

The extent to which studies in Arts and Theology may be united is indicated by the following extract from the Calendar of the University:—

STUDENTS OF AFFILIATED THEOLOGICAL COLLEGES.

Such Students, whether entered as Matriculated or occasional, are subject to the regulations of the Faculty of Arts in the same manner as other Students.

The Faculty will make formal reports to the governing body of the Theological College to which any such Students may belong, as to:—[1] their conduct and attendance on the classes of the Faculty; and [2] their standing in the several examinations; such reports to be furnished after the Christmas and Sessional Examinations, severally, if called for.

Matriculated Students are allowed no exemptions in the course for the degree of B. A. till they have passed the Intermediate Examination; but they may take Hebrew in the First and Second years, instead of Modern Languages.

In the Third and Fourth Years they are allowed exemptions from the following subjects:—

In the Third Year they may omit Astronomy and Optics, Experimental Physics, and Rhetoric.

In the Fourth Year they may omit Experimental Physics and English Literature.

Certificates of attendance on the full course of lectures in the Theological College during the year for which the exemptions are claimed, must be produced by Students who avail themselves of these exemptions before presenting themselves for Examination.

MATRICULATION AND ADMISSION.

The Senate of the Presbyterian College, having a full knowledge of the nature of the training given, and the religious influence exerted on Students in the McGill University, confidently recommend parents to send their sons to it, whether they are designed for the Christian Ministry or for any of the learned Professions; and for the guidance of young men who may desire to enter the course in Arts, the following extract is made from the Calendar of the University:—

The next Session of the Faculty of Arts will commence on September 15th, 1875, and will extend to April 30th, 1876.
