BRITISH STAGE FOLK IN DIVORCE COURT

Old Question of Environment Is Much Discussed.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—The many names of actors and actresses which appear in the present divorce court list has again aroused widespread discussion of the question whether the life and requirements of the theatrical profession tend to destroy the possibility of ideal domestic happiness.

On the list is the undivorced actress, Lady Paget, sister of Lord Anglessey. Lady Paget was Miss Olive May, a Gaiety actress. Miss May (Mrs. J. W. W. Leede) is bringing an action for restitution of conjugal rights. Miss May married Max Leeds, the actor, Miss Lily St. John (Mrs. L. Gran) has entered a petition for divorce from her husband, Major Tryggve Gran, the Norwegian explorer, who was the first airman to fly across the North Sea. Miss Muriel Pratt (Mrs. Bridges-Adams), the actress, is petitioning for the nullification of her marriage to W. Bridges-Adams, the producer of Shakespearean plays.

Miss Margaret Bannerman (Mrs. M. Holme-Sumner) is asking for a judicial separation from her husband, known on the stage as Pat Somers. They were married in 1919 while acting together in "Three Wise Fools."

SPEAKER OF ONTARIO LEGISLATURE IS NOT AFRAID OF PRECEDENT

TORONTO, Feb. 17.—Hon. Nelson Parlman, Speaker of the Ontario Legislature, is not at all frightened by the bogey of precedent. When a proposition appeals to him he goes right ahead, indifferent to the protests of scandalized respecters of customs, who assure him that "it has not been done." For years a legislature was not properly equipped unless it had a number of members who were jumping school and earning an honest dollar or two on the side. Educationists have protested regularly and this year Mr. Speaker has put out a ban on boys of compulsory school age.

Up to the present a number of lads ranging in age from 14 to 19 have been engaged to act as pages, and these will do work that was divided among 21 boys last year.

YOUTH IS GIVEN BENEFIT OF DOUBT

SARNIA, Feb. 17.—Given the benefit of reasonable doubt, Harry E. Taylor, aged 17, was discharged by Judge Albert E. Taylor in the county court today on charges of attempting to break into the grocery of Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson. Buchanan was sent up for trial by Police Magistrate Gordon, and has been in jail since that time. In discharging the accused, Judge Taylor pointed out that identification of a boy of this age was difficult, particularly at night. In expressing the hope that this would be a lesson to the defendant, he declared that the wave of crime which has been sweeping the country appeared to be performed mostly by youths of the age of the accused.

"I don't know whether it is caused by unemployment or not, but it is being done by boys of your age," said the judge.

WOMAN GIVES OOP A REAL SCARE

KITCHENER, Feb. 17.—Stepping up to a policeman on King street today and drawing a 48 Colt revolver from her muff, an innocent-looking woman caused considerable excitement for a few minutes, and incidentally gave the police a fright. She neglected to explain her position to the officer before pulling the weapon. She merely wanted him to direct her to police headquarters so she could obtain a license for the possession of the revolver in the house. She thought she had to bring the gun with her and produced it, too.

OBJECT TO MERGER.

KITCHENER, Feb. 17.—At a special meeting today of the Light company it was decided to memorialize the Government in connection with a request to turn down the petition of the city for special legislation creating a public utilities commission. Both the light commission and the water commission object to the merger that will result if the legislation goes through.

NAVIGATION OPENS IN BLINDING STORM

SARNIA, Feb. 17.—Navigation officially opened on the St. Clair river today in a blinding snow storm, when a small tugboat and anchor opposite this port and commenced operations for the season. According to officials, this is the earliest that boats have started work for a number of years. The river being free from ice, it is expected that a fleet of the boats will shortly commence operations.

KEPT PRESS OUT OF SARNIA MEETING

SARNIA, Feb. 17.—The city council held an informal and strictly private three-hour session today for the discussion of it is said, of several important matters of policy and business now pending. The press was excluded. Aldermen interviewed declined to divulge the purport or outcome of the caucus stating that it would be announced in due time. None of the civic officials were in attendance, and no official minutes were taken. It is expected that any action decided upon will probably be announced at the regular meeting on Monday next.

