On one wild and stormy night,
In that tower shone a light:
'T was Love's own beacon bright, high o'er the e mental war.
Each sentry sought his box,
Trusting all to wall and locks,
Little drameing what a fox
Was an Irish hessar.

To that turret light so true

A pebble lightly flew,

When the wakeful maiden knew that her lover was

Back o'er the rampart wall

She flung a silken ball,

Knowing well it must fall

Near her Irish bussar.

Soon, according to her hope,
She drew back a stair of rope [bar!
own fair hands soon fastened to herwindow
Whilst she heard a voice below
Whisper, "Wo, good Shamroy! wo!
Till she comes, then off I go
Like au Irish husser."

This light laugh soothed her fears,
Soon she dried her maiden tests,
ing well that a faint heart would now her fortime mar.
Soon beneath that tower they stood,
Where he found his charger good
That would face both fire and blood
With an Irish Hussar.

Like an Irish hussar."

Flowers.—The cultivation of flowers is an employment adapted to every grade, the high and the low, the rich and the poor; but especially to those who have retired from the busy acenes of active life. Man was never made to rust out in idleness. A degree of exercise is as necessary for the preservation of health, both of body and mind, as food. And what exercise is more fit for him, who is in the decline of life, than that of superintending a well ordered garden? What more enlivens the sinking mind?—What is more conductive to a long life?

The cultivation of flowers is an appropriate amusement for young ladies. It teaches neatness, cultivates a correct taste, and furnishes the mind with many pleasing ideas. The delicate form and features, the mildness and sympathy of disposition, render them fit subjects to raise those transcendent beauties of nature, which declare the 'perfection of Creation's power.'

THE proprietor in recommending this long tried and celebrated medicine to the public, is supported by the infallible test of experience which it has stood for a great number of years with unexampled success, as well as by the testimony of most respectable citizens, who have used it in their families.

TO PHYSICIANS AND PATIENTS.

The Blind Piles, said to be incurable by external applications. Solomon Hays warrants the contrary. His Liniment will cure Bund Piles. Facts are more stubborn than theories. He solicits all respectable physicians to try it on their patients. It will do them no harm, and it is known that every physician who has had the honesty to make the trial, has candidly admitted that it has suacceeded in every case they have known. Then why not use it? It is the recipe of one of their most respectable members, now deceased. Why refuse to try it? Because it is sold as a proprietary medicine? Is this sufficient excuse for suffering their honest patients to linger in distress? We think not. Physicians shall be convinced that there is no humbug or quackery shout this atticle. Why then not alleviate human suffering? If they wont try it before, let them after all other prescriptions fail. Physicians are respectfully requested to do themselves and patients the justice to use this article. It shall be taken from the bottles, and done up as their prescription, if they desire.
