This celebrated chief of the Ojibways, after a laborious tour South, has returned to our city. He is engaged to deliver lectures in Boston and vicinity the coming two weeks. His lectures on the Manners and Customs of his people are very interesting. The one delivered not long since in this City upon the "Romance and Poetry of the Indians" was an interesting and beautiful production.

We purpose in this notice, however, to mention only his lectures on Temperance, hoping to answer the many queries made to us on this subject by friends from various parts of New England. To this end we extract from the Charleston Courier, a notice of one of his lectures in that City, which comes so near the point, that we give it preference to any thing we can write.

"A crowded house assembled to listen to Mr. Copway, the Indian Chief and orator. He argued the cause of Temperance in every variety of manner, insisting mainly, as was to be expected, on its profound and even awful relations to the Red nations of the
