How to Please One's Readers

This is the pleasing problem continually confronting the makers of journals. The newspaper manager or editor who says "This paper is as good as it is possible to be," will never please his readers. To say that the journal can yet be improved is the way to win the further esteem of old readers and the patronage of new. That is one more reason for the success of the Monetary Times.

Every mail brings in new readers. The Monetary Times is constantly improving. Its efforts are to serve the interests of its large reading public. If it does not please you personally, drop a line and tell us why.

This journal's paid circulation is larger than that of any weekly trade newspaper in Canada, and in the middle and Western Canada its circulation is larger than the combined circulation of all other trade newspapers.
