News Summary.

DOMINION.

—Timothy Turney, of Gibson, was fined $30 last week for violation of Scott Act.

—It is reported that Mayor McShane, of Montreal, has entered a fifty thousand dollar action for libel against the Toronto Empire for stating he had shared in the Quebec court house boodie.

—An attempt was made one night last week to wreck the C. P. R. train at Sussex, by placing obstructions on the track. Discovery of the fact was made in time to avert a smash up.

—Mr. Frank Forbes, liberal M. P. for Quebec, N. S., has admitted corrupt acts by agents, and the seat will accordingly be declared vacant. Dr. Borden, of Kings, has taken a similar course.

—A young man, named Frank Beck with, a sailor belonging to the schooner Etile, and son of John Beckwith, Albert Co., was drowned in St. John harbor on Friday morning last, having fallen from the wharf at which the vessel lay on the Carleton side of the harbor.

—The steamers Fastnet and Heather Bell collided on the evening of the 12th inst., a short distance outside of Charlottetown harbor. The Heather Bell's stem was cut clean off from deck to keel and she sank in fifteen minutes. Her passengers and crew were transferred to the Fastnet, which suffered little damage.

—An insane woman rushed into St. Michael's Cathedral chapel, Toronto, the other day during mass, and drawing a long gleaming knife, attempted to stab the wife of a long known merchant, who was in a kneeling position. Several men seized her before the knife reached its victim, and she was handed over to the police.

—The municipal authorities of Toronto have had a new census of the city taken by the police force. The number of persons who slept in Toronto on the night of Sunday, Nov. 1st, is given as 185,914. The figures of the Dominion census are 181,220. The municipal count, therefore, shows an increase over their figures of 7,694.

—The lifeless body of Mr. Edwin E. Foster, of Annapolis, was found on Wednesday last lying on the flat back of the garrison. A coroner's jury brought in a verdict of accidental drowning. Mr. Potter is supposed to have fallen from the wharf, which is in a dilapidated condition. On the same day William Nichols, of Bedford, was killed by being thrown from his wagon.

—A mob of French students in Montreal, on Wednesday evening last, attacked the Baptist French church where an ex-priest was delivering an address on how he came to leave the church of Rome. The students entered the church and scattered sanctified oil on the floor. The stench was unbearable. They stopped the services and would have committed violence had not a large body of police broken in upon them. Two arrests were made. When the students got outside the police charged them with drawn batons and eventually drove them off.

—Dr. David Allison, the new president of Mount Allison University, received an enthusiastic welcome from the students upon his arrival at the Sackville railway station the other evening. The "college" cars were lined up as the train rolled in. The boys soon had possession of Dr. Allison, put him in his carriage, took out the horse, and started at a good round pace for the "cottage." Dr. Smith was constrained to bear him company in the carriage. The boys had a hard pull through very muddy roads, but seemed to enjoy it all and made the village ring with their shouts.

—Montreal papers make bitter complaint about the reckless driving of cabmen and cabs in that city. It is declared that pedestrians have no right which these Jehus feel bound to respect and a person's life is not safe upon the crossings. A cabman is now on trial on a charge of manslaughter, for having run over a man in September last, inflicting injuries of which he died next morning. A twelve-year-old boy was run over the other day by a cabster and severely hurt. In both instances the drivers drove away at full speed to escape detection. Such things appear to be of very common occurrence.

—There is a hint possibly worth the attention of our apple growers in the following, which we find in the New York Tribune: The surprise apple crop of New England would have a ready sale if it could be shipped to Southern markets. A few years ago, a Boston shipowner tried the experiment of carrying a cargo of apples to Rio de Janeiro. The fruit was in perfect condition when the ship arrived, and he sold it without difficulty at an average rate of eleven dollars a barrel. Every steamer sailing for Southern countries ought to have large consignments of apples, for they will command a ready sale in the West Indies, Brazil, Venezuela and the West Coast.

