STORM WINDOWS GLAZED COMPLETE

Made To Your Own Sizes

Keep cold winds out. Enjoy comfort without wasting val-uable fuel. We keep windows complete to suit your open-ings. Ask for price list of Storm Windows. Safe Delivery Guaranteed

THE HALLIDAY COMPANY, LIMITED FACTORY DISTRIBUTORS

CANADA

COUNTING HEADS.

First Census by Moses in the Wilderness.

There is a record of a census in China as far back as the year 2042 B. C. and of one in Japan in the last century before Christ. Under the constitution of Solon the citizens of Athens were divided and registered in four classes, acording to the amount four classes, acording to the amount of their taxable property or income. The Roman census was burdened with more statistics than any of these, however. It had its origin under Servius Tullius, sixth king of Rome, and was an affair of much solemnity. Every citizen had to appear upon the Campus Martius and declare upon oath his name and dwelling and the value of his property under the penalty of having his goods confiscated.

The most ancient statistical record of a census is found in the Bible. The census was taken by Moses in the census was taken by Moses in the wilderness, and, as shown by the first chapter of Numbers, the enumeration must have been very simple. "Take ye," said this account,"the sum of all the congregations of the children of Israel, after their fathers, with the number of their names, every male by their polls; from twenty years old and upward, all that are able to go forth to war in Israel; thou and Aaron shall number them by their armies." This census was an affair that must have een soon over, lasting no longer than a day, being merely a counting of the heads of the fighting men. The women neads of the righting men. The women and children and cripples and the old men were not included; "neither were the Levites numbered among them." Those who did stand up to be aumbered totaled 603,550.

Costiveness and Its Cure.-When costiveness and its cure.—When the excretory organs refuse to per-form their functions properly the in-testines become clogged. This is known as costiveness and if neglected gives rise to dangerous complications gives rise to dangerous complications. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will effect a speedy cure. At the first intimation of this aliment the sufferer should procure a packet of the pills and put himself under a course of treatment. The good effects of the transfer of the publication of the procure of the publication of the publication of the procure of will be almost immediately evi

FIUME

A busy, bristling place is New Fiume, with its fine plate glass windowed stores, its noisy, money-coining factories, its Naval College, its ing factories, its Navai College, its warehouses, timber yards, oil refineries, its shipyards, and swiftly moving electric trams, which makes the lumbering ox-wagons, meandering beyond their proper sphere in the ancient precincts of the Old Town, seen curiously not a place.

cient precincts of the Old Town, seen curiously out of place.

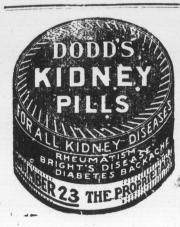

Thirty years ago the city was merely a big village, to-day the muffled clamor of thousands of hammers beats ceaselessly from its great industries, and loudest of all sound the hammers which ply in the most important of all these factories, the one which was founded, not so very many years ago by the man who as a poor years ago by the man who as a poor Lancashire grammar school boy, Lancashire grammar school boy, dreamt dreams which here came true. Whitehead perfected his torpedo invention at Fiume in 1866, when prob ably even he did not realize what a potent influence the invention would have in the world.

The great charm of a stroll through Old Fiume, of losing oneself in its tortuous byways, is that it is impossible to fortell what surprise may be in store. Now it is some bazaar scene of market, again it is some stone monument of past days, a fountain, a coat-of-arms on a dilapidated entrance door, its lovely colors— azure, vert, gold, but slightly dimmed.

azure, vert, gold, but slightly dimmed.

Over very weathered and timeravaged walls, nature has thrown an exquisitive veiling, green swaying creepers, vines, roses—dusky crimson, pink and white, which cling and tangle lovingly about the neglected masonry. Acacia trees sweep their showery perfumed sprays over each rubbish heap. Red and scarlet ger-aniums laugh from out the crannies of the gray or yellow walls, and the whole scene is flooded with stinging whole scene is flooded with stinging fortress-like in proportion, impelled by immense red sails. . . . It is easy to behold in fancy these quays as they looked when such a vessel dropped anchor in Rjeka's watershed, and formed a med a rallying point for of smaller galleys. Beautiful and wonderful is the road which winds like a ribbon up the side of the gorge of the Ricina through which the river froths fresh from its which the river from the source in the Karst Mountains...

