It Pays to Paint in The Fall!

The better the Paint, the better it pays.

It pays, because the wood is free of moisture and, no hot sun to blister the paint. It pays, because there are not many rainy days, and the flies and bugs are gone. It pays, because the paint has a better chance to take hold of the wood and dry hard and smooth, protecting the surface better for the eight roughest months of the year.

And it certainly does pay to buy good paint. It pays, in the fresh, bright colors—it pays in protection—it pays in the longer wear.

There isn't much difference between what you pay for good, honest paint, and "cheap" paint—but there's a big difference in what you get.

IT PAYS TO USE

"The Paint For Wear and Weather."

We handle 100% Pure Paint—(Pure White Lead, Zinc and Linseed Oil Paint)—the kind that takes less and wears longer.

Such paint as this on your house, is a good investment. It brings daily returns in pleasure, protection, profit.

There's no question about our prices being right for the kind of Paint we handle.

We have the Paint, the Varnish, the Enamel, the Stain for any kind of Painting you want to do to make everything "Spic and Span" throughout the house. Come in for a color card.

APPLE PULP JAMS

Law Passed to Protect the Householder From Adulterated Product.

An order-in-council has been passed amending the standards for fruit and fruit products under the administration of the Food Act to protect householders from buying apple pulp disguised as jam. The regulation reads: "When jam, jelly, marmalade, etc., are produced from two or more sorts of fruits, the first named fruit on the label shall be that which is present in the largest amount; thus a jam made from strawberries and apples, or apple pulp or apple jelly, shall be labelled as strawberry and apple jam, only if the weight of strawberries used exceeds the weight of apples or apple pulp or apple jelly. In the products where the weight of apples or apple pulp or apple jelly exceeds the weight of strawberries used, the label shall read: Apple and Strawberry Jam flavoured with strawberries, or otherwise in such a way as to make clear the fact that strawberries are not the chief constituent."

THE GARDEN OF ALLAH

World's Greatest Dramatic Spectacle at London, Ontario

And now "The Garden of Allah." After two years of work on the dramatization of Robert Hichens' novel and one year of New York success, all is in readiness for the opening at the Grand Opera House, London, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and matinee Saturday, September 26th, 27th and 28th.

For the faithful reproduction of the scenes of the novel, the Liebler Company's general manager, George C. Tyler, with Hugh Ford, stage director, and Edward Morange, scenic expert, spent considerable time with Mr. Hichens in the desert, where the action of the play transpires. They took hundreds of photographs and were fortunate enough to witness a typical sandstorm, later reproduced on the stage of the Grand Theatre, New York. In the desert country arrangements were made for the importation of Algerian dancers, members of Arab tribes, sheiks and dervishes, camels, dogs and sheep. Everything that would help out an appreciation of the spirit of the desert was considered, and when the party left Algeria the work had been thorough. With the knowledge gained in the desert, the work of fashioning the electrical effects and myriad mechanical devices went forward as soon as the party returned to New York. Experts working under the direction of the Liebler Company executives delivered their product to the theatre, as Hugh Ford, in charge of the stage summarized results: "It doesn't merely look like the desert—it is the desert."

The story of "The Garden of Allah" is well known to the majority of American readers. It concerns Domini Enfilin, a girl who has gone to the desert to escape the narrowness of a society for which she does not care, and who meets Boris Androvsky, a man who holds for her a singular attraction. Their hearts are joined in the magic of "The Garden of Allah," as the Arabs call the great waste, and their married life is very happy until the sudden discovery of Domini that her husband has been a Trappist monk, who has deserted the monastery and brook his vows.

The action of the play is arranged in four parts and an epilogue. Part one is in five scenes, the first of which, called "The Spirit of the Desert," is expected to be a revelation in the way of effects. The flight of the monk, Father Antoine, is shown, and then comes the verandah of the Hotel du Desert, in Beni-Mora, with the public gardens and the arcade. The fourth scene shows the street of the Ouled-Nailes, and the fifth is laid in a dancing house in Beni-Mora.

