

SHARP EYES

trees with rows of holes punched in the bark. These are his work. Note whether any other bird accompanies the sap-sucker to take advantage of the sap-wells.

Woodthrush. The woodthrush, a fine songster, is found in eastern Canada. It is bright cinnamon-brown above and white beneath, with large, round, black spots on the under parts.