A Steady Market

GRAIN GROWERS' GRAIN COMPANY'S OFFICE, WINNIPEG, FEB. 15, 1910

Wheat.—The situation as regards prices remains practically unchanged from our last report. The demand has been fair with export demand very light. Some freight has been booked for February-March, seaboard shipment, and in consequence of this the buyer of the freight had to come into the market and take some wheat to fill same. This has kept our market fairly steady. Old Country markets have not responded to any advance we have made during the week, although their market has also been steady. Wheat for March-seaboard shipment is in better demand than for May-June. This goes to bear out our contention that it looks as if the market will be lower in May-June than at the present time.

On the other hand, the winter wheat crop in the United States has, up to now, given promise of being exceedingly heavy, and it is quite possible that this crop may get damaged to some extent, in which case we should see higher markets for May-June. Should the crop come to maturity as it shows at the present time, prices would undoubtedly go lower. World's shipments have been large, although stocks have not increased very rapidly at our terminals. The world's visible increase during the week about a million and one-quarter bushels. The Canadian visible increase was very small indeed.

We think the market is now on a debatable ground. It might decline a few cents or it might advance, but it is our opinion we will not see very great price changes for the next two or three weeks or until something turns up to get the public in on one side of the market or the other. In the meantime we advise sales of cash wheat on all the hard spots of the market.

Oats have been rather quiet with a slow demand. Shipments have increased considerable, and it looks as if they might continue to be heavy from this on. However, prices are low in our opinion and we do not look for much change.

Barley has been very quiet with practically no demand except for odd cars on certain days.

Flax is holding steadier than formerly, and closed today at practically the same price as last week.

The price paid by retail merchants for new laid eggs hovers from 35 to 40 cents a dozen and the decline is due to the fact that receipts are much greater on account of mild weather. Quotations on choice dairy butter still remains at from 27 to 30 cents a pound.
