AROUND THE CITY

Notice to Artillerymen. The saluting party of artillery will parade at the barracks at 8.45 o'clock this afternoon instead of the time they were warned.

Band Concert Last Night. The King Square was crowded with people last night who listened with delight to an excellent programme rendered by the 52nd Regimental Band.

Toy Boat Found. A toy boat was found by the police on the new children's playgrounds in Gilbert's Lane yesterday afternoon and was handed to the police. The owner can receive the same on application at the central police station.

Premier Fleming in City. Premier Fleming and Mrs. Fleming arrived in the city last night on the Boston train. The Premier and Mrs. Fleming will be among the guests of Lt. Gov. Wood when he entertains their Royal Highnesses to a sail on the river this morning.

Fireworks Display. At nine o'clock last night there was a fireworks display on Navy Island which continued for about an hour. With balloons and rockets, the harbor and vicinity was brilliantly lighted and the display was witnessed by thousands of people.

Supposed to be insane. Dr. D. E. Berryman was called to the central police station yesterday afternoon and examined Percy Wantons who is supposed to be of the sound mind. Dr. Berryman recommended that the man be held until tomorrow for a further examination.

A Pretty Display. The Knights of Columbus' building looked particularly attractive last evening. A series of about 20 large tungsten lamps was strung across the grounds, and the vines and trees were illuminated with clusters of colorful lights. A large illuminated sign "K. of C." added greatly to the appearance of the premises.

A. O. H. Prizes Drawn. In the rooms of Div. No. 5, A. O. H., Fairville, the drawing of the lottery in connection with the annual convention at Milltown next week, took place, the following being the winners: 1st, $100, Mrs. S. Crowley, Millford, ticket number 39; 2nd prize, $10, R. J. Harrington, ticket 139; 3rd, $5, Miss Winifred Murphy, Fairville, ticket 742. The prizes are held by the treasurer, Daniel Murphy, from whom the winners can obtain them.

BOAT PARADE WAS PLEASING FEATURE

One Hundred and Ten Boats of St. John Power Boat Club Fleet on Harbor Yesterday.

The parade of the fleet of the St. John Power Boat Club was a feature of yesterday afternoon's entertainment. The boats came through the Falls at 2 o'clock, and after the formation according to the orders, proceeded down the harbor headed by the flagship "Lodis" with "Commodore Gerow and party on board, after which came the beautifully decorated boat carrying the Temple of Honor band.

This was followed by Fleet Captain Corry, and after him came the boats of the squadron all decorated. The fleet proceeded down the harbor and around Barrack point to Courtenay Bay, where they made a circle, and returning passed up the harbor, being reviewed by His Royal Highness the Governor General from the deck of the "Earl Grey."

There were over 110 boats in line, and they presented a beautiful sight passing up the harbor, some of the owners having arranged special schemes of decorations. The judges, who were Mrs. Gerow, Miss Ferguson, Fred T. McKean and John C. Chesley, awarded the first prize to the "Jon Eve," owned by Thos. Coram, who represented a Dreadnought; second prize to the "Guy D.," owned by W. H. Dunham, whose boat represented "What we have'll hold;" third prize to Dr. Nase of the "Oh You," whose boat was beautifully decorated, having the name of the club in the club colors across the canopy of the boat, and a special prize to Messrs. Haslam of the "Marion H." who produced a beautiful effect in Maple leaves, surmounted by a large crown. It is conceded that the display was the finest ever shown in the harbor of St. John, and the commodore, officers and members were well satisfied with the results.

Wanted. Laborers wanted. Apply to A. R. Clark & Son.

Wanted. Kitchen boy and kitchen girl wanted at the Royal Hotel.

LAST EVENING'S RECEPTION TO THE ROYAL VISITORS WAS VERY SUCCESSFUL FUNCTION

St. Andrew's Rink the Scene of One of Most Brilliant Social Events Ever Held in St. John—Handsome Gowns Much in Evidence—List of the Invited Guests.

The public reception held in St. Andrew's Rink last evening in connection with the visit of the Royal party was one of the most brilliant social events in the history of the city. Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess and Princess Patricia and their attendants were present, and there was a large attendance of prominent citizens with their wives and daughters. The rink was elaborately decorated, the rough walls and ceiling being covered with bunting, and the floor with carpets. Flags, evergreens and Japanese lanterns were arranged so as to furnish a pleasing effect. In the rear of the rink a raised dais with a canopy was erected for the accommodation of the Royal party. Over the arch above the letters of light, the word "Welcome."

