

THE END.

LITTLE pitchers with long ears
All brimful of kings and queens ;
Wise and learned little dears
Knowing well what history means ;

Lads and lassies, now good-bye, .
For the best of friends must part.
If you are weary, so am I ;
Fare-you-well, with all my heart.