It is well named "The Gateway of Hungary"... Up—up twists the path, here and there zigzagging beneath and around almost perpendicular rocks, here and there branching off into hywwys localization. lar rocks, here and there branching off into by-ways leading to far-off hill villages. The lapis lazuli sea, studded with pearly islands, lies simmering, heaving, slumbering, hundreds of feet below. And, likt so many wind-drifted, scarlet pimpernels, the stay the bests rock aimlessly many wind-drifted, scarlet symptotics, the tiny fishing boats rock aimlessly up and down awaiting the expected afternoon breeze. The sun heat is drooping down on the world the symptotic heat is drooping down on the worm with a glitter . . The town with its red tiled roofs and white walled buildings is stilled. Behind the rose entwined walls of the gardens, bees are humming, grasshoppers are chirping, and the fields are starred with flowers. White villas cuddle close flowers. White villas cuddle close to the hillside, scarcely visible among billows of a thousand hued blossoms -their whiteness : trongly contrasting with the flaming geranium creepers. Luxuriant vines interlace the trees and fall in wreaths from the tips of and fall in wreaths from the tips of the branches. Like a white eagle on a mountain crag, the old fortress home of Fiume's ancient chieftains gazes down on the passing ships and passing years.—The Right Hon. W. F. Bailey, C. B.

Mothers can easily know when their children are troubled with worms and they lose no time in applying the best of remedies—Mother Worm Exterminator.

FRENCH DELEGATES.

How They Were Treated by Germans in 1871.

The peevish and querulous whin-ings of the German delegates at Vermost courteously managed precau-tions of the French against either their molestation or their abuse of their privileges, suggest a striking contrast to the way in which a French delegate was treated by the Germans in that same city less than half a century ago.

It was in the "terrible year," in January, 1871. The invading Ger-mans occupied Versailles and weve besieging Paris. The French Govern-ment, a fugitive from its own capital, had assembled at Tours, and realizing the futility of further resistance and wishing to spare the women and children of Paris from the starvation which the Germans were imposing upon them, sent one of its most distinguished members to Versailles to treat with Bismarck for the surrender of the city. That envoy was Jules

When it was known to the Germans that Mr. Favre was coming, Bismarck entrusted the reception and care of him to a person sealed Stieber—his real name is unknown. This man was one of the most active and most unscrupulous members of the German secret police. Bismarck called him the "King of the Sleuth-hounds." It was Stieber who, at Bismarck's authorization, had con-nived at and, indeed, practically ar-ranged for the attempted assassination of the Czar, Alexander II., at Longchamps, when he was visiting Pa is on the occasion of the World's Fair in 1867. Bismarck wanted to estrange France and Russia, so that there would be no danger of Russia's intervening in 'the war of conques which he was already planning against France, and he felt sure that nothing could estrange them more effectively than to have an attack made upon the Czar's life while he was the guest of France. So he had Stieber let a Polish boy fire a pistol at the Czar, taking care to be him-self at the lad's elbow and deflect his aim, and then to have a German officer seize him. Thus the odium of failing to safeguard the Czar fell upon France, and the credit of saving his life and of arresting his would-be slayer was won by Germany.

It was this Stieber, then, who was entrusted by Bismarck with the en-tertainment of Mr. Favre. When the French statesman reached the Sevres Bridge at Versailles he was met by Bridge at Versailles he was met by Stieber and was taken in a carriage driven by one of Stieber's aides to No. 3 Boulevard du Roi. This hotel was the headquarters of the German secret police and was exclusively occupied by them, a fact which, of course, was congealed from Mr. Favre. The manager was one Kaltenbach, a lieutenant of police and Stieber's right-hand man, who welcomed Mr. ight-hand man, who welcomed Mr. right-hand man, who welcomed Mr. Favre and pretended to be a patriotic Frenchman, who was overjoyed at being privileged to entertain the representative of the French Govern-

Mr. Favre all during his stay was Mr. Favre all during his stay was lodged in a room on the second floor which had been occupied by Kaltenbach himself. A valet was assigned to his exclusive service, who brought his meals to him in his room, brushed and pressed his clothes, and waited on him in all respects most dilion him in all respects most dili-gently. This valet, who also pretend ed to be a loyal Frenchman, was none other than Stieber himself, who took care to examine the contents of Mr. Favre's pockets, ransack his trunk, read al! his correspondence, and even in conversation endeavor to worm out of him all possible infor-mation.

was the German method of entertaining a distinguished diplo-matic envoy, as practised under the direction of Otto von Bismarck

ODD POULTRY RUN.

