Bowel Troubles

Liver pills, cathartics, mineral waters, often make Constipation worse. They merely irritate the bowels and force them to move—stop taking purgatives and the bowels become "tight" again.

"Fruit-a-Lives" are the one certain cure for Constipation because their action is upon the liver. "Fruit-a-Lives" are a laxative. They stimulate the secretions of bile by the liver, this bile causes the stool to move in the natural, regular way and completely cures Constipation.

"Fruit-a-Lives" are fruit juices with a touch of astringent added. In "Fruit-a-Lives" one atom of sweet in the fruit juices is followed by a new compound which is many times more active, medicinally, than the fruit juices could possibly be. Soc. a-bottle $2.50 for 6 boxes. At all dealers.

LIKELY A POSTPONEMENT IN EMMERSON-CROCKETT TRIAL

(Continued from page 1.) present. If they could not do so it would have been only courtesy to have intimated to him. He submitted that his learned friend could there expecting to ask for an adjournment and it would have been only courtesy to have told him.

Dr. Pugsley said he couldn't understand why his learned friend brought his witnesses before the case had even gone to the grand jury and issues were joined. No commission could have been applied for till the case was at issue. No intimation would suffer by an adjournment. The question of law to be decided was of the greatest importance and as the representative of the crown he asked the judge to adjourn till the middle of September.

His honor said while he had given his opinion on the defendant's plea and the question of law raised was shared by the court. He foresaw also that a postponement might be necessary to secure witnesses.

Dr. Pugsley said he would have advised earlier the first thing in the morning.

His honor replied he would give his final decision as to the commission and with regard to reference to the full bench after he had seen the affidavits in the morning, court then adjourned.

MORNING SESSION. The case of the King v. Jas. H. Crockett was resumed in the circuit court this morning before Judge Landry.

The crown counsel submitted a demurrer to the defendant's plea and the attention of the court all morning. After closing several authorities in support of his argument, Mr. White said he did not deny the right of the press to criticize the acts of public men, but who they attacked the private life of a public man they went beyond the limit of the law, unless they could show that it was in the public interest. He cited authorities to show that it was a question for the judge to decide whether or not the particular topic discussed was for the public benefit. It may be true, said the counsel, that some members of parliament have some short comings in private life, but that did not justify a newspaper in attacking and holding him up to ridicule. It is true that what takes place in parliament might be a subject for fair comment by newspapers, but it does not justify a newspaper in bringing into discussion matters of fact or in enlarging upon what was said in parliament.

A newspaper had attacked Mr. Emmerson and not wishing to hold office with a charge of this kind hanging over his head, he resigned as a minister of the crown. Suppose that every cabinet minister was attacked in the same way, how could the government of the country be carried on?

The law certainly did not allow seditious publications of that nature. He held that parliament was supreme on all matters affecting the conduct of its members. Mr. White's argument was an able one from a legal standpoint and was followed with the closest interest.

Mr. Barry, who followed his colleague in concluding his speech, said that it was the first time in the history of the province that a plea of this nature had been entered in a defamatory libel suit.

In conclusion he said that if the defendant's plea was thrown over it would preclude the defence from offering any evidence to justify the libelous article.

Mr. Hazen replied on behalf of the defendant contending that the plea was in accordance with the law as laid down for such cases and should be admitted by the court. He intimated that if court decided against his client he would amend the plea.

Dr. Pugsley replied to Mr. Hazen and has not finished when court took recess for luncheon.

FOUR ITALIANS SHOCKED TO DEATH

Were Moving Steel Boiler Which Came in Contact With Electric Light Wires—Two Others Unconscious.

New York, June 20.—Four Italian laborers were shocked to death and two others were injured tonight when a steel boiler which the men were moving on a flat car came in contact with a group of electric light wires in the yards of the Proctor and Gamble soap manufacturing at Mariners Harbor, Staten Island.

The boiler was being transferred from one building to another over the yard railway that led between two poles and under the wires of Richmond Light and Railway Company. Seven Italians composed the moving gang. Four of them were pushing with bare hands against the boiler, while the others held their hands on the wooden truck of the car. They failed to observe that the stack towering high above the boiler would not clear the wires above and pushed their load against the obstruction. As the stack touched the wires seven of the ten snapped, while 5,000 volts of electricity passed through the boiler, against which the hands of the four of the men were pressed. These men dropped dead.

Dangling ends of the broken wires struck two other men, hurling them senseless to the ground. Late tonight they had not recovered consciousness. The seventh escaped injury. The two foremen in charge of the yard work were arrested.

