Mr. Ross was born in Rosshire, Scotland, on Dec. 16, 1830. He was the son of Donald and Catherine Ross and came with them when only a very young child to Canada, settling near Little York (now Toronto). After residence there for a short time the family moved to Warwick (p. and settled on the homestead, corner of the 18th sideline and the Main road, where, deceased grew to manhood. Over 62 years ago Mr. Ross was married to Miss Mary Burwell of Warwick, who predeceased him June of last year. Soon after marriage he and his wife moved to Watford, where they spent the rest of their lives. Mr. Ross entered the grain and drygoods business with Mr. M. MINSTREL SHOW NEXT
FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

The boys in Watford Minstrels are still hammering away at their joke factory building their big Minstrel Show for Friday and Saturday evenings, October 19th and 20th. After all the cold water we poured on them in last week's paper, they still come up smiling, and swear theirs is the only show. Well, maybe we're wrong after all. We'll try and find out before next week, but it looks as if we'll have to go and see it anyway.

GOLDEN JUBILEE SERVICES

Watford Presbyterians Observe Fiftieth Anniversary by Church Re-opening Services and Supper

Golden Jubilee services were held in the Watford Presbyterian church on Sunday and Monday last. The church built in 1873 has completed a half century of usefulness and inspiration, and redecoration and repaired bids fair to stand for many years yet.

Rev. Robt. Laird, M.A., D.D., of Toronto, an outstanding figure in Presbyterianism in Canada preached at both morning and evening service to large audiences and although the schoolroom was utilized in the evening, numbers were unable to get in at all. Dr. Laird's evening sermon was particularly forceful and appropriate. He took his hearers back to the time when their fathers sacrificed and labored to build the church, spoke of the many changes which have taken place since then, the improved heating and lighting systems, the telephone, radio, etc. and then asked if those who built this church could come back to us would they find as much change and improvement in its members? Are we to-day living up to our opportunities? "What of the Man?" was the theme of the sermon all through, which was very impressive. Several excellent anthems were rendered by the choir, the opening one "Oh, Come all Ye Faithful" being particularly fine. Miss Fraser of Leamington and Mr. Gerald Robertson, leader of the choir sang solos and Mr. Luckham and Miss Fraser a duet which were an addition to the services.

The floral decorations were beautiful being carried out in purple and gold as far as possible and these colors blended well with the pastel shades used on the walls and the Axminster carpets of the aisle.

On Monday evening a fowl supper was served by the ladies of the church and about 500 people sat down to a sumptuous supper in the school room.

A program followed in the church the next evening, Rev. H. V. Workman, acting as chairman in a way to make all feel at home.

Miss Fraser again delighted the audience by singing twice and the duet with Mr. Luckham was excellent. Rev. Mr. Gale of Arkona and Dr. Woods gave two fine duets and Mr. Gale played the violin accompanied by Mrs. Gale on the piano. The kindness of these young people and their help is much appreciated by the Watford church.

Mrs. Monds of Petrolia and Mr. Gerald Robertson also sang appropriate solos.

Rev. Montieth, Alvington, brought the greetings of the Presbytery of Sarnia and Rev. J. H. Hosford, Anglican, and Rev. W. Foster, Methodist, spoke words of friendly greeting from their congregations while a letter from Rev. T. DeCourcy Rayner referred to the kindly relations which have always existed between the Congregational and Presbyterian churches of Watford.

Miss Merle Logan's recitations were appropriate to the occasion and well delivered. Rev. Robt. Haddow referred in his speech to the happy days of his pastorate in Watford and the pleasure it gave to Mrs. Haddow and himself to be present. He also gave a reading from Dr. Drummond's French Canadian Poems which delighted the audience.

Rev. J. C. Forster, Sarnia, is historical clerk of the Presbytery and spoke of the early days of Presbyterianism in Watford. He was accompanied by Mrs. Forster and Miss Bessie Forster, whom all were pleased to meet again.

Mr. Workman read letters from former pastors, Rev. P. C. Goldie, Florida; Dr. Abraham, Toronto; Rev. H. Cameron, Ottawa; Rev. John Graham Orangeville, and a telegram from Dr. E. B. Horne and Mrs. Horne of Renfrew, all conveying in touching terms their greetings and congratulations, thus the church was brought in touch with every pastor who has been here since its erection.

All numbers of the program were appropriate to the occasion and a splendid spirit of union and friendship prevailed throughout.

Receipts of the supper were nearly $220.00 which with the very liberal collection of the Sabbath will nearly if not quite cover the expense of repairing and redecoration the church.
