"Cannot a plain man live and think no harm, But thus his simple acts must be abus'd By silken, sly, insinuating Jacks?" W. W. Newcastle, September 14th, 1876.

To the Editor of the Union Advocate: When a correspondent writes in a newspaper over his own signature it is safe to onjecture that he is not ashamed of what he descends to notice. In order to understand this matter properly we must quote from the Advocate of August 30th, what Mr. M'-Guire did say. Referring to the alteration of the Prayer Book by the Ritualists he notes the change of the calendar so as to include the names of many Romish saints, &c., and Farm Produce, Stock, Farm Utensils. TUBULAR & SQUARE LANTERNS the substitution of priest for minister in the Rubric connected with the absolution."-Passing from the Prayer Book he goes on to speak of "a tampering with the word of God" by substituting at instead of in, in Phillipians 2nd, 10th, the reason being that it | TEMBER, at 10 a.m., of bowing at the name of Jesus in the Creed 506 bushels Oats, 100 barrels Potatoes, etc. and elsewhere during the service." This changing of the Bible to suit the Prayer Book "took place in the days of Archbishon Laud, the Romanizer of the Church of England." If we turn to our bibles (Phil. 2nd, 10th,) we find the word at (which should be in) put there by the translators of the Bible who were but newly cut loose from ALL THE HOUSEHOLD EFFECTS, Rome and had not given up all their Romish | Consisting of Furniture, Stoves, Kitchen practices; hence the necessity for a new translation not made to conform to any Prayer Book, or license any bowings and genuflexions, and strange to say, Mr. Kethro | 1 Singer Sewing Machine, a lot of Books, and adds amen to his own condemnation by writing to the Advance that the disputed word is in the Market word is just what Mr. M'Guire said it was. word is just what Mr. M'Guire said it was.

Where is the falsehood now? Then Mr. K. wants charity preached, if so he ought to practise it. How very charitable to write in the public papers that a minister preached falsehoods. How very charitable for him to add insult to injury by calling Mr. M'Guire a pounder (not an expounder) of the gospel. What a barberous joke on such a serious subject! But Mr. Kethro wants to be left to God while he calls Mr, M'Guire to account himself. What prime conceit .-Why not leave Mr. M'Guire to God, surely he is able to judge him too? failed in the ridiculous attempt of Mr. Kethro in last week's Advance to contute the statements of the Rev. Mr. M'Guire .-When this modern " Defender of the Faith" and sequel of Henry VIII endeavored to lather his opponent he ought to have had more reverence for the sanctity of the Bible than to have confounded it with the Prayer Book. In the text quoted it should be "should bow" and not "shall bow" as this learned commentator represents it. It ALL KINDS OF SAWS, would be well if man would respect the Is prepared to fill orders from any part of Is prepared to fill orders from any part of judgment of that Destiny that framed him and recognize the adaptability of that position in which he is placed.

"It would from many a blunder free us and foolish notion."

It would be well feel many and foolish notion."

It would be well feel many framed him the county. His saws are now being widely used, are made of the very finest quality of English Steel, and are warranted to be equal to the best English or American manufacture. A fair trial will prove the correctness of these statements.

It would be well for this knight of the Prayer Book to continue on dressing up ministers. Let him keep a keen edge on his razors and it may partly atone for the dullness of his wit. It is no doubt a pleasing sensation to those who have "just enough sensation to miscuote." for rise to the dighair and not diverge into dressing down nity of an attack upon the pulpit.
