PANTRY TALKS

I am the Queen of the Flour Bin, the lady-in-chief of the Royal Pantry, the oracle of the Royal Household.

I want the attention of Big Folks and Little Folks, of Experienced housewives and Inexperienced—of Rich housewives and Poor—Young housewives and Old.

For I have stories to tell. Secrets—flour secrets—to unfold. And these secrets have come by Experience—by actual knowledge of flour, actual study of different grades of flour.

So I will ask your close and careful attention to my little stories about flour and bread and cakes and pies and things.

And I will promise you Profit as well as Pleasure from them.

If I can tell you the secret of making better Bread and Cakes and Pies and Pastry, that will be profitable to you.

And if I can tell you why one flour is more economical as well as more wholesome than another, that, too, will be profitable.

For I mean to go into the flour question deeply, giving Whys and Wherefores, Facts and Figures.

I hope to instruct and edify at the same time. So if you follow my little stories from time to time, as they appear, you will learn lots of things about flour that nobody has told you before. These Pantry Talks of mine will be chiefly about so named because it was the flour selected for use in the Royal Household of Great Britain. It is the one flour in Canada which stands out head and shoulders above all the rest. It is made in Canada by the largest millers in the British Empire—The Ogilvie Flour Mills Co. Limited, Montreal, and, because of its high quality and absolute uniformity, has given the greatest satisfaction both for Bread and for Pastry.

—“Lost” or “Ties Surprise”—Another Baby Abandoned.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—There was received at the St. Pancras Railway Station on Saturday a baby boy who had been found in a wickerwork basket in a Midland Railway van at St. Pancras Station.

The train in which the basket was left was not a “special,” but the 1.45 from Derby calling at Leicester, Market Harborough, Kettering, Wellingborough, Bedford, and Luton before reaching St. Pancras.

The practice is for the vans which take the newspapers into the provinces early in the morning to be utilized as luggage vans on the return journey, but no guard travels in them. When this particular train arrived at the terminus, the luggage was cleared out of the van, and afterwards Porter Turner found the wickerwork basket on the rack.

As the package was not claimed, it was removed to the lost property office. Up to this moment no suspicion as to the contents of the basket had been aroused, but no sooner had it been placed on the rack than the officials in the office were surprised to hear the cry of a baby from within. The lid was hastily removed, and there was a little baby boy reclining on blankets, and wrapped in a shawl, as if in a cradle, with a pillow for his head.

The police were at once sent for, while a porter rushed off for a heavy railway rug, in which the “little stranger” was carefully wrapped, to protect him from the cold. Police Constable 837 took charge of the baby and conveyed it in a Midland Railway private omnibus to the workhouse, where it is now being cared for.

The child was dressed in long clothes.

$3.50 Recipe Cures Weak Kidneys, Free

Relieves Urinary and Kidney Troubles, Backache, Straining, Swelling, Etc.

Stops Pain in the Bladder, Kidneys and Back.

Wouldn't it be nice within a week or so to begin to say goodbye forever to the scalding, dribbling, straining, or too frequent passage of urine; the foreshadowing and back-of-the-head aches; the stinging and smarting of the bladder; the growing muscle weakness; spots before the eyes; yellow skin; dizziness; loss of appetite; and all the other troubles that depend on a weak kidney?

I have a recipe for these troubles that you can depend on, and if you want to make a quick recovery, you ought to write and get a copy of it. Many a doctor would charge you $5.00 just for writing this prescription, but I have it and will send it to you for nothing. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. B. Robinson, 110 Jackson Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send it to you.

I will quickly show you how to cure your kidneys, so I think you had better see what it is without delay. I will send you a copy free of charge, and you can keep it as long as you like.

of good quality. The medical officer at the workhouse has reported that the baby is about five weeks old and in a wasted condition.

There were no marks on the clothing likely to lead to the discovery of the parents, and the only clue the police have is the inscription, “Adams, Passenger to London,” written on an official label which was attached to the basket.