When the Royal party arrived most of the invited guests had assembled. They were met at the door by the Mayor and Mrs. Frink, and escorted to the canopy between two lines of waiting guests. After taking up their positions the invited guests were presented to the Royal visitors, and owing to the number present this function occupied some time. When it was concluded the guests again formed lines and the Royal visitors and their attendants marched down the hall to the cloak room. Emerging from there the Duke and Duchess expressed their pleasure to the Mayor and Mrs. Frink, shook hands, and entering their carriage departed for their apartments, accompanied by Princess Patricia and all the party.

After the departure of the Royal party a programme of dances was carried out, many of the younger people remaining to a late hour. On the reception dais were their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess, Princess Patricia, Miss Pelly and Miss Adam, ladies-in-waiting; Mrs. J. H. Frink, Mrs. Nicholas, Mrs. F. B. Black, His Worship Mayor Frink and the gentlemen in waiting of His Royal Highness.

Beautiful Gowns. The gowns of the ladies were a conspicuous feature of the evening, many beautiful creations being worn. Her Royal Highness, the Duchess, wore a handsome gray satin gown with an overdress of black Spanish net. The bodice was trimmed with gold point lace. She wore a diamond necklace with diamond ornaments in her hair.

Princess Patricia was handsomely gowned in old rose satin, with an overdress of gold satin. She wore a diamond necklace, and diamond ornaments in her hair.

The costumes of the ladies-in-waiting were also striking. Miss Pelly was handsomely gowned in old rose satin veiled with old rose marquisette. Miss Adam, white satin draped with gray spangled net.

Mrs. Frink, handsome gown of white satin with overdress of black chantilly lace; she carried a large bouquet of Killarney roses.

Mrs. Nicholas, pale blue brocade satin, with gold lace panels.

Mrs. Black, white satin with lace trimmings, and diamond ornaments. Among the other strikingly handsome gowns, some of the most noticeable were those of:

Mrs. Hazen, pale blue satin with bodice trimmed with lace.

Mrs. Frances Hazen, pale blue satin with draping of pale blue nylon.

Mrs. King, Hazen, handsomely gowned in pale pink satin with rose point lace on bodice, and darker shade of satin trimming.

Mrs. Thomas Walker, black satin, fuchsia of Duchess lace.

Mrs. Fisher, white satin.

Mrs. G. S. Hayes, yellow satin with jetted black lace overdress.

Mrs. J. V. Ellis, gray brocade satin.

CITY FIRE FIGHTERS MADE FINE SHOWING

In Torchlight Procession They Escorted Duke and Duchess and Princess Patricia to Reception Last Night.

The firemen's torchlight procession last night proved very successful and was counted as one of the best events of the kind seen in the city for years. Everything was well arranged by Chief Kerr and the committee in charge and the members of the fire department in uniform to British streets companies Nos. 1 and 2, turned out nearly 200. All looked exceptionally neat, and the parade was greeted with rounds of applause all along the route of procession.

The firemen assembled at H and L Station No. 1 on King street east, at eight and shortly after, when each man had been supplied with a torch, they marched to Orange along Orange to Sydney street to the north side of Queen square, to Charlotte street down Charlotte to British streets, to Prince William street, where they were halted to await the arrival of the Duke, Duchess, Princess and other members of the royal party from the steamer Earl Grey.

Shortly after 9 o'clock the Duke and party arrived at Reed's point where they were met by Commissioner H. R. McLellan and Chief John Kerr of the fire department and on behalf of the fire department the Duchess and Princess were each presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers.

The firemen then stood at attention and the commissioner, the chief and the royal party departed between the lines, and were loudly cheered by the men. The procession reformed and the royal party were escorted to the St. Andrew's rink via Prince William, Queen and Charlotte streets. The royal party then reviewed the procession, from the rink steps as the men marched past.

The firemen then paraded down Duke street, German street along Germain to Carleton thence to Coburg, thence to Paddock to Waterloo, thence to St. Andrew's street, to the ladder station on King street east.

PERSONAL

Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Archibald and Mrs. Archibald returned today from "The Cedars," after four weeks' holidays.

Among the visitors to the city who are receiving a warm welcome home is Miss Lucy Tonge, who is visiting her father, John Tonge, the contractor. Miss Tonge has been in the States for the past few years and has been very successful in her music career, she being a vocalist of exceptional ability.

Souvenirs of Duke's Visit. The Nickel will give the school children large pictures of themselves singing their greetings to the Duke of Connaught at the Wednesday and Thursday matinees. This is a lovely memento for your scrap books.

The Duke may not be able to attend the Bluebird Picnic at Wolford on Saturday. But if he is not there he will miss a good time. The City Cornet Band will provide the music.

"A House Beautiful." Draperies must harmonize if one's home is to be a house beautiful. Fashions in draperies change constantly. Portieres, curtains, etc., etc., are made anew by our careful re-dyeing in appropriate shades of color. Try Usagar, 28 Waterloo street.
