

Bill 1

Enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council

1. In the definition of "invention" in section 2 of the Patent Act, the words "and the subject-matter of an invention" shall be deemed to include the subject-matter of an invention which is a process, method or apparatus for the treatment of any material, whether or not such material is a substance, and whether or not such material is a living organism, and whether or not such material is a living organism at the time of the invention.

2. In the definition of "invention" in section 2 of the Patent Act, the words "and the subject-matter of an invention" shall be deemed to include the subject-matter of an invention which is a process, method or apparatus for the treatment of any material, whether or not such material is a substance, and whether or not such material is a living organism, and whether or not such material is a living organism at the time of the invention.

3. In the definition of "invention" in section 2 of the Patent Act, the words "and the subject-matter of an invention" shall be deemed to include the subject-matter of an invention which is a process, method or apparatus for the treatment of any material, whether or not such material is a substance, and whether or not such material is a living organism, and whether or not such material is a living organism at the time of the invention.