Body. The most objectionable expression is "whatever may be the conduct of the representatives of Lower Canada, the integrity of the British Constitution will be firmly upheld." Messrs. Papineau and O'Callaghan attacked Sir John's character and motives in a strain of the most violent and virulent abuse and the Assembly resolved to make the consideration of his Speech the order of the day on the 11th February. We may expect some extraordinary proceeding. As we are in arrears on Canadian matters, we shall briefly state that Lord Gosford and the Royal Commission are proceeding in the investigation of grievances—that his Lordship seems to be on good terms with the Assembly, and consequently on very bad terms with the British party—and that his measures are somewhat coolly received by the former, but reviled by the latter in language of the strongest invective and reproach. The prints teem with articles of great talent in defence of the constitution, boldly asserting an uncloaked expression of purpose that the Country conquered by the forefathers of British residents, and blessed with British laws, will not be cravenly surrendered to a Gallic Faction who desire to overturn all the institutions of the Province, if even the blood of these Residents be required to maintain it. An Associated Corps of a thousand riflemen formed in Montreal has been dissolved by Lord Gosford's proclamation, but the Constitutional Associations are numerous and in full operation. We are happy to perceive that in Upper Canada they are alive to the advantages to the Canadas due the Timber Trade, as at present regulated. The Niagara Reporter states that there are petitions to the Imperia Parliament, in the course of signature, in every section of the Province, against the contemplated alterations, in the present scale of duties which, will be forwarded at an early day to Britain, to be laid before the Imperial Legislature. The announcement of the formation of the St. Andrews and Quebec Rail Road Association has found its way into almost all the papers of the Provinces, and many of the United States. We are gratified to find this stupendous project treated with respectful consideration; its merits freely investigated; and a conviction of the immense benefits its completion would secure, not only to the countries at its extremities, but to the rich and extensive territory through which it would pass, is very generally acknowledged. LEGISLATIVE REPORTS.—It is our intention to give the speeches of our County Members on all subjects of importance on which they delivered their sentiments in debate, that they may be unequivocally known and correctly appreciated by their Constituents. We shall also devote as much space as possible to those, of other honorable Gentlemen, who appear to the general interests of the Province. Since receiving (through the kind attention of Colonel Wyer) Mr. Pierce's Legislative Reporter, we perceived an unlucky error in our Editorial notice of the 4th inst., in which the sentiments of Mr. End wholly, and of Mr. Johnston in part, are unintentionally mis-stated. We embrace the earliest opportunity of correcting this mis-statement, which occurred by receiving the report at second hand. Mr. Johnston was disposed to think that His Excellency in advertising to the subject of statute labour, recommended that money should be paid instead of labour. Such, at least, was his (Mr. J's) inference from His Excellency's speech. Now, sir, if this be the course recommended, money is so extremely scarce in different parts of the province, that it could never be paid. Mr. End thought it impossible to infer from the speech of His Excellency, that he recommended money instead of labour; no such inference could be drawn, without straining and mangling the speech. Mr. Johnston was certain that his Excellency recommended some new mode, and he could not think how any change could be effected unless by introducing money instead of labour. This is so plain that (it is often quoted words of Dr. Young) "he who runs may read." Having made this amende honorable we are not in fear of enjoying the enviable distinction of being brought up by the messenger at arms to take a ride in our friend Brown's celebrated coach "to the place appointed for all" disobeying; altho' we received a notice from Fredericton, couched in such friendly and obliging terms as left us in no doubt from whom it emanated, and with whose wishes we opine we have completely complied. In accordance with the main drift of this disquisition, we may be allowed to remark, that such of our friends as desire to be thorroughly acquainted with all the proceedings of our Provincial Parliament, had better procure the whole series of the "Legislative Reporter," which is extremely cheap and executed with a fidelity, we believe, that will render it as honorable, as we wish it may be profitable, to the enterprising projector. Prince Edwards Island Legislature is now in Session under the Presidency of the hon. George Wright, who assumed the reins of government on the demise of the late Sir A. W. Young. Their proceedings are very locally interesting; but it may be noticed that the members hitherto received no pay for their attendance or expenses, and that the lower House has voted £50 a Session to the Speaker, and £25 to each member, and eighteen pence a mile to defray travelling charges. The "Wandering Piper" is yet alive and doing well. He had an audience of 700, the other evening, at the Front street theatre, Baltimore. New York February 15. THE QUESTION SETTLED. The following letters from the agents of the United States at Paris and London show that the French government have considered the President's Message as the "explanation" required, and give positive information that that government was now ready to fulfill the Treaty. Extract from Baron de Rothschild's Letter, dated Paris 7th January. "We felt much obliged for your attention in sending us the message, and have the greatest pleasure in announcing to you that that document has raised the scruples of this government, and determined them to inform you through the English Cabinet, that they are ready to fulfill the financial as well as the other clauses of the treaty without delay. Extract of a letter from N. M. Rothschild, dated London, January 6th. "The message of your President here produced as favorable an effect as could be desired upon the question with which France has been at variance with your government, and I am happy to inform you that the French Government is now prepared to make the payment, on account of the indemnity, as soon as applied for. There is now little doubt that the King of England's messenger, who arrived here in the St. Andrew, was the bearer of official intelligence to our government, of the above decision of the French government. THE ALBION. PROSPECTUS OF THE FOURTH VOLUME. A JOURNAL OF THE NEWS, POLITICS, AND LITERATURE OF EUROPE. The fourth volume of the New Series of THE ALBION commenced on the first Saturday of the present year, 1836.

