THE VALLEY RAILWAY

Dr. Pugaley first letter reply to Act ing Premier Flemming, following the anprovincial government's Valley Railway ter was written Mr. Flemming has chang- pool physician, in an address in Montreal ed his mind and asked for a conference last week, declared that tuberculosis is on the Federal government's plan for a hereditary. Another very striking state-Valley Railway. The chief interest, therefore, in Dr. Pugsley's first letter will be in the light which it throws upon the provincial government scheme. That scheme would have brought the Valley Railway down to Central Hampstead, but Railway down to Central Hampstead, but would not have brought it into St. John by the route which the people desire, unless the Federal government assumed the cost of the bridges. Dr. Pugsley, in the letter which is today printed, still contended for Intercolonial operation of a line from St. John to Grand Falls.

Now that a conference is to be held, it should be possible to arrive at an agreement by which the valley may at an early date be provided with a line from St.

That is what Dr. Pugsley and Mr. Carvell have sought, and to ensure which the necessary legislation was secured through their efforts at Ottawa.

This is plain speaking. To follow the course recommended by Sir James would involve a new set of laws on social release.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is being charged with disloyalty when he shares the views of the Prime Minister of England. Those who charge the Canadian premier with disloyalty and a desire to separate Canada from the Empire are careful not to state the position of Premier Asquith on the the position of Premier Asquith on the relations between the mother country and the oversea states. At the opening of the Imperial Conference last month Mr. Asquith discussed centralization and disintegration, in a very illuminating manner. problem" were put forth. One was centralization, which would rule the Empire from Downing street; and the other was disintegration, by which one lafter another the oversea states would fall away and become independent. "After seventy years," says Mr. Asquith, "it may be said with confidence that neither of these theories commands the faintest support today either at home or in any part of our self-

The committee on temperance, in terms of the remit by last general assembly, investigated the bearing on temperance of the gospel precepts concerning fasting; and they submitted the papers on the subjects which have been furnished by Rev. Professors Cooper, Herkless, Menzies, and Kay, and Dr. Clouston, and which consider the practice of fasting from various points of view. The committee infer that the following positions are made clear:—
