DUNDAS MEN IN TROUBLE.

THE TWO CAMPBELLS CAME FROM THE VALLEY CITY.

Successful Concert Given Last Evening Under the Auspices of the Citizens' Committee—Hunters Return Home.

Dundas, Nov. 13.—The concert given last evening in the Town Hall under the auspices of the Dundas Citizens' Committee was a gratifying success. The hall was completely filled by a very appreciative audience. Owen A. Smiley, the popular entertainer, furnished the greater part of the programme, and it is putting it mildly to say that he entirely fulfilled the expectations of his audience, as shown by the fact that every number was heartily cheered. Miss Myrtle Donald contributed two solos, both of which were encored. "The Song That Reached My Heart" was especially fine, not often surpassed by anything given in this place. Miss Durrant was accompanist. Thornton's orchestra was also present; in fact, nowadays, no concert of any pretensions is given without contributing very materially to its success. It gave four numbers, all of which lovers of music pronounced very fine. In opening the entertainment, G. C. Wilson, in a brief address, told the audience that the purpose of the Citizens' Committee was to improve and decorate the Dundas Park, one of the finest to be found in the country. So far $2,000 had been spent on the work, but more money was needed, and needed badly, if the committee's proposals are to be successfully carried out. The next move in the way of improving and popularizing the place was to install ample electric lights and to erect and light the old log cabin donated by Col. Grafton. Last year the ladies of the town secured for the committee $300, and he thought the gentlemen should go and do likewise, or go further and raise double the amount. Of the committee in charge, S. J. Leonard was chairman, G. C. Wilson treasurer and J. B. Fry secretary. Ernest Builder, Jacob Mallett, Thomas Enright, Wilbert Cowper, S. S. Binkley and Frank Builder returned on Wednesday evening from their deer hunting expedition to Parry Sound, bringing with them three deer, two fine bucks and a fawn. Mr. Builder lost two dogs, one an old favorite that had been six times with him on his hunting tours. The electric power was off here a good part of yesterday owing to a burn out of the electric appliances at the substation. The firemen were called out, but the building was little for them to do, as the building, floor, roof and walls are all of cement. The company's energetic action, under no trifling difficulty, had the lights ready for use during the afternoon. Two of the men mentioned in last night's Times as being cleverly captured by Harry Sayers and Arthur Robson, Howard (Cool) and John Campbell, formerly belonged to Dundas. It was their father who some months ago was found guilty of stealing brass scrap from the Bertram Tool Works. They are suspected of many petty thefts and hold-ups. John recently married into a very respectable Hamilton family.

HUMMEL CASE REOPENED.

Mr. W. A. Logie, of Chisholm & Logie, went to Toronto yesterday and secured a reopening of the alimony case of Hummel vs. Hummel, in which, on Wednesday, Mrs. Hummel was given interim alimony against her husband, Gilbert Hummel, of this city. Mr. Hummel's solicitor had not been notified that the case was to be argued on Wednesday, and therefore was not present.

TARIFF REFORM.

BALFOUR MAKES STATEMENT AT BIRMINGHAM MEETING.

Conservative Platform—Demands Preference, Protection, Broader Basis of Taxation—Leader Declares, However, That Any Duties Imposed Must be Small, and That Raw Material Must be Untouched.

London, Nov. 14.—Mr. A. Balfour aroused tremendous enthusiasm at Birmingham to-day by giving utterance to a speech wherein he disregarded the advice of the Times and the wishes of the Unionist free traders, and made a strong declaration on the fiscal question. After alluding to the absence of the immortal statesman, Joseph Chamberlain, and appealing for the unity of the Conservative party, which meant everything he referred to tariff reform. Amid uproarious cheering, he asked had the fiscal proposal lost force. (Shouts of "No.") Had it gained force? (Shouts of "Yes.") "You have given me your answer," said the ex-Premier. "I agree with that answer." (Tumultuous cheering.) Mr. Balfour admitted that originally he had had fears as to whether the policy of promoting free trade within the empire, which is the most important of our commercial interests, and must appeal to every member of our worldwide empire, could be carried out with so many units interested. But after the last Imperial Conference no misgivings were possible. (Cheers.) If the Conservatives were in power to-morrow their first duty would be the summoning of that conference, which had been so rashly closed. (Great cheering.) He could not take a better text than

Mr. Henry Chaplin's resolution, carried that afternoon with such enthusiasm, urging the broadening of the basis of taxation, the safeguarding of our productive industries, the strengthening of our position in foreign markets, and the colonial preference. To that he subscribed, but any duties imposed must be small and widespread, not touching raw material, and not increasing the burdens of the working classes. Mr. Balfour then alluded to the encroachments of Socialism, and outlined the Conservative programme of social reform. The Conservative Platform. London, Nov. 14.—At a conference of the Conservative Associations to-day Mr. Henry Chaplin moved a resolution suggesting as the basis of the party's constructive policy the broadening of taxation, the safeguarding of productive industries from unfair competition, and a preferential arrangement with the colonies. Mr. Chaplin said Mr. Balfour had congratulated him on the terms of his resolution, which accurately summarized his (Balfour's) views. Mr. L. J. Maxse warned the party that if they undertook tariff reform Mr. Lloyd-George would steal their powder. The resolution was carried unanimously. A vote of sympathy for Mr. Joseph Chamberlain occasioned a scene of extraordinary enthusiasm. All the Same. Hewitt—"The twin sisters look so much alike that I hardly know which one I'm engaged to." Jewett—"What do you care, as long as each girl's father has money?"—Harper's Weekly. "How can I ever hope to win such a proud beauty?" "Drop around when men are scarce. She ain't nearly so proud then."—Washington Herald. An Indiana judge has ruled that when a woman marries a drunkard she must live with him.