—A Montreal despatch of Nov. 13, to the Star, says: "Profrat Sir John Thompson and Hon. Geo. Foster, met a number of steamship owners, also Messrs. Hazen, M. P., of St. John, and Stairs of Halifax, and discussed at length the fast Atlantic service. The meeting, which was held at Hon. Mr. Abbott's residence, was private and lasted two hours. The gentlemen present expressed their minds fully to the ministers. A good deal of difference of opinion existed as to the amount of subsidy that such a service will require. The prime minister and his colleagues thanked the gentlemen present for the information given, and no doubt the country will profit therefrom."

—Section Foreman J. Smith of the C. P. R., while riding on a hand car near Brownville, was run into and instantly killed by a freight train.

—An Ottawa despatch says: As a result of the deliberation of the international postal congress, the post office department has issued a notice that postage on matter to India, Australia, etc., is reduced to 5 cents per half ounce on letters, and rates on other matter correspondingly.

—The St. Andrews Beacon tries its hand at telling a fish story. The Beacon's fish was found on the beach to the west of Indian Park. It was about four feet long and shaped like a kite. Among its peculiarities was "a mouth big enough to take in a half bushel basket," and on its belly, close to its body, it had "two web feet." It is, perhaps, not to be wondered at that "none of the fishermen knew the name of this strange fish."

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

—Terrible gales are again reported from England, causing great damage to shipping. Many fishing smacks, coasting schooners and some larger vessels have been wrecked.

—Later accounts of the storm which last week swept over the British Islands show that the resulting damages are widespread and great. Great damage has been done to shipping on the coast, and hundreds of lives are believed to have been lost. The storm was severely felt in France also.

—Recently Mark Guy Pearse was holding services in Australia. At one of the largest meetings a brother from Cornwall prayed for the preacher as follows: "O Lord bless the minister that's come amongst us. Thou knowest who we do mean, Lord! Bless us, Lord! Bless him that's goin' to preach and leachur to us! 'Is, Lord! Thou knowest who we do mean, Lord! 'Tis Meest Guy Fawkes. Bless us, Lord!"

—The horrors of the Russian famine increase as fog becomes scarcer, and the more desperate acts of brigandage are common. Gangs of marauders are going through the country plundering freight trains and sacking farms and mansions. The starving peasants devour any refuse they can find. The mortality among children from typhus fever and cholera is frightful. The Zemstoves distribute milk among families when possible. A woman at Chelabinsk killed her three children and hanged herself on the refusal of a rich neighbor to lend them money to prevent their starving.

—A London despatch tells of heroic and successful efforts at life-saving by the female convicts on Andaman Island in the Bay of Bengal. In the recent hurricane which caused so great disaster and loss of life on the island, the British steamer Enterprise was caught unprepared and driven ashore. The convicts, seeing the wreck and the perilous condition of the steamer's crew, formed themselves into a life-line, and rushing into the sea saved man after man who was struggling in the breakers. Out of the 83 men comprising the officers and crew of the Enterprise only six were saved, and these were dragged from the water by the female convicts.

UNITED STATES.

—It is stated that an institute for the cure of the liquor and opium habit by the Keeley treatment is to be established at North Conway, N. H. Several prominent gentlemen of that state are reported to have formed an association with the capital necessary to carry out the scheme.

—The Boston express on the Long Island road ran into the Boston milk train at Jamaica last Wednesday night. The locomotive of the express ploughed through three milk laden cars. Passengers on the express were badly shaken up, and if there was no bloodshed there was a great deal of milk shed, the track being deluged with the lactical fluid.

—The Congregationalist tells a good squash story. It runs as follows: A ranch owner in Goleta, Santa Barbara Co., Cal., had growing upon his place some enormous squashes, one of which was so large that he had it hollowed out to make, as he said, a Cinderella coach for his little girl. He was expecting a visit from an Eastern friend, and after the guest came, accompanied by his little girl, he was showing him over the ranch. Giving his daughter a sly look, which she understood, she slipped away and ran and got into the squashes. As he was going over the field he said to his friend, "You may not believe it, but sometimes we have little girls in our squashes and I shouldn't wonder if there is one in this one." So saying he tapped the squashes, the sides fell apart and out from the middle sprang his little girl. It is said the Eastern gentleman was so astonished that his hat turned white! Probably it was white before, but the rest of the story is true. This squash was over three feet in length and weighed 250 pounds.