BUILDING BRICK AT SARNIA. SARNIA, Feb. 17.—The register of Building Inspector Walton shows the issuance of 42 permits to date this year of a total value of $33,670. This is an unusually good record for winter, when building operations are usually at their lowest point.

JUDGE DROUIN RESIGNS. QUEBEC, Feb. 17.—Hon. Justice Drouin of the superior court has sent in his resignation to the department of justice, Ottawa, and said that he had reason to believe that it had been accepted. Hon. Judge Drouin will leave for Florida, where he will spend some time with his family.

JEWELRY IS STOLEN. MONTREAL, Feb. 17.—Nearly $10,000 worth of diamonds and jewelry was stolen last evening from the home of Mrs. D. C. Macarow, Peel street. Mrs. Macarow, after returning from being out during the afternoon, left her jewelry in a small box on her dressing table and did not wear it down to dinner. Afterwards, however, she went to get her ring, but discovered the box empty. Mrs. Macarow is the wife of a prominent banker.

Warns Drury Government To Go Slow

HON. THOMAS CRAWFORD, M.P.P., former Speaker of the Ontario Legislature, who told the Ontario ministry to be careful it does not endanger international relations by its effort to have the British embargo on Canadian cattle removed.

INSTINCTS.

Little by little we are learning to understand children to deal with them in the light of that understanding rather than by instinct or impulse. Our true, natural instincts in the treatment of children are right, but they have been so overlaid by custom, tradition and selfishness that it is no longer possible to be sure of them, and it is necessary to seek knowledge to replace and fortify what we call our instincts and common sense.

A baby comes into the world with a number of instincts—tendencies toward action which he will certainly follow unless checked by outside influences.

These instincts are his inheritance from thousands of years, and while they may be warped and thwarted, they cannot be killed. They may be guided to good or evil, but somehow, somewhere, some time, they will find a way out into expression.

The whole problem of education is to deal with the expression of these instincts, to give them such an outlet from that little bundle of helpless flesh, as it grows, that the man or woman who emerges from it shall be able to live a whole life, for himself and for others. Roughly, the human instincts, those with which all normal children are born, may be classed as: the two instincts of the body, activity and investigation; the five instincts of the mind, power, love, continuity, justice and recognition; and the two instincts of the soul, reverence and intuition. These nine instincts, when they have the right chance, develop in the child his muscles and his senses; his emotions, affections, reason, fair mindedness and will, and his devotion and faith.

As soon as a baby can use his muscles and his senses he begins to develop his instincts. It is his environment and training at the hands of his parents during the early years which do most to determine that development. We cannot create nor destroy instincts; we can only guide them into right or wrong channels.

WILL ERECT CHURCH.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 17.—The Sixth Avenue Methodist Church board plans to erect the first memorial church in Canada, at a cost of $150,000. The names of 59,000 Canadians who died in the war will be inscribed in a huge book of brass leaves.

NEW SECRETARY FOR THE COLONIES

LONDON, Feb. 17.—The Colonial Office has announced that Mr. J. H. Thomas, formerly of the War Office, has been appointed to the post of secretary to the committee on the colonies.

FEARS TOY CANNON MIGHT CAUSE WAR

LONDON, Feb. 17.—"The mother who gives her boy a toy cannon on his birthday anniversary may be the cause of another European war."

This, at any rate, is one of the theories advanced by Miss Margaret Bondfield, one of the leaders of woman suffrage and lately the defeated candidate for Parliament from Northampton.

"If the mother would only realize her immense influence and become acutely conscious of her responsibilities she might avert the whole attitude of humanity."

"There are a few mothers who are aware of this. You won't find them giving toy soldiers to their children or rushing with them to the window when troops march past or allowing books that glorify war to lie about the house."

"They realize the intimate connection between the nursery and the future. They know that their children will make the future. They know, too, that it depends largely upon the mother whether they make it well or badly."
