rod agent in Minnesota and got into the jail at Pembina, it is known, is just at the border, and as Murray managed to break jail he soon got across the line, though hampered with a chain and ball. Once relieved of this incubus he took to Winnipeg and being possessed of a glib tongue developed into an auctioneer. When the papertown boom struck the country he was one of the first to make a descent on Ontario, and sneaked through the United States in order to get to get to Toron.

But he suspected the authorities were after him and so was very caveful in his negociations.

HOW HE GOT THROUGH.

Murray made the acquaintance here of Conductor Burdon, of the Grand Trurk, and between them it is supposed a job was put up whereby Murray could get through the United States. Hearing that a special car, chartered by Ald. Scarth and Boswell and other Toronto capitalists, was to go to Winnipeg away, the gifted, sweet-spirited man. Geo.

The three Ryersons, William, the great seems strange that he could remain in Mr. Scarth's car four days and none of the party be aware of it. At all events Murray got into Winnipeg a week ago yesterday and our correspondent there writes: The three Ryersons, William, the great natural pulpit orator, not in that respect surpassed by any man that ever lived on this continent. John Ryerson, the great ecclesiastical leader, a man in labors abundant; true-hearted, self-sacrificing and devoted; add last, him whom we mourn to-our correspondent there writes:

Winnifeg, Feb. 21.—Auctioneer Murray turned up here on Tuesday. It has been the wonder of all how he came. Some say via Parry Sound, North Shore and Duluth; and some think by baloon. But it now appears that he was hid in the ladies' washroom of the private Wagner car that left Toronto the 13th. The American authorities are not at all obliged to Alderman Scarth of Toronto for carrying an escaped felon through nearly 1200 miles of American territory, and more especially as this "private" car went almost within hailing distance of the very prison from which Murray escaped.

Since his arrival here Murray has been alternately denouncing The World and talking up Brandon lots. Perhaps he is trying to do Ald. Scarth, the principal promoter thereof, a good turn for past favors.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mr. R. Lewis; vice-president,

The secretary-treasurer submitted his annual report, which showed that the receipts including a balance from 1880 of $117.07. amounted to $243.10, and the expenditure to $90.70, leaving a balance in hand of $152.40. The report was referred to an audit committee, who reported that it was correct, and it was thereupon adopted.

Vienna, Feb. 25.—Copies of an indictment, covering twenty-six folios, have been handed to eight persons charged with contributing by negligence to the recent fire in the Ring theatre. Two hundred and twenty-six witnesses have been summoned, the trial to commence on the 2nd of May. Among others are Newal, an ex-burgomaster of Vienna; Janner, the manager of the Ring theatre; and Lansteener, chief commissary of police.