The fact that the basket had no railway label upon it points to its having been placed on the rack by someone other than an official.

A second baby was abandoned on Monday in the waiting room at Paddington Station by a young woman.

Carrying the child, the woman entered the ladies' waiting room about ten o'clock, and the attention of the female attendant was directed to her on account of the evident nervous prostration from which she was suffering. She declined all offers of assistance, however, and was left alone.

In the absence of the attendant for a few moments she disappeared, and her baby was found lying on the floor.

She did not return, and after a while the attendant, who had attended to the child, called in the police, and the infant was taken to the Paddington Workhouse.

The child is a male child, about three weeks old, and, according to the doctor, is not well nourished. No means of identification were found on the clothing.

TRIALS STILL HEAVY. HE SUES PREACHER. Declares Minister Got His Property by “Fraudulently Using Abilities.”

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 4.—Accusing the Rev. William John Herr, of Bellevue, of “disrespectfully and fraudulently using his abilities as a minister of gospel” to induce the plaintiff to convey his property to the preacher, James Annable of Rose Point, Lawrence County, today filed suit for $5,000 damages.

A solemn statement of the case was filed in Common Pleas Court No. 1 today by Annable's attorney, Annable says that in 1904 he owned a dwelling barn and a blacksmith shop on an acre of ground in Rose Point. William Herr, he explains, pretended that he was on a special mission to promulgate his doctrine of holiness.

Annable told how Herr “craftily, deceitfully and fraudulently using his powers and abilities as an experienced minister of the gospel, pretended to be endowed by the Creator to relieve all who would take up the cross and follow him of all the trials and tribulations which original sin entails upon the members of the entire human family throughout this life.” Annable says Herr informed him he could possibly save his soul by conveying all his earthly possessions to Herr.

UNCOVERING EGYPT. Temple of Goddess of Love is 4,600 Years Old.

At the King's College, England, recently, under the auspices of the Egypt Exploration Fund, C. T. Curry gave an account of the excavations at Tell-el-Bahari, and described the progress of the year's work in connection with the discovery of an ancient dynasty temple in the vicinity of Tell-el-Bahari. Mr. Curry said the original temple had been erected and dedicated to the Goddess of Love. The shrine was built, it was calculated, about 2,700 B. C., and it differed entirely from the Greek idea of worshipping temples.

It was erected for men and for man's glorification, and it was put up during a reign of tyranny in Egypt. The Egyptian had always been a man who had been dominated by a governing influence. Today if the English influence were withdrawn the Egyptian would be without his original individual condition. They would still find evidence of the primitive man there, but he would be a man of almost anything, but when the pressure was withdrawn he fell back to the primitive ways.

Mr. Curry observed that the year's work had been one of great importance to antiquarians and scientists, inscriptions and columns symbolic of the early days of Egypt were continually being discovered, and which went a long way to clear up the myths of Egypt's early history.

NATIONAL FOOD OF MEXICANS. The Tortilla is the Bread Used by Our Southern Neighbors—Frijoles.

The tortilla is the ancient Indian bread of Mexico. Its only constituent is Indian corn (maize), which the women soak in lime water until the kernels are at the point of bursting, then wash thoroughly until it is free from lime, when they grind it by rubbing it on a large block of stone, especially cut for the purpose, with a small stone which they hold in their hands.

The operation looks very much like rubbing clothes on a mangle. The result is a soft, pliable, and elastic mass, which is then rolled out into a thin, round disk, the size and shape of an ordinary griddle. Though no salt or leaven is added, fresh tortillas are exceedingly palatable.

The one other food mainstay of the people—ordinary beans. They are boiled to a mush and with a liberal quantity of land are warmed and served in a flat earthen dish that answers for a frying pan. The very poor people do not always have the luxury of frijoles and when they do have them cannot always afford the land.

It seemed hopeless to keep father from drinking, and I felt the despair. When I heard of Samarra's Tonic Prescription I decided to try it. I saw that it was a free sample treatment and could be given to me. I determined to try it. I have been glad every day since I gave him his tea, and he is now a happy man. I am glad to say that I have never touched whiskey since. How glad I am that I have found a remedy that he could never have stopped drinking of his own accord.

