WINNIPEG MARKETS

Saturday, May 17

The weather has been finer this during the day—and business has been a little more active than last The weather practically govorns the situation in Manitoba to-day and on its behavior during the next few weeks depends the year's prosbut the Red River Valley, where it is still backward. Next week should see the wheat all in if the weather is fative but it is undoubtedly suffering in many directions from the effects of bad weather. Values are steady in wholesale circles. A large amount of is well employed. Another strike has to solve to the city this week, that of the Canadian Northern Railway Company's machinists. Bank clearings at Winnipeg are still much larger