On Roof Within 300 Yards of Big Ben.

Within 300 yards of Big Ben, London, is a thriving poultry farm. It occupies no ground space, which might be used either for public recreation or for housing, for it is situated on the roof of the large premises of the Institute of Civil Engineers. It comprises 36 fowls of various breeds. comprises 36 fowls of various breede-as well as 200 odd rabbits—and its owner, Mr. A. W. Thomson, claims that it is one of the best possible investments as well as a source of nev

-ending pleasure.

The fowls are housed in three spaci-The fowls are housed in three spaci-ous coops, sheltered from bleak winds and open to all the sunshine possible, but during the greater part of the day the birds are allowed to roam about the roof at will. Although the coping is low—not more than 18in. at most— none of the fowls has yet attempted to go over the top. The boldest of the hens contents herself with balancing precariously on the edge during a precariously on the edge during a high wind and calmly viewing the 100ft. drop below.

The egg-laying activity of the fowls is remarkable, for since the farm was established a year ago, with a con-siderably smaller number of birds. an average throughout the year of 60 eggs per week has been maintain-ed, rising in the season to well over 100 per week. The air of Westminster seems to suit the hens, for they all work exceedingly hard in egg-laying.

Relieves Asthma at Little Expense. Thousands of dollars have been vain-ly spent upon remedies for asthma and seldom, if ever, with any relief. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy, despite its assurance of benefit, costs so little that it is within reach of all It is the national remedy for asthma far removed from the class of doubt-ful and experimental preparations Your dealer can supply it.

Hot Breads Easily Made

Now that the cool days are here we can indulge in hot bread once more. There is no one who knows how to make more kinds of muffins, biscuits, waffles and hot cakes than the south erners, who serve one or two or three of them at every meal. Their spoon bread is very good to serve as a substitute for potatoes. Bring a pint of milk to a boil, and stir in a cup of cornmeal and a teaspoonful of sait. look for five minutes, then stir in two tablespoonfuls of batter, a half a cup of cold milk and two well-beaten eggs. Then add a second cup of cold milk, gradually beating all the time, and bake in a well-buttered baking dish. Serve in the same dish.

SALLY LUNN.

two cups of flour, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful salt and two rounding ablespoonfuls of sugar together. Rub in two rounding tablespoonfuls of shortening, add three-fourths of a cup of milk, and one egg, or two, if you can spare them, without beating it. Beat until you have a good smooth batter. Bake in muffin pans or in a sheet and cut in squares while hot. This is very nice with a cup of blue-berries or blackberries well floured, stirred in just before putting into the

CINNAMON BUNS

Sift two cups of flour with two heaping tablespoonfuls of baking pow-der and half a teaspoonful of salt. Rub in two tablespoonfuls of shorten-ing. Beat an egg until light, add half a cup of milk and pour into the Mix to a soft dough. Roll out one-third of an inch thick, spread with cinnamon and sugar and few chopped raisins. Roll up like jelly roll, cut into sliges about an inch thick, lay in a well-buttered tin and bake in a quick oven. These are very good with apple sauce for a heavy des-

FRIED BREAD.

Beat an egg until light, add half a cup of milk and one and a third cups of flour, a third of a cup of sugar, two and a half teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a fourth of a spoonful of salt, sifted together. Then add a teaspoonful of melted shortening.

Drop by the spoonful into a kettle of hot fat and try a golden brown. Send to the table at once and eat while hot. TEA MUFFINS.

Delicious tea muffins can be made by using one's favorite recipe for muf-fins and adding chopped nuts, Canton ginger or chopped dates. Little hot blscuits to serve with salad are made of baking powder biscuit batter, rolling thinner than usual, cutting out in tiny circles, putting a thin slice of cheese on ice, covering it with a second circle, and baking in a hot oven.

Nations' Religious Beliefs.

The German prevailing religious belief is Lutheran. The Church of England prevails in Great Britain, known more familiarly in the States as the Episcopolian. However, all churches are accepted in England now, Belgium France and Italy are Catholic in tend-

Dr. Martels Female Pills For Womens Ailments

 LOBSTER RECIPES

With October comes the lobster and from this time forward until May is in primest condition. There are so many lobster lovers that demand for years past has been largely in excess of supply. There is danger of exhaustion. Both in American and European waters the lobster fishers complain of growing scarcity. Yet following directions for taking lobster meat from the single and for after preparation for the table will be found trustworthy by housewives:

First break off all the claws and remove the tail. Then split the body through the centre, and take out the soft, green, creamy mass which forms its beautiful red coloring, saving, both. The shomach is under the head and this should be thrown away. Cut the tail shell open and take out the meat in one piece; split this piece open, and the intestinal canal, which runs its entire length, will be found. This canal, the stomach and the sponny portions between the body and shell are not used. Crack all the claws and remove the meat.