—Great scarcity of water is reported in different parts of the United States. A despatch from Nashville, Tenn., of last week says: "The people here are crying for water. The inhabitants on the outskirts of the city are in a pitiable state. 'Water, water, Oh, God, give us water!' shouted 200 women who huddled around a small spring yesterday in West Nashville. Nothing like it has ever been experienced in the South before. New York city is also seriously threatened with a water famine."

—Postmaster-general Wanamaker is reported as speaking in reference to the proposed postal telegraph system and improved postal facilities as follows: "It is my ambition to give the people a telegraph service of the best present rates, including newspapers, to make the free delivery of mail universal in all thickly populated communities, country as well as city, and to see newspapers and literary publications go free through the country. I want to see the leading country of the world in all that goes to make up intelligence, culture and enterprise, and, do you believe, I expect to see this all in a comparatively short time."

—Nathan Plummer, M. D., of Auburn, N. H., says that he has used Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry in his practice for more than ten years, and finds it the most effective remedy within his knowledge. He recommends it with great confidence, those subject to coughs and pulmonary complaints.

The Messenger and Visitor will be sent to New Subscribers from now till Jan. 1, 1893, for $1.50.

Deaths.

ROSE.—At Port Maitland, Oct. 16, Freddie A. infant son of Westworth and Susan P. Rose, aged 13 months.

ESTY.—At Jacksonville, N. B., on August 24, Jonathan Esty, youngest child of Frederic and Mary A. Esty, aged 4 years, 8 months. "Sale in the arms of Jesus."

NEWTON.—Of membranous croup, on Nov. 1, Earnest Judson, aged 2 years, also on the 4th inst., Hetty Elizabeth, aged 8 months, children of Moses Newton and Elvina Keith, of Havelock, Kings Co.

HOAR.—At East Mountain, Col. Co., Sept. 20, John Hoar, aged 69 years. He died trusting in Jesus. The large number of relatives and friends that followed him to the grave show how he was loved and respected.

HAMILTON.—At Onslow, Sept. 17, Ruth Hamilton passed away after a lingering illness, borne with humble submission to the Divine will, aged 82 years. She leaves a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn their loss.

SLACK.—At Truro, Sept. 20, John Slack, of East Mountain, Col. Co., aged 25 years. Bro. Slack experienced religion about ten years ago, and united with the East Onslow Baptist church. He bore his suffering with Christian patience and died trusting in the finished work of Christ. His funeral was largely attended.

ROBERTSON.—At East Point, Nov. 2, after an illness of six days, Margaret, beloved wife of Dea. Alexander Robertson, aged 73 years, leaving a husband and three children besides numerous relatives and friends to mourn her sudden death. Our sister lived a consistent Christian life and died a peaceful death. "Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord."

ENGLAND.—At Marry's Cove, Sept. 30, after a brief illness, Minnie, beloved wife of Edward Ennor, in the 25th year of her age. Sister Ennor professed conversion and united with the church during the ministry of the late Rev. J. F. Kempton. She has since lived a consistent Christian life and died a peaceful death, comforted and sustained by her husband and friends.

ENGLAND.—Suddenly at Ennor's Point, Chester, Nov. 5, Drucilla, relict of the late Joseph Ennor, in the 81st year of her age, leaving a family of four sons and two daughters to mourn their loss. Sister Ennor was yet borne with her afflictions into the church by the late Rev. Joseph Dimock. She retained her faculties and was able to work till within ten minutes of the end, when the last enemy, Death, claimed her for his own. But for her death had lost its sting and the grave its victory. In her death we are reminded of the injunction given in Matt. 25: 13.