SUES POSTMASTER FOR MISSING $1,000

Nothing in Envelope, Supposed to Contain Deposit, that Reached Ottawa and Department Brings Suit for Double the Amount.

Montreal, June 20.—A novel suit was instituted in the superior court here today at the instance of the postmaster general, Lemuieux, the action being taken against Frederic Courtemanche, postmaster at Chamby canton, to recover $1,000, being the amount of a deposit now missing, which was supposed to have been sent through the mails and $1,000 additional in the way of a penalty as provided by the statutes governing the postal service.

On March 15 Charles Girard, of Chamby canton, placed $1,000 in the hands of the local postmaster to be deposited in the P. O. Savings Bank. Courtemanche forwarded the usual report to the government and claims that he sent the deposit with him, an adjustment of the difficulties between the Western Union Telegraph Co. and its operators has been reached and there will be no strike. This morning Col. R. C. Clowry, president of the Western Union Telegraph Co., addressed a letter to Mr. Neill outlining the position of his company, and this is a mutually satisfactory solution to all parties concerned.

WILLIAM PUGSLEY

of counsel with His Majesty.

Dated June 20, A. D. 1907.

Mr. Hazen said he had not received a copy of the demurrer until this morning and would therefore be justified in asking for an adjournment. He was ready to go on.

Dr. Pugsley remarked that Mr. Hazen did not have his plea ready at the opening of the court and the crown counsel offered no comment on the matter.

Mr. White made the opening argument in support of the demurrer. He read from the indictment to show that the Gleazer article intimated that Mr. Emmerson had been ejected from more than one hotel in connection with women of ill repute and pointed out that the plea only stated that he had been ejected from the St. Lawrence Hall. There was some doubt as to what was meant by the intimation of ill repute. It might mean a woman who was an inmate of a house of prostitution or it might mean a woman—Dr. Pugsley—"Who plays bridge."

Mr. White also pointed out that the plea did not set forth that Mr. Emmerson had been associating with women of ill repute, neither were there any facts set forth to show wherein the publication was for the public good.

HAVE BOUGHT 38 FINE HORSES

Hon. L. P. Farris Home After Trip to England, Scotland and France

Speaking to a Telegraph reporter in the Royal Hotel Thursday, Hon. Mr. Farris said he was well pleased with the result of the trip. Though they had to pay pretty high prices for the horses purchased, they would be found fine animals. They bought thirty-eight in all—twenty-four Clydesdale fillies from two to four years old, two Clydesdale stallions, ten Percheron fillies and two French coach fillies. The fillies averaged $800 each, one of the stallions cost $1,000 and the other $500. The latter he declared the finest ever imported into Canada and that all are superior to any ever brought to New Brunswick. The Percherons and French coach horses, in France. Prices were high, he said, because many horses are being shipped to Argentina, Australia and other lands. His selection, Messrs. Farris and King were assisted by Robert Ness, of Quebec, an expert judge of horses, who was over on a buying trip for himself.

SHEEP TOO HIGH; NONE PURCHASED

Will Be Bought in Upper Canada—Horses Are Clydesdales, Percherons and French Coach, and Will Be Brought Across by Ora P. King, M. P., on the Athenia.

Mr. Farris returned Thursday from England and France, where he and Ora P. King, M. P. of Sussex, went as a commission from the local government to purchase horses for the improvement of the stock in this province. Thirty-eight in all were bought in Scotland, the Percherons and French coach horses, and two French coach fillies. The fillies averaged $800 each, one of the stallions cost $1,000 and the other $500. The latter he declared the finest ever imported into Canada and that all are superior to any ever brought to New Brunswick. The Percherons and French coach horses, in France. Prices were high, he said, because many horses are being shipped to Argentina, Australia and other lands. His selection, Messrs. Farris and King were assisted by Robert Ness, of Quebec, an expert judge of horses, who was over on a buying trip for himself.

Mr. Farris said they intended to also buy a number of sheep but gave up the idea because they were so dear and it was too early in the season; lambs were too young and very high and they decided that they could buy better in Ontario or Quebec and that would be done and the sheep sold at some of the New Brunswick exhibitions.

Mr. Farris and Mr. King visited England, Scotland and France but confined themselves chiefly to places to which their business brought them. They spent ten days in France and, though within four days' journey of England, they did not see the attractions of Paris to lure them there. Mr. Farris came in the steamer Empress of Britain, reaching North Sydney Thursday.

He enjoyed the trip greatly and had no regret to come to the pleasure of the returning home. The season in England and Scotland, he says, is very backward, cold in England and cold and extremely wet in Scotland.