STEWED LOBSTER. Cut out the lobster meat into very small pieces, but do not mince it. Season it with a little powdered nutmeg, a few blades of mace, a dash of cayenne and salt to taste. Mix with it one-fourth of a pound of butter cut in small bits and half a cup of lemon juice added to one cup of cold water. Put all together into a saucepan and let it stew gently for 20 minutes, keeping the pan closely covered lest the flavor should evaporate. Serve it very hot.

Well whisk the yolks of two eggs in a bowl, add a pinch of dry mustard and a little salt, then add, a little at a time atternately, half a pint of olive oil and a gill of lenon juice or vinegar, stirring constantly. Wash nice lettuce leaves carefully, and drain them on a clean towel. Tear them into nice-sized pieces, and arrange neatly in a salad bowl in a small-heap, spread some of the mayonnaise over it, then lay on the top nice-sized pieces of lobster meat, and pour over all the remainder of the mayonnaise. Garnish with thin slices of hard-boiled eggs and the powdered coral. Keep very cold until serving time. MAYONNAISE OF LOBSTER.

LOBSTER BAKED IN THE SHELL. LOBSTER BAKED IN THE SHELL.
After removing the meat from a boiled tobster, put it in a saucepan with one gill of cream or rich milk, seasoning to taste, and a dessertspoon of butter rolled in a dessertspoon of flour; stir it to keep from oiling, and when all the ingredients are well mixed, pour them into the lobster shell and bake in the oven until of a light brown color. Serve hot.

TRAINED BULLFINCHES.

Singing "God Bless the Prince of Wales."

British dealers complain that the upply of piping builfinches-birde that can whistle a tune, or some bars of a tune—has been entirely cut off. The demand for these songsters came almost exclusively from Britain, and before the war they were "made in Germany" in large numbers and imported into this country. Tailors, cobblers, and others who sit for long hours at their work, in the villages of Bayaria and the Hartz Mountains, are the chief instructors.

The birds are taken from the nest

The birds are taken from the nest when quite young—before they are fully fledged—and are carefully reared by hand. The tune desired must be whistled over and over again, that and nothing else, till the bird, omay suppose, in sheer desperation, sets up a rival piping.

"God Save the King," and "God Bless the Prince of Wales," were the tunes most generally taught, and as much as £7 7s would be paid for a really accomplished bullfinch for the British market.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

GOLD NUGGETS MARC AURELE'S SUPPOSI-

TORIES AND SUPPORTERS
The most scientific and successful Home
Treatment ever offered SUFFERING WOMEN. Quick relief from inflammation, bearing down sensations, falling or displacement of internal organs, backache, extreme nervousness and such FEMALE TROUBLES, in the privacy of your home. Dr. Marc Aurele's book on Women's aliments sent FREE, enclose three stamps for postage. HOME TREATMENT REMEDY CO.

Box 125 H. Windsor, Ont.

Vice-President of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange Talks.

THE SITUATION OVER THERE

You may have heard of the Liverpool riots. I came through Liverpoo on Sunday. On Saturday night crowd raided some of the best stores in Liverpool. One gang knocked in the windows of the best stores—and another gang handed out the contents. They appeared to favor three classes of stores—jewelers, clothing and boots. They handed the stuff out, and divided it up on the spot. I saw what I never believed I should live to - 1 saw a British cruiser and a destroyer moored in the Mersey protect the Liverpool docks and wharves, and there were said to be fifty-three steamers which could not pe moved, not counting our own.