This Journal, which embodies the News, Politics and Literature of Europe, more particularly of Great Britain, has been established nearly fourteen years, and has obtained a reputation and circulation far surpassing the most sanguine expectations of its founders. This flattering encouragement has enabled the Proprietor, on three separate occasions, to improve, enlarge, and embellish the work, and to throw into its pages such an increased quantity of political, literary, and scientific matter, as to render it, in the estimation of its friends, one of the most efficient weekly journals in the English language. In its details, the ALBION will be found to embrace—Notices and copious extracts from all the new publications of value issued from the British Press; the Debates in both Houses of Parliament, with the most remarkable Speeches at length; and the general Intelligence of the British Empire, the Continent of Europe, and other parts of the globe. In its lighter portions will be found the most amusing and agreeable Tales of the British Periodicals, which are so remarkable for their lively and sparkling talent, selected with a diligence and care that has drawn forth the most unqualified approbation. Any thing that tends in the remotest degree to shock female delicacy, or to offend national affection, is carefully excluded; by which course the paper has become an inmate of the most respectable and intellectual families, and may be found in the Drawing Rooms and on the tables of the most literary persons on the North American Continent. Poetry, History, Biography, Music, and the Drama, receive distinct and proper attention, while Scientific and Geographical Discoveries, Voyages, and Travels, &c. are faithfully recorded. The Wit and Anecdote of the great European World,—the London and Parisian Fashions, and a weekly summary of the Miscellaneous Intelligence of the day, complete the message. Each yearly volume contains about five and twenty pieces of new and fashionable English, French, Spanish, and Italian Music, together with frequent Maps, Plans, Sixettes, and Diagrams, illustrating subjects treated of in the general scope of the work. At the end of each volume, a handsome title Page, and a copious and well arranged Index are presented to each subscriber. The ALBION is published every Saturday morning in the Quarto form, on a large imperial sheet of exceedingly fine paper, printed with beautiful type, at six Pounds Per annum, payable in advance. Office, 77 Cedar Street, near Broadway, New York. Agents—Messrs H. Penley, Saint John; F. E. Beckwith, Fredericton; George Kerr, Miramichi, &c. &c. Peter Stubs, Jr. St. Stephen; Andrews; Mr. Bonnell, Georgetown.