GOULD DIVORCE.

BRINGS CHARGE AGAINST HIS WIFE OF WRONG DOING.

Attempt Made by Defendant to Have Alleged Prenuptial Confession Introduced—Sensation Promised.

New York, Nov. 14.—Howard Gould, the second son of the late financier, Jay Gould, was unmercifully scored in court to-day by Clarence J. Shearn, counsel for Mrs. Katherine Clemons-Gould, when he outlined his defence in the divorce action which Mrs. Gould has brought against him. Mr. Gould, through his attorneys, Nicoll, Anable & Lindsay, declared that his wife had been guilty of misconduct with Col. William F. Cody, better known as "Buffalo Bill," some years before her marriage. In support of this defence, Mr. Gould's attorneys wished to take the testimony of Miss Helen Mar, of London, England, who has appeared on the stage and is known as a "public reader." They charged that Mrs. Gould, some twelve years ago, made a confession to Miss Mar that her conduct with Col. Cody had been meretricious and criminal. Mr. Shearn declared that such a charge coming from a husband who had lived with his wife eight years put the man beneath contempt. He said that it was but a pretext to avoid supporting a wife of whom he had tired. He charged that it was but a matter of dollars and cents, so far as Gould was concerned. The case came before Justice O'Gorman, in Part I. of the Supreme Court, to-day, on Mr. Shearn's motion to vacate an order recently signed by Justice Fitzgerald for the examination of Helen Mar, who was about to return to England. It is said that she was brought here in Mr. Gould's interest, thinking that the trial would be heard about this time. She is not willing to wait till the case comes to trial. Mr. Gould's papers, which had been served on Mr. Shearn, showed that he would enter a general denial to all charges of misconduct on his part, such as would entitle Mrs. Gould to a divorce on statutory grounds. He would further plead justification for his abandonment on the ground of the misconduct of Mrs. Gould prior to their marriage. "The reason why we seek to vacate this order," said Mr. Shearn, "is a very obvious one. After living with Mr. Gould for eight years as his wife, Mrs. Gould was abandoned, and is now confronted with the claim that some unidentified woman living in London has been procured by Mr. Gould by means not entirely unimaginable to swear that twelve years before Mrs. Gould had confessed to misconduct with Cody. Naturally she desires to have this woman face a jury and submit to a cross-examination." Mr. Shearn declared that as Gould's affidavits were founded on information and belief they prove nothing. "If a woman had been guilty of misconduct before her marriage," said Mr. Shearn, "that is no justification for abandonment. It might be a plea for an annulment of the marriage, but the papers do not state that the defendant intends to bring an action for annulment." "There certainly could be nothing more provoking to a husband," said Courtlandt V. Anable, Mr. Gould's counsel, in his argument, "than the discovery that his marriage contract had been brought about by fraud. In the past annulment of this character, but in the practice to-day we cannot set up an annulment as a counter-charge to one for a separation."

misconduct on the part of the wife, seems to me fully to justify the taking of Miss Mar's testimony now, in view of her contemplated departure for England. Mr. Shearn said in reply, "Just picture to yourself the situation of this defendant, who, after three years of engagement and eight years of marriage, comes into court with a story of an alleged confession of twelve years ago. It is simply sickening. Such a man is beneath public contempt, and the bare fact should lead the court to refuse this extra relief." Miss Mar was to have been examined to-day in the office of David McCune, the referee, 22 William street. The examination was postponed until to-morrow subject to Justice O'Gorman's decision. BEE-MEN IN SESSION. Have Now 273 Members in the Ontario Association. Toronto, Nov. 15.—At yesterday's meetings of the Beekeepers' Association of Ontario reports were read showing the cost of inspection for the year had been $2,285, while the sum voted by the Legislature had been only $1,200. Six inspectors had made 733 visits, and examined 663 apiaries, containing 14,993 hives, in which 264 "foul broods" were found. The association now has a total membership of 273. Miss Margaret Treverrow, of Meadowvale, gave an address on "Foul Brood." Papers on the "Distribution of Honey," by W. A. Chrysler of Chatham; "Comb Honey," by S. D. House, Camillus, New York; and "A Chapter of Mistakes," by K. H. Smith of St. Thomas, were presented during the various sessions. The almost world-wide movement to protect and establish forests has reached China, and the first Chinese school of forestry will soon be opened at Moukden. The Chinese empire is usually pointed out as the worst example among modern nations of forest destruction.