ENJOYABLE RECEPTION AT ST. JAMES' CHURCH. An enjoyable reception and social was held last evening in the Sunday school room of St. James' Church, in honor of Rev. H. A. Cody and Mrs. Cody. Many of the members of the congregation were present, by whom Mr. and Mrs. Cody were warmly received. Rev. W. B. Armstrong, whose father and father's father were successful pastors of the church, presented a sketch of the church, from its foundation to the present day, recalling the names of the old members of the church.

Rev. Mr. Cody also delivered an address, thanking the members of his congregation for their kindness, after which Rev. Mr. McKell of Fairville spoke briefly.

Miss Dunham sang a song very sweetly, and Miss Duffell rendered a piano selection in excellent style. Refreshments were then served and the rest of the evening was spent in social intercourse.

Excursion Schemes to Be Announced Shortly. Manager Good of Expo. and His Staff Getting Down to Work.

Matters are growing livelier each day in the offices of the Dominion Exhibition, Prince William street. Manager H. J. Good is receiving enquiries by mail and in person from prospective exhibitors every day, some of these being representatives of large western concerns down this way on their sample tours. These people have been specifically commissioned to talk the matter over with the Exhibition people.

Details of the big show are taking shape quickly. In a few days the excursion schemes will be planned and the excursion schemes made public. Some attractive features will be offered to the outside public in this department of arrangements.

Manager Good is of the opinion a very fine art loan exhibit can be secured with a little co-operation on the part of local commissions. It has been a considerable time since an art show has been held here, that is a display of national importance, at least fairly representative. Efforts will be made along these lines at an early convenient date.

SKUNK IS ODD PET OF A NEBRASKA GIRL

She is Twelve Years Old and Raised Animal From Kittenhood.

NORFOLK, Neb., Feb. 4.—The only pet skunk in captivity belongs to a 12-year-old Nebraska girl. Lucille Bliss, daughter of D. W. Bliss, a farmer near Idaho, and formerly a commercial traveller, is the child who has reared this unique pet from its kittenhood. It is now full grown and romps and plays with its little mistress just as any common house cat.

The little skunklet, captured near Idaho, in its infancy, was taken home by Lucille and petted. The animal grew fat under caressing and house care.

When Lucille comes into the house the skunk, now grown big, races to her side, leaps to her shoulder, licks her cheeks and snuggles down into her neck.

She loves it more dearly than any other pet. Tabby she calls it, and Tabby comes when the call is given.

Mr. Bliss says that he expects some of these days the animal will get excited and the family dwelling will have to be burned.

An Encouraging Message

I have a message of hope and good cheer, of encouragement and inspiration to every suffering woman. I have endured the torture due to female troubles and the consequent despondency and mental agony almost to the point of despair, and I have been restored from this condition to a state of vigorous health and to the happy, exhilarating frame of mind which accompanies physical well-being. This change has been brought about wholly by the use of ORANGE LILY.

In addition I have had the privilege and pleasure of inducing multitudes of other suffering women to give ORANGE LILY a trial, and have received thousands of enthusiastic acknowledgments of the blessings it has brought to them. The following is a sample:

Dear Mrs. Currah—Your very kind letter was received yesterday. In reply to your question about my health, I am thankful to say that I am very well. As I have never given you a statement of my case you may be interested in it. For several years I have suffered untold agony. This suffering was continuous, but I would have violent attacks every few weeks, each attack lasting several days. The first Sunday in November I felt the pain increasing and so did not go to prayers. The rest of the family did go, and soon after the fierce down-pour set in and I had to remain on the floor until their return. I was in great pain all night and was very sick for a whole week.