THE NEW YORKER QUARTO EDITION. THE Publishers of THE NEW YORKER, encouraged by the generous and steadily increasing patronage which has hitherto rewarded their exertions, propose to issue, from the commencement of their third Volume on the 29th of March ensuing, a new Double Quarto Edition of their journal, not instead of but in addition to that now published. Advertisements, except possibly a few of a strictly literary character, will be entirely excluded; and, in addition to all the matter provided in the July New-Yorker, the Quarto will contain a page of popular music, &c. &c. and be accompanied by a handsome Title page and comprehensive Index at the close of the Volume. The general features of the New-Yorker will remain essentially as they have heretofore been. Its columns will contain— 1. General Literature.—Original Tales, Essays, Reviews, Poems, &c. with corresponding Selections from the Quarterly, Monthly, and all the better class of periodicals, Foreign and American, with choice extracts from new works of substantial excellence. The Editor acknowledges with pride and gratitude his obligation to his regular contributors; and among them are some whose names have shed lustre on the cause of American literature—for the steadfast support hitherto afforded him, and the confidence with which he is now enabled to assure the public that it will not soon be withdrawn. He takes pleasure in reciting the fact that, since the establishment of the New-Yorker, no one other journal has afforded specimens in equal extent and variety of the productions of all eminent American writers of whatever section or class—a characteristic which he hopes it may preserve; while his selections from the best foreign works have been exceeded in quantity at least—by those of but three or four among the myriad of his Atlantic periodicals. 2. National Politics.—It has been the aim of the Editor to present a full and fair exposure of the aspects, movements and struggles of parties, in our country, including the meetings of Conventions, nomination of Candidates for state and national Offices, and all other significant manifestations of political feeling, with the general results of elections, as fast as ascertained, and the official canvass in each instance, as soon as it shall have reached us. This course is believed to be in many respects original with this journal; and if it is considered that we have just cause of felicitation in the fact that, previous as it has been through two years of unremitting political warfare, the fairness and general accuracy of our statements and returns have very rarely, if ever, been questioned. The Editor reserves to himself the right of remarking, as circumstances may seem to require, and in justice to dictate, on the less exciting political topics of the day, as on all others, with calmness, defence and moderation; but he will strive—he trusts not less successfully than hitherto—to exclude from the columns of the New-Yorker every observation, reflection, or even argument, which may wantonly do violence to the sincere convictions of any well informed reader, of whatever principle or party.

111. General Intelligence. In this department we can only promise the most unwearied industry and patience in the collection, condensing, and arrangement of the news, Foreign and Domestic, which may be gathered from the weekly reception of four hundred journals, including some choice European periodicals, and which may be afforded us by the attention of our friends abroad among whom are stated correspondents at Paris and Mexico. Although the favors of these last will generally wear literary rather than political aspect, we are yet justified in our confidence that no important intelligence which their position will enable them to transmit us more succinctly or speedily than would otherwise reach us will in any case be withheld. Literary notices, Statistics, Brief notices of works of Art, Amusements, the Drama, &c. &c. will from time to time be given. As a general rule, however, it will be the aim of the Editor to embody such articles, whether original or selected, as shall at least combine instruction with entertainment.

CONDITIONS. The Quarto New-Yorker will be published every Saturday afternoon on an extra imperial sheet of the finest quality, comprising sixteen pages of three columns each; and afforded to its patrons in the city and country at THREE DOLLARS per annum, payable in advance. Any person or persons sending us $4 positively free of postage or other charges will receive two copies for one year, or a single copy for two years, and in the same proportion for a larger sum. The few who may desire to take the folio edition for immediate perusal and the Quarto for landing will be entitled to receive both for $4 50 in advance. H. GREELY & Co.

THE NEW-YORKER (folio) will continue to be published at Two Dollars per annum in advance, in which Fifty cents will be added if not paid within six months. It will not however, be forwarded on credit to new subscribers of whose solvency we have no satisfactory assurance. JUST LANDED. Esq.
