his men exercise more common sense in dealing with these cases, and where possible to quietly notify people who had failed to do so, to clean the snow off at once.

At a meeting yesterday afternoon in Mayor Stewart's office of the officers of the Associated Charities of the city, the conditions existing at present in the city were discussed, and also ways and means of meeting the distress.

Resolved, that in the opinion of this meeting the different charitable societies and the City Relief Officer are fully capable of dealing with all appeals made to them for assistance, and after investigation, such aid as is found necessary will be granted.

It looks as if more pruning will have to be done to the estimates as already drafted. The Board of Education might not cut off the $10,000 as requested by the Mayor.

City Clerk Kent to-day again declared that there was no foundation for the statement that the city insurance was not equally divided among the different companies.

Among the things asked for by Hamilton and endorsed by the Municipal Association's executive at the conference with Hon. J. W. Hanna yesterday was legislation authorizing councils to pass by-laws regulating the location of pits and not permitting the closing of lanes with out the city's permission being secured.

Reeve Gage, of Barton township, informed the city officials to-day that he had given instructions to the county constables to report all cases of destination at Crown Point, Kenilworth or in the township at once.

The street lighting arbitration between the city and the Cataract Power Co. before Judge Snider, will be continued next Monday at the court house.

Results for 1907

Every banking institution has an annual stocktaking and then publishes the result.

Its good advertising—that's why.

Here are a few figures from our statement for the year ending Saturday, Feb. 8th:

Fifteen per cent increase in our sales of the Sanford Co.'s clothing (the only clothing we sell) over last year; therefore the best year in our history.

Percentage of profits not so large as last year because we announced just a year ago that we intended doing a larger business on a smaller margin of profit—and we did it, so that the net results are about the same as for 1906.

You see the point? We sold more goods than last year, but made no more money.

Our customers got the benefit. They bought the Sanford Co.'s clothing nearer the cost of production and the logical result was that our output was considerably larger—15 per cent. increase over 1906.

Next year we are going to do better still, simply because we are bound to do the largest clothing business in Hamilton—always.
