FAC-SIMILE

LONDON, June 2.-The peace in South Africa, and its very elastic terms, were welcomed in London to-night with a mild repetition of the Mafeking celebration. Hundreds of thousands of people surged through the streets of London from Whitechapel to Buckingham Palace, but never at any time did the density of the crowds equal that of those which created the verb "To Maffick." Tonight there was a tremendous noise in the streets, composed of a pande-monium of horns and cheers and the coarse jests of costers, but the abandon which marked the announcement of the reliefs of Mafeking and Ladysmith was lacking. Women, many of them carrying babies, boys, drunken loafers and others, glad of any excuse to defy law and order, were the pidncipal elements in the ragged processions which wended their ways through the city, through Pall Mall and up Piccadilly. The crowds concentrated in Regent street and especially in the Strand, and let them bed men in the faces with feathers, indiscriminately flung an apology for confetti and in turn were hugged and kissed by any man who found time for such a diversion. A few helpless policemen stood around and watched the fun.

One of the favorite decorations with the crowd was a cluster of red, white and blue stripes wound around a tall hat, American visitors in London. who tonight saw the city crazy for the first time, freely expressed their utter astonishment at the scenes and ingenuously asked: "Were the Mafking celebrations worse than this?" This question called forth a response from the Americans resident in London as follows: "Why, this is not a circumstance to Mafeking."

King Edward narrowly escaped what might have been a serious accident this morning. His Majesty was driving to St. James' palace when a cab collided with his carriage. The cab horse fell and lay struggling under the royal vehicle. The King alighted and stood upon the pavement until matters were righted.

King Edward and Queen Alexandra. together with Princess Victoria and Prince and Princess Charles of Denmark, attended the production of Wagner's "Valkyrie" at Covent Garden tonight. Their majesties received an ovation and when they entered the Opera House the orchestra played God Save the King. Special patriotic peace programmes were provided at all the leading music halls, and at these places the enthusiastic spectators deanded that the orchestra play God Save the King.