SLOAT.—At Keewick, Nov. 6, of heart disease, Barbara, beloved wife of Henry Sloat, departed this life on her 68th birthday after a lingering, yet times, painful illness, and leaving true Christian resignation. As the end drew near her faith became more implicit and her desire to go to her Lord more intense. In her death her aged and suffering husband and large and affectionate family lost a true and affectionate wife and mother, and the church a tried and tested member, the community a good neighbor. But we know our loss is her gain, so we can say, Thy will be done.

CHUTE.—At Beauséjour, Bridgetown, N. S., Oct. 25, Bro. Abel Chute, aged 66 years. In our brother we have lost one of the pillars of the Baptist church in this place. For over fifty years he has walked with the church, and he falls asleep to walk with the church triumphant. The home beyond appeared to him to be bright and fair. He has entered it, and loved one behind sorrow not as those "who have no hope." All the joy that can be found in the hour of bereavement is theirs. The life and death of our brother was such as to give confidence to those who love Christ in the gospel they profess. Let us die the death of the righteous and let my last end be like his.

WILLIAMS.—At Campbellton, N. B., Oct. 24, W. J. Williams, aged 50 years. Bro. Williams was born in London, England, Sept. 19th, 1841, and came to Halifax with the royal artillery at the time of the Trent affair in 1861. He became a resident of Campbellton in 1881. He has been a contractor recently on the I. C. R. He was elected councillor in Campbellton last spring, and always took an active interest in all public affairs. Bro. Williams united with the Baptist church here under the ministry of Rev. Mr. Vincent. His presence in the church was sufficient to insure success in any undertaking. His kind and cheerful manner won the respect of all. He leaves a wife, son and daughter to mourn. The Holy Spirit will comfort them.

GATES.—Charlotte, third daughter of the late Oldham and Levinia Gates, passed away peacefully and quietly to her much needed rest, from the home of her daughter in Boston, Oct. 16th, aged 68 years, leaving one son and wife, two daughters and their husbands, three sisters and six brothers, to follow. Hers was the first death in 25 years among four sisters and six brothers (aged 50 to 72). Deceased had only returned one week from a visit to her old home and friends in Melvern Square, N. S., where she had spent the summer recruiting her declining health. All that loving hearts and careful hands could do was cheerfully done; but the Master gently called, "Worthy child, come home," and with a submissive, characteristic smile she said, "Thy will be done," and the truly patient, long-suffering one changed her frail mortal for the freed spiritual immortal. She rests from her labors and her works follow. (Boston papers please copy.)

FORTUNE FOR FARMERS.

When you see an advertisement like this, don't you believe it. The day when you get something for nothing has not come. There are many cases, in fact, when you don't get what you pay for. Believing that it pays to be honest, we mark our goods plainly at a fair profit, and trust to be able to sell enough at a reasonable margin to be able to struggle through this world. We have had a big sale on Men's Ulsters, and the sizes are broken, but another lot will arrive this week. Prices: $5, $7, $8, $12, $15. Melton Overcoats are very popular this season; in Blue, Black and Brown, with strapped seams and all-wool flannel linings, at $10, $12, $14, $16. Boys' Overcoats, four to eight years, only $2. Cape Ulsters, same age, $3. Larger sizes cost more.

THIS MAN

at once understood why I carried such a big stock of one brand of tea; not saying anything of the other twenty-five brands which are always kept in stock. The above are a few FACTS WORTH KNOWING.

A business man, in speaking of the "B" brand of tea, said, "While I was surprised at the fine quality of the tea, I was more than surprised when I opened the package to find an order on you for twenty more packages or their equivalent in money." He laughingly said: "I guess I will take half in cash ($10.00) and ten packages of tea, and perhaps I will find several more orders."

These remarks, made by a business man, will be better understood when I explain that to introduce the "B" brand of Tea I am placing orders in the packages which entitle buyers to from one to fifty packages extra or their equivalent in cash, which is at the rate of one dollar per package.

BY THIS METHOD

I expect to place thousands of packages of "B" brand of tea on the market. First, because I give a fine quality of tea; second, because every purchaser of a package is entitled to a chance that may give him all the way from one to fifty packages of tea extra.

TEN THOUSAND of these orders will be placed in the packages and given away, and thousands of buyers will reap the benefit.