What is the situation over there? One can describe it in a few words. For a long while the people were told that they would get back from Germany and Austria a great part, if not the whole of their war expendi-ture by way of indemnity, and they were told that they would get back the money which they had loaned to Russia. Now the hope of getting a large indemnity is fading, and as the British troops leave Russia and the revolutionaries win, the hope of getting back their money from Russia is also fading. Meanwhile the govern-ment expenditure is enormous. First of all. Britain has a national debt today of somewhere over 8,000 million pounds sterling—an appalling amount. Second Britain still has an enormous military expenditure. The British Government increased the pay of the soldiers and sailors; they have large military forces on the Rhine; they had armies in Russia and Mesopotamia; they had an expensive programme for air fleets, and their pension scheme meant an expenditure of ninety-six million pounds

Third, after the war broke out the British Government adopted a policy of subsidizing, and the subsidies paid have run into enormous figures. The railways were not paying, so the government subsidized them. The canals were not paying, so the government subsidized them. The telephone subsidized them the su ernment substitute them. The tele-phone system was not paying, so the government subsidized it. They sub-sidized the farmers for growing wheat and the millers for cheap flour. They subsidized the coal miners; they subsidized the unemployed munition workers. Fourth, in addition to pay-ing the ordinary expenditure the government has entered upon an ernment has entered upon an ac-vanced programme of legislation, which also called for considerable sums of money. The net result is that the British government is spending about four million pounds sterling a day in comparison with less than half a million pounds a day in 1913. And the government has now to raise each year a larger sum of money than the whole of the national debt of the United Kingdom in 1913. What is the other side of the story? It is this in a word, that their exports are crippled. They cannot or will not get the output, and in many lines they can no longer compete in the cost of production with countries like the United States and Japan. The crippling of their exports is the worst feature of the picture, and the finish-ing touch is this, that they have floodthat the people are spending it with an extravagance not exceeded in New York and Chicago. What is the re-York and Chicago. What is the result? It is this from a financial poin of view, that revolution has reached England. It is not waiting to get there; it is there, and the only question is how it will end. Men who subscribed to the war loans—manufacturers, merchants, etc., are talking about giving back their bonds as a free gift to the country. That itself is an indication of the seriousness of the financial condition. Better than that, however, is this—they are trying to revive the ancient spirit of the people. Now that they know that the ymay get very little indemnity, and now that they know that they may get anything from Russia, they falling back upon the resource that promises most—they are appeal-ing to the old dogged British spirit of sitting tight, living cheap and working hard—the spirit that has not failed them in a thousand years of history. Let us hope that they will win.

For Asthma and Catarrh.—It is one of the chief recommendations of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil that it can be used internally with as much success as it can outwardly. Sufferers from asthma and catarrh will find that the Oil when used according to directions will give immediate relie? Many sufferers from these ailments have found relief in the Oil and have sent testimonials.

GERMANY PLOTS

View in London of Campaign in Russia.

Seen as Test Case for Nations League.

London cable: The coincidence of the League of Nations Union holding a meeting in London at the same time the Berlin Government was holding another meeting to consider a stern note from the Supreme Council regarding the steps to be taken if General von der Goitz did not withdraw hns army from the Baltic Provinces, is giving rise to considerable irony in giving rise to considerable irony in the British press, which declares it is a test case for the League of Nations, the only foundation for which is the good will and confidence of the people of the world.

Both London and Provincial papers declare that Germany's only hope of regaining sufficient strength for a future war of revenge lies in the exploimany succeeds in her plan, she will gain in the east more than she has lost in the west. By dominating the Baltic Provinces she will have Poland at her mercy, with access to unlimited supplies of raw material.

As the problem is viewed here, ft is not even a matter for speculation as to whether Germany intends to prepare for another war, but only as to how long it will take her to regain her Supporters of the League strength. of Nations accept this as a truism, but use it as an argument to justify a strong League of Nations.

There is even a note of regret heard over the final withdrawal of the last of the British forces from Archangel who left Murmansk Sunday, because those who advocated the support of the anti-German frees in Russia fore saw just such a move as Von der Goltz attempted. A man who has just left Germany after making a close study of the German Government, declared to-day that the great majority of the German people earnestly desire the rehabilitation of the Kaiser.

High Priced Strad.

The war does not seem to have affected the high prices of representative Cremona violins, although many English owners have sold their instruments in order to give money realized to patriotic purposes. Messrs. George Hart & Son, of 28 Wardour setrect. London, Eng., report that they, sold recently a well-preserved Stradivarius for two thousand guineas. It is a choice specimen of the maker, and is dated, 1702.

DISAPPEARING HAIR. (London Blighty.)

"I think the baby has your hair ma'am," said the new nurse, looking pleasantly at her mistress, "Graciour!" exclaimed the lady, glancing up from the novel. "Run into the nursery and take it away from her. She

VOODOOISM RULES HAYTI

Natives in Many Sections Revert to Savagery.

Poverty of the People is Appalling.