Part II shows the beautiful garden of Count Antoine which, by the way, has an actual existence in the garden of Count London, of the real Biskra. It is in this garden that Boris and Domini come to their understanding.

Part III shows the tent of Boris and Domini at Mogar, in the very heart of the desert. Part IV is the exterior of the Trappist Monastery at El Lergani, near Tunis. The epilogue is in the garden of the Count.

Prices for this engagement, 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00.

For the benefit of out-of-town theatre-goers, the Mail Order System will be in operation. A letter containing remittance with self addressed stamped envelope for reply, will receive immediate attention.

Death of N. K. Nesbitt

Surviving his wife but a little over two weeks Nathan Kerr Nesbitt, of Windsor formerly of Kertch, aged 79 years, passed away Tuesday night, September 2nd, after an illness of five days. He had been suffering with heart trouble during the past two years, but his condition was not considered serious until Friday night before he died. Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock by the Rev. Arthur Carlisle, of All Saints' church, at the house, interment in the Windsor Grove cemetery. Mr. Nesbitt was born in Ireland. He attended school in Ireland, but was at a young age when he came to Ontario with his brother James. Landing in New York, they made their way to the County of Peel, where Nathan K. continued his education and fitted himself for the Normal School at Toronto. After he obtained his certificate he began his work at Bear Creek, County of Lambton, and for the next thirty-three years was in public school work, mainly in the Counties of Oxford, Peel, Brant and Lambton, and he was looked upon as one of the best teachers wherever he taught. He held the highest form of certificate, entitling him to teach in any Province without examination. In 1890 he was, by the school law of the County of Lambton, superannuated, and then engaged in other work. As early as 1873, on coming to Kertch, Plympton township, he had gone into the grocery business there, and in addition to this, Mr. Nesbitt had held the position of postmaster since 1878, having been appointed on the administration of Sir John Macdonald; the duties of this office he has invariably performed to the general satisfaction of all. He was mail contractor for H. M. S. for over thirty years between Wanstead and Uttoxeter.

Fraternal organizations occupied much of Mr. Nesbitt's attention for a number of years. He was a member of the A. F. & A. M., Burns Lodge, No. 153, in Wyoming; of Wawanesa Chapter, R. A. M., of Sarnia; of St. Simon Cyrene Commandery, K. T., of Sarnia; and of the K. O. T. M., Wyoming Lodge, No. 38, in which he was Recorder for several years. He was one of the oldest Orangemen in the county, and a member of Plympton Purple Star, L. O. L., and was secretary of said lodge until he resigned the office. Politically he was a strong Conservative and an enthusiastic supporter of the principles of Sir John Macdonald. For several years Mr. Nesbitt filled the office of auditor of the township. On Aug. 4, 1861, at Oakville, County of Halton, Ont., Mr. Nesbitt was married to Miss Elizabeth Hall, a native of Ireland, born in 1834. Mr. and Mrs. Nesbitt were members of the church of England at Wanstead. Their domestic life has been one of the greatest mutual devotion and they were both liked and respected throughout the township. Surviving them are three daughters, Mrs. (Dr.) P. A. Dewar, Mrs. (Dr.) H. Martin and Miss J. K. Nesbitt at home, and one son, Charles of Wyoming.

The 1913 Winter Fair at Guelph

Preparations are well under way for the holding of the Thirteenth Annual Ontario Provincial Winter Fair to be held in Guelph, December 9th to 12th, 1913. The Premium List which is now to hand, shows a very attractive classification and a considerable increase in the amount of prize money offered over former years. Several extra sections have been added in the horse department. In the dairy cattle section, the prizes have been increased in several sections. In the swine department last year, a class was provided for "any other breed, grade or cross"; this year the classes are provided, one for "any other purebred" and one for "grades or crosses of any breed." In the poultry department, several classes have been added and the prizes for ducks are to be increased according to the number of entries as is now the case in the classes for fowls.

Quite a number of County Councils are offering special prizes for amateur exhibitors from their counties, every section of the premium list being supplemented by one or more of these country specials. A copy of the list may be obtained upon application to the secretary, R. W. Wade, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.
