

OUR BLUE SERGE SUITS

Blue Serge is a great deal like the little girl: "When she was good, she was very, very good, and when she was bad she was horrid."

It's not possible to imagine a greater abomination than a poor blue suit! One the other hand, there is a handsome, richer, dressier, more dignified or more serviceable suit for all-the-year-round wear than a really good serge!

Our Blue Suits are made from carefully selected fabrics and thoroughly guaranteed.

The prices are moderate $15-$18-$20 To the best at $25.50.

HIS 101ST BIRTHDAY

Mr. Levi Richardson, for the last few years a resident of Fredericton, celebrated his 101st birthday at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Young, on June 18. Considering his great age, Mr. Richardson is enjoying unusually good health. He is so active that if the weather had been fine he would have spent part of his 101st birthday working in the garden. Born on June 13, 1811, his parents being Levi Richardson, of Vermont, and Edna Stanwood, of Brunswick, Me., he was married to Hannah A. Young, of Oak Bay, Charlotte county, N. B., with whom he lived happily on a farm near Lawrence Station, N. B., for upwards of sixty years. He attributes his long life and remarkable preservation to early rising, strict adherence to temperance principles, and never allowing himself to be even sharing himself in his old age. He has upwards of eighty descendants, children, grandchildren and great-grand children. His wife died on January 11.

THE ADMIRAL'S FAREWELL

London, June 20.—Rear-Admiral Hon. Algernon Littleton died yesterday in London, aged 69. It was his wish that the following message be published: "Permit me to all my intimates of the lower deck, as well as the upper deck."

The very attractive idea fashionable with Paris school girls is shown in the illustration. A soft band covers the forehead and the only ornament worn is a wide ribbon bound about the head and tied in a smart bow at the side.

TREE MAN CAPTURED; ENDS HIS LIFE IN CELL

Geneva, June 20.—A mysterious individual has hanged himself in a cell in the prison at Nyon because the authorities would not allow him to live in a tree. For some weeks the police have been trying to capture a lightly clad man who had been living in the forest above the village of Nyon, in order to examine his papers and find out why he persisted in shunning civilization.

The man had, however, he saw a gardener, and all efforts at capturing him were unsuccessful. At last, however, the police learned that the fugitive had built a refuge for himself in one of the tallest pine trees on the mountain and had probably lived there for some time.

Three gendarmes went to the pine tree with a long ladder and when the occupant refused to surrender they stormed the retreat. A fierce fight ensued, in which two gendarmes were wounded with a knife.

The tree dweller displayed the agility of a monkey, but he was finally captured and conveyed to Cour. He proved to be a Serb, and he declared that he lived in the woods because he loved nature. He talked rationally and would have been released but for the fact that he had wounded two gendarmes. He was placed in a cell, and the warden who went to call him in the morning found that he had hanged himself.

A SURPRISE.

Tramp—"Madam, can you help a poor man with a wife and eleven children at home?"
Housewife—"Are you very needy?"
Tramp—"Needy is no word for it, ma'am. I couldn't see the little ones suffer, so I left them to seek the assistance of the charitable."

Housewife—"Did you leave home to-day?"

Tramp—"No, ma'am, it will be seven years tomorrow. Can't you help a man who wants to surprise his little ones?"
