At the Princess. "CARMEN."

The Vendenberg Lyric Grand Opera Company won the plaudits of a large audience at the Princess Theatre last audience at the Princess Indexs in the night. Bizet's "Carmen" was the opera, with Mme. Baldini in the title role; and by her acting and singing fully justified the verdict of larger cities, like New York, that she is not a whit behind Calve in emotionalism and dramatic revealment of character. Carmen is, of course, much more an acting part than fitted for displaying vocal art as such. Mme. Baldini is gifted with a voice of recorant control.

It would seem superfluous to refer to the world-wide stringency, in the money market, which, I may say, was not sufficiently appreciated by the general public in the earlier months of the year, who were wont, at that time, to complain of financial institutions generally, for their conservatism. Later on the pinch was more keenly felt by the community, and the wisdom of the prompt action taken by our monetary institutions is generally recognized, in insisting upon applying the best antidote for the enormous expansion, speculation, his prices, extravagant living, and largely extended credits, to which I referred in my last annual address, namely, a more careful and economical administration of affairs-personal, business, municipal and governmental-until our mines crops and industries produce sufficient wealth to again overtake the monetary requirements of a steadily growing and prosperous community. The Directory of this Corporation have kept before them during the past year the warning to which I gave utterance a year ago, with the result that its affairs never were in a better condition and the Corporation never in a stronger position than now.

Owing to the rapid growth and development of the country, the large inwith, the demand for money on choice securities, such as improved farms and homes, has for the past few years been abnormally great. The demand con-The Directors have much pleasure in presenting to the Shareholders the tinued, and, in fact, increased, during 1907, and in the early part of the year fered, and rejecting all that were not in every respect thoroughly satisfactory, to The net profits for the year, after deducting interest on borrowed capital, accept applications for loans at remunerative rates of interest for a large sum in conservatism, deemed it prudent to place even greater restrictions on the acceptance of applications for new business. Maturing loans have also been renewed at better rates and on more favorable terms to the Corporation than have been offered for some time. All of which should and will have a favorable effect upon the earnings of the next few years. During the year the total amount actually advanced on mortgages was $3,336,562.08, as compared with $4,110. 120.85 in 1906.

The mortgage accounts of the different Branches have had exceptionally careful attention of competent staffs of officers, supervised by our Joint General Managers to the minutest detail, and the evidence of this watchfulness is seen in the fact that at one of our Western Branches we closed the year with only $36.25 of interest past due and uncollected, while, at all the Branches, the showing in this and all other respects is in the highest degree satisfactory.

During the past year our office building at Regina has been completed and thoroughly furnished. Provision has been made to accommodate a staff much larger than is at present required, as it is confidently expected that the business of the Saskatchewan Branch will continue to increase. The amount expended on our Office Premises during the past year, principally in the completion of our building in Regina, was $25,666.59. As we have written off $24,626.57 out of the profits of the year, our Office Premises Account stands at $325,000-about the same as at the close of 1906.

I cannot close these remarks without informing you that, notwithstanding the high prevailing rates in Great Britain and elsewhere, especially during the latter part of the year, and the further fact that we did not increase the rate of -$9,000,473 92 interest on our debentures, they were liberally renewed, and the aggregate of $25,778,809 85 our Sterling Debentures of over $9,500,000 has been reduced by only $72,-886. This most satisfactory, indeed gratifying, showing is no doubt due to a large extent to a steadily growing appreciation on the part of the investing public .$23.013.147 50 of the conservative policy and methods of the Corporation, and of its strong financial position. It is also largely due to our excellent and influential agents 503,496 59 325 000 0 646.644 83 in Edinburgh, who have been so closely identified with us for so many years, during which time they have taken a deep interest in all that concerns its welfare $25,778,809 85 and management. They thoroughly appreciate its sound position, at all times R. S. HUDSON, JOHN MASSEY, Joint General Managers upholding it as an institution which may confidently be entrusted with the guardianship of the moneys of their clients. I have invariably avoided, in discussing the affairs of financial institutions with which I am connected, assuming the prophetic role, but, in the present instance, feel that I may so far depart from my usual practice as to say that I consider it probable that by the end of another year our Rest will amount to fifty per cent. of our paid-up Capital, a point towards which, as I think you are all aware, we have been for some time aiming. But it must be remembered that when that expectation has been realized, the Shareholders should not look for such large annual additions to the Rest Account, if there be an increase in the dividend. With these remarks. I beg to move the adoption of the report. The President's motion for the adoption of the report of the Directors as seconded by the First Vice-President, Mr. W. G. Gooderham, who said: "Very little remains to be said in support of this resolution, after the presentation of the Company's affairs which the President has so ably laid before you. I am sure you all realize the unusual amount of the earnings for the year. and the care and attention which have been necessary in producing such a satisfactory showing, but where such enthusiasm is manifested, as has been brought to bear upon the business of the Canada Permanent, it would be strange indeed such satisfactory results were not shown. The Directors have carefully watched over and guided the interests of the Corporation, but we desire to acknowledge the fact that there has been displayed by the officers, from the Joint General Managers down to the youngest junior in the office, a zeal and enthusiastic interest which should be gratifying to every Shareholder, as it is to $755,036.59 the Directors, and which, as I have said, can only be productive of statements This result has been obtained after making provision out of the current such as it is our pleasure to submit to you to-day. "Bussy Izzy's Boodle" is an appeal ing title for fun lovers. Last night at the Grand a large audience welcomed that funny little comedian, George Sidney, and his company, and were given in return a production that challenged all restraint of the risibles. Mr. Sidney has been for several years presenting a style of character, that of the little Hebrew, in a manner that has placed him as one of the best character comedians on the stage. He is quite original in style.