Then Mrs. L. came to see me and told me of your wonderful medicine. I got my husband to send for it right away, as I was too sick to write myself. (My doctor could do nothing for me.) I have used 3 boxes of ORANGE LILY. I have had three months of good rest, and am now well, never better in my life. I have not had the old pains since. I often ask my husband if it is myself that is going around and doing my own work. I can scarcely believe it. It brings tears of joy to my eyes. I could about it to all the world. I cannot speak enough in its praise.

Yours friend, MRS. E. H. F. Receiving, as I do, dozens of such reports each day, I feel impelled to make known to my suffering sisters the merits of ORANGE LILY. It differs from other medicines in that it is not taken internally. It is a curative element treatment, and is applied directly to the affected organs. Its curative elements are absorbed into the system, restoring the system to its normal state, which has been irritated by the membrane and depressing the nerves, and a growth of healthy tissue is noticeable almost from the start. It is a positive, scientific remedy, and even if you use no more than the Free Trial treatment you will be very materially benefited.

FREE TRIAL OFFER. I want every reader of this who suffers from any of the following: monthly periods, irregularities, leucorrhoea, inflammation or congestion of the womb, pains in the back, etc., to send me their addresses, and I will forward at once, without charge, 10¢ worth of ORANGE LILY. If your case is not far advanced it may entirely cure you, and in any event it will do you much good. I am so earnest in making this statement, and so positive that it is true, that I trust every sufferer who reads this notice will take advantage of my offer and get cured at home, without consulting a doctor. Address, enclosing 3 stamps, MRS. FRANCES E. CURRAH, Windsor, Ont.

EMPRESS MET SNOW SQUALL. Anchors Two Hours Off Brier Island—Reaches Here at 8.

The Empress of Britain, Capt. Murray, of the C. P. R. line, docked at No. 3 berth, Sand Point, at 8 o'clock last night. The Empress had head winds during her entire trip out from Liverpool and on the way around from Halifax, where she touched Thursday night, ran into a heavy snow storm which delayed her several hours. At 11 p. m. yesterday the Empress anchored off Brier Island and stayed there almost two hours. At about 2 p. m. she got under way and proceeded to this port. The storm was heavy and the snow falling thickly. The C. P. R. officials here thought the steamer would not attempt to dock before morning, but the pilot brought her safely up the harbor and she docked a few minutes before eight o'clock.

The Empress brought 1,207 passengers, some of whom left her at Halifax. The majority came to this port, however. They are classed as follows: First cabin, 56; second cabin, 248; steerage, 803. The great majority of the steerage passengers are intending settlers and the greater number are from the British Isles. One party of ninety girls are intended for domestic service in the West. There was also a party of Salvation Army immigrants on board the Empress. Adjutant Carter of the Metropole met the party. The latter was composed of two families named Lee and Wilson. Messrs. Albinson, Owens, Wilmot and Bullen, Mrs. Elsworth, Mrs. Daunt and Miss Hughes.

UNION BLEND TEA

the Tea that satisfies

THE best customers I have are people who simply cannot learn to like ordinary tea—they find in Union Blend a richness and delicacy coupled with a strength that other teas do not even approach.

They gladly pay the price—forty cents a pound—because they realize it is tea economy. It is economy, because it goes half as far again as ordinary tea; indeed, being unaccustomed to its strength, most people make it too strong at first. Then, they learn that a little Union Blend makes more tea and makes it far better than can be made from a good deal of the common kind.

Go to your grocer and get a pound packet of Union Blend—be sure my picture is on the end—and try it for yourself. One single pound carries conviction.

Union Blend one pound packets—the pound packets only—on 40¢ coupons that are worth money to you. But this is only an advertisement—the tea itself is worth the price, fully.

TRY EVEN A HALF POUND

There is only one way for you to prove that Union Blend Tea is all I claim—better than other teas. Try it. If it is not up to your expectations, I stand to lose more than you do. For my advertising can only induce you to try it once—can only introduce Union Blend to you; after that, its own quality must continue to sell. Yet I am not only willing but anxious to risk the test—will send you a sample, free of charge. Go to your grocer, get a single pound, or a half pound if you prefer—and I shall be perfectly satisfied to accept your decision.
