

System and thoroughness in inspection are insisted upon, the method followed being that of Virchow. As far as possible, attention is drawn to the Medical Anatomy of the thoracic and abdominal organs. In connection with this class, aided by the Professor of Medical Jurisprudence, two Coroner's Inquests will be conducted during the Session before the class, and the Medico-legal aspects of post-mortems dwelt upon.

6 Materia Medica.—[Prof. Wright.]—In this course the ordinary Medicines officinal in the British Pharmacopœia are taken up in classes according to their chief actions, and described under the various heads peculiar to Pharmacology. The Therapeutics of each are fully detailed, under the effects that follow from different doses. Those from toxic or over-doses are added, together with the mode of treatment, etc. The course is illustrated from a cabinet of the various drugs and their preparations, and the plates of Wagner, Roque, Stevenson and Churchill are also shewn. Analytical experiments with the ordinary re-agents are exhibited.

7 Theory and Practice of Medicine.—[Prof. Howard.]—While the lectures on this subject are mainly devoted to Special Pathology and Therapeutics, the department of General Pathology in this University being included in the Institutes of Medicine, no opportunity is lost of illustrating and explaining the general laws of disease. With the exception of certain affections seldom or never observed in this country, all the important diseases of the body, not described from the chairs of Surgery and Obstetrics, are discussed, and their Pathological Anatomy illustrated by the large collection of morbid preparations in the University Museum, and by fresh specimens contributed by the Demonstrator of Morbid Anatomy.

The College possess an extensive series of Anatomical plates illustrative of the histological and anatomical appearances of disease, and the wards of the General Hospital afford the lecturer ample opportunities to refer to living examples of very many of the maladies he describes and to give the results of treatment.

8 Clinical Medicine.—[Prof. Ross.]—Attendance is given in the Medical Wards of the Montreal General Hospital on three days of every week. Accurate reports of all cases are kept by duly appointed clinical clerks, and are systematically read before the class. Instruction is given by the bedside and special inducements are
