International Bible Lesson for Tomorrow—Gladness of Moses—Ex. ii, 1-10.

Golden Text—"I trust you a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it."

The last lesson was "Israel in Oppression," and now comes the birth of their deliverer. To prevent their increase, Pharaoh would drown the boys like kittens. Back of Pharaoh, as back of Herod, was Satan. Would signs on their boys. How these parents planned to save their child. Do not leave all to ministers and teachers and neglect your own duties. Had Moses been nursed by an Egyptian he would have been an idolator. With what joy his mother would receive him back to her arms; so may we receive our children back from the world and also at the 7.30 p.m. service, and as his mother presented him to court as an adopted son, we may present our children as adopted into the Royal Family of God.

Paine's Celery Compound

Possesses Special Virtues and Powers For Female Health.

ALL WOMEN WHO SUFFER FROM DISEASES PECULIAR TO THEIR SEX SHOULD USE IT.

A Hamilton, Ont., Lady Whose Life was Despaired of is Made Well and Strong After Years of Suffering.

Paine's Celery Compound has stood for the test of time and experience while hundreds of other preparations are fast sinking into obscurity. Paine's Celery Compound is not a patent medicine, it is the discovery of one of the greatest and ablest physicians that ever graced the noble profession, and for this reason it is prescribed by many able doctors who recognize its worth.

Paine's Celery Compound possesses special virtues and powers for female health building. It banishes nervousness, weakness, headaches, and all the nameless ills that come to women of all ages. It gives them rosy cheeks, sparkling eyes and restores the freshness and activity of girlhood.

Miss Blake, of Hughson street, Hamilton, Ont., gives her testimony for the benefit of women who are suffering—many in silence—and earnestly looking for health and strength.

"For years I suffered much, and was under the care of doctors, who finally told me I was going into consumption. I became much worse through the use of medicines, and gave up my doctors. While in a very critical condition, not able to sleep or eat, always faint and weak, appetite and digestion bad, my system run down, and little life left in me, I commenced to use Paine's Celery Compound. After the use of one bottle I felt much relieved. I have used in all seven or eight bottles and am now a new woman, can enjoy life, and as well as I wish to be!"

Adversity is the only true balance in which to weigh friends.

Theatrical

"THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT."

TO-NIGHT.

Yesterday's London Advertiser says concerning "The House that Jack Built," which comes to the Grand Theatre this evening—

"Built for laughing purposes only," is the reason given advanced on behalf of "The House that Jack Built," and judging by the laughter at the Grand Opera House last night, Broadhurst's comedy has amply fulfilled the expectations of its creation. The story revolves around a certain Willie Slab, a paperhanger by force of circumstances, but "a plumber at heart," who has been engaged to work in a house being built by "Dr. Jack."

A wealthy, but eccentric gentleman. To him comes Sir Edward Singleton, who has seen and fallen in love with Hester, the doctor's daughter, a young woman who believes in the downright workingman and despises the aristocracy. Sir Edward, learning of her socialistic tendencies, persuades the paperhanger to pass him off as his brother and assistant, and when he makes his appearance in a workman's jacket and overalls, Hester is immediately impressed by the bearing of this magnificent specimen of American workman. Mrs. Dooley, a wealthy widow, desirous of marrying her daughter Florence to a member of the nobility, discovers that Sir Edward is there in disguise, but mistakes the genuine paper hanger for him. There are other cases of mistaken identity in the piece, a boyish suitor for Florence Dooley's hand being likewise mistaken for the baronet. A young father, his old son, the father's father, a dear little Japanese girl and a vaudeville artist, all serve to complicate matters deliciously. Mr. Geo. H. Summers, a former Toronto boy, gave comes with a cord of special scenery and with beautiful properties, so that the "Mistress Nell" that will be offered to local theatre goers will be identical the same as that for almost the entire year in that theatre in New York last season. The company will be headed by Miss Agnes Ardeck, who has been coached by Henrietta Crossman, and who scored a decided success in this play last year. Though this is the first visit of this organization here, the success of "Mistress Nell" has long ago preceded them and the opera house will undoubtedly be crowded on Thursday night. The advance sale of seats opens on Tuesday next.

THE BURNING CORD.

TORTURE SCENE FROM SCOTLAND YARD.

the role of Willie Slab, the broadly humorous conception that it required, his selection of contributions to his collection of souvenir ten-dollar bills never failed to elicit roars of laughter from his hearers. Miss St. George Hussey, no stranger to old-time theatre-goers, gave a delightful impersonation of the impressionable Mrs. Dooley. Mr. Hugh Cameron was satisfactory as the distinguished nobleman. The balance of the cast, which included Geo. Sinclair as Percy Huntington, C. F. Lorraine as Dr. Jack, S. V. Morgan as Bedford Madison, Ord Wright as Bedford Madison, Jr., Lenore Lockwood as Hester, Ethel May as Japonica, Mildred Keith as Florence, and May Ethel Courtney as Lily Linton, were all acceptable.

The specialties introduced good songs by Geo. H. Summers, C. F. Lorraine, Miss Hussey, Miss Courtney, and a dance eccentric by the latter and Mr. Summers.

FROM SCOTLAND YARD.

At the Grand on Monday night. A play teeming with sensational episodes, with thrilling climaxes, with a heart interest, and strength of that city, great enthusiasm over it, for its dealings with a local institution, and it was very popular.

The press went so far as to universally say that it was the scene of this class of drama.

The story of the play is the endeavor of a young Irish detective, Cleve Hyley to hunt down a band of bold and bad burglars. Their hall mark is seen on all the big criminal operations of the time, and the whole costabulary of the United Kingdom is at work to locate and bring to justice this band.

Cleve Hyley is not only prompted by the reward attending their capture, but also by a spirit of revenge against Fastace Lee, otherwise Captain Nero, the leader of the gang. In the end he accomplishes this purpose and as the play closes the whole gang is brought to justice.

From Scotland Yard has a large compliment of incidents characterized to excite the interest to the concert pitch. These include the robbery of the bullion car, the murder of Herbert Mason, the fight on the roof tops and the slow torture to death, in which the burning cord device is used. The play is produced with a wealth of scenery and effects.

The special company that will present "Mistress Nell" at the Grand next Thursday night has been well equipped by Maurice Campbell and comes with a cord of special scenery and with beautiful properties, so that the "Mistress Nell" that will be offered to local theatre goers will be identical the same as that for almost the entire year in that theatre in New York last season. Fashionable Cheviot Overcoats

Never, surely, did factory tailoring tread so closely on the heels of custom work as in these superfine winter coats. You haven't seen ready made garments before that had so entirely the look and manner of being made for the wearer.
