

preb-en-da-ry	}	a clergyman of an English cathedral who performs duty at stated times pr æ -b-en-dary pro-mis-cu-ous		confused; mixed tim-o-rous		timid; fearful in-or-di-nate		excessive ep-i-taph		an inscription written on a tombstone com-pe-ti-tion		strife; contest fac-tion		a party
con-tem-po-ra-ries		those living at the same period or time

ALFRED THE GREAT (page 299).

il-lu-mi-nat-ed	brightened; an illuminated manuscript is a manuscript with the first letter of each paragraph or certain other letters printed in color ac-ces-si-ble	that can be reached; approachable mu-nif-icent-ly	bountifully; liberally foraging parties	parties sent out to look for and collect food pre-di-lec-tion	fondness for; bias toward pen-u-ry	poverty; want tran-quil-li-ty	quietness; calm code	a system

THE DIVERTING HISTORY OF JOHN GILPIN (page 304).

train-band	volunteer militia eke	also; besides
cal-en-der	a workman who manages a machine for pressing cloth a-gog	eager
trice	a moment
bal-co-ny	a platform projecting from a window