The Gale on Wednesday Morning Caught Ships on the Coast Waters and Forced Them Ashore--There Was Very Little Loss of Life.

Latter in the day Captain Rich, of the Pinnet River station, four miles north of that at Cahoons Hollow, reported the finding of the quartertopard with the name "Bebent W. Lyle", moon it. The life saving men seem to think that there is some connection with the stopping of the steamer, and the finding of the quarter-board.

The sale last night caught a great fleet of vessels off Cape Cod and the complete story of the damage done and the terrible experiences of the sailors is yet to be told. Some of the vessels have no doubt been draiven well off shore, perhaps as far as file Gulf Stream, while other managed to reach some port of a lee and are holding on like grim death with both anchors down.

A large three-masted schooner is riding heavily just clear of the shoals off Well-floor. Should she drag 50 yards nearer shore her keel will touch and she may become a wreck. Another three-master, the Lena A. Cotton, has set signals of distress off Wood End Bar at Province-

Finally the hawser connecting the car barge panted and as it was impos-tile for the tug to go to her rescue, she was left to her fate, while the tug man-ned to reach the harbor. Nothing could be seen of the second barge today, and is there is a tremendous sea running, here seems to be little hope for her

Is it a Good Ching to Cake?

This is a question frequently asked about

Abbey's Effervescent Salt.

Ask the thousands who use Abbey's Salt, and who have tried it and tested it. It cures all disorders of the digestive organs, clears the complexion and is unequalled as a refreshing drink.

The late Dr. John Baker Edwards, Official Analyst for the Dominion Government at Montreal, made a careful study and analysis of this preparation. He wrote over his own signature:

"Abbey's Effervescent Salt contains no ingredient of an injurious or unwholesome character; and may be taken freely as a beverage."

Several Bags.

Lynn, Mass., Oct. 17—That great "trunk tragedy," as it was known throughout all New England way back in 1879, when the mutilated body of Jennie Clark was found wedged into a trunk which had been pick wedged into a trunk which had been pick-ed up in the Saugus river, is in some re-spects at present, no more mysterious than the murder which was revealed today by the finding of a man's hody, decapitated and denuded of the limbs in a gunny sick in Cemere pond. It may turn-out to be another instance where rival affections for revenge, the murder was committed.

The police tonight are inclined to the belief that George E. Bailey has been murdered and so have taken under arrest John C. Best, 32 years of age, a farm hand employed on the estate of which the supposed victim of the murder was care-keeper. Furthermore, the police in searching the Breakhart Hill farmhouse, where the men live, found in the barn cellar an axe which bore bloodstains, but it is not certain they are of human blood; similar stains on a is wife to Wiscasset, Maine, she having left the house, it is asserted, because of a disagreement with Bailey. Be-side this bridge, about 10 o'clock this morning, was found floating a gunny bag, which held the trunk of a man. Late in the afternoon two other bags of similar material were grappled up and each contained a missing leg. The head and arms are still missing. Medical Examiner Pinkham held an autopsy, finding that the murderer had terribly hacked the body in his efforts to decapitate and denude it. The weapon used was, apparently, a heavy of the neck and to assist in crushing the femure of the legs.

It is judged that a weapon of large calibre was used and in the Breakheart Hill farmhouse was found a 44 calibre telling the whole truth. There was an

There is some doubt as to how long the body has been in the pond. The meditire engineering staff of the department of the interest product with the Gilbert Dredging Company began in 1892, was signed by Mr. Haggart, had the endorsement of the entire engineering staff of the department of railways and canals, and had merely been continued by Mr. Blair.