New York Sun: That demon wor-New York Sun: That demon worship is practised within the circle waose circumterence would mark the fifth postal-zone from New York city; that within the same zone a spool of thread can be bought only at the price of a week's wages, and that a republic is under martial law with a United States army officer as Governor-General and a force of marines patrolling it and offering the native gendarmerie—these are facts which may have escaped the notice of the casual newspaper reader.

casual newspaper reader.

The outlaws who have spread their terrorism throughout the islands are terrorism throughout the islands are chiefly escaped convicts or negroes under indictment for arson, murder or other crimes of violence. The island is populated by about two million negroes, or an average of 146 to the square mile, and on account of the long continued brigandage the entire indication and correlations are supplied.

industrial and agricultural system of the country have been disarranged. How far some of these people nave lapsed into the savagery of the Afri-can jungle and how completely the veneer of French civilization that they had before the uprising of the slaves threw off the French domination is indicated in Mr. Shaw's letters.

"One of the American road engineers," he writes, "found the natives doing a little work digging into some doing a little work digging into some clay and coral. Finally they said it could not be dug. He promply broke it up with a charge of dynamite, although he could see no necessity for it. "Then the real reason for the natives' hesitancy was revealed. The blast uncovered a cave in which wtre two snakes twelve feet long, which the Voodoo priest, a clever blackmaller, had been in the habit of worshiping. He had threatened the blacks with divers horrors if they worked around the cave.

blacks with divers horrors if they worked around the cave.

"The engineer had some intelligent Jamaicans in his gang who had no fear of the Voodoo priest and who promptly killed the snakes. The engineer and the priest held a conference. The priest wanted to save his face among his followers, so he told the engineer that if the latter would put a little curve in the road so that it would bear some similitude to a snake he would make things right with the negroes so that they would go to work again.

go to work again.
"The curve was duly made until the

"The curve was duly made until the Haytains were past the place and then the Jamaicans were sent back to straighten it out."

This strange fand is Hayti. A glance at the map will show one that Hayti occupies he western four-elevenths of a large island lying directly between Cuba and Porto Rico. In spite of its proximity to these islands its own state is in some sections practically savage and primitive.

ISLAND IN REIGN OF TERROR

ISLAND IN REIGN OF TERROR

F. Houston-Shaw, a Y.M.C.A. secretary sent to Hayti to carry on welfere work among the United States marines and bluejackets stationed there, has sent back some interesting reports concerning conditions that he has encountered.

Writing a few weeks ago, Mr. Shaw said that bandits held some parts if Hayti in terror. Mails were subject to robbery and routes were suspended within thirty miles of Port au Prince and all honest cultivation or trade within thirty miles of Port au Prince and all honest cultivation or trade barred over a large area. However, he reported that the south was being rapidly cleared of brigands and under the direction of the United States forces the conditions are gradually improving improving.

VOODOO TEMPLES PLENTY "Poor as the people are, some of them play sate by paying tribute to the satanic priesthood of Voodoo and by belonging to the Christian chuhch as well. I cannot put in a letter some of the proofe of the senaral as well. I cannot put in a letter some of the proofs of the general prevalence of Voodoo worship. "It has followers, high and low, this horrible religion of fear. Voodoo temples are aplenty, with their ghastly furniture of enakes, tarantulas, vermin. They would have human sacrifices if they dared, but the military occupation prevents.

"Many of the people here-men and women—are nearly naked because there is not enough left over of their earnings to buy even a yard or two of material. Some cannot even buy, a spool of cotton wherewith to sew up the rents in their pitful rags. I know of many men who get for a know of many men who get for a week's work only two meals a day and 20 cents in cash, and a spool of thread sells for 20 cents."

Health cannot be looked for in the child that is subjected to worms, be-cause worms destroy health by creating internal disturbances that retard development and cause serious weakness. Miller's Worm Powders expel worms and are so beneficial in their action that the systems of the little sufferers are restored to health-fulness, all the discomforts and dangers of worm infection are removed. and satisfactory growth is assured.

Fire Clay Substitute.

The great registance to heat of orlinary coal ash has suggested the use of this material for fire bricks in place of fire clay. It is claimed that a suitable binder has been provided in a new process, and several thousand experimental bricks already made are being tested, both as a fireproof building material and as a furnace lining.

Chinese Logic.

A merchant of Shanghai offered five pounds of tea for $2 and ten pounds for $5. When the tourist told him that was ridiculous, the Chinese answered that the more a man buys the richer he is, and the richer he is the nore he can pay.-Boston Transcript.