Of Interest to Piano Buyers.

Of Interest te Piano Buyers,
That the piano has become the universal musical instrument, and should have a place in every home, has become an axiom. That Gourlay, Winter & Leeming are the leading factors in making this desirable acquirement possible also an established fact, and just now they are offering (in addition to their tew Gourlay pianos) a number of slightly teed instruments at prices and terms so attractive as to place a fine piano within the reach of every householder. The fast includes pianos by Mendelssohn, Mason & Risch, Gerhard Heintzman, Heintzman & Co. If you are thinking of buying a piano it will pay you to investigate. EXECUTORS ADDED.

In the High Court action of W. J. Walsh vs. Donald Campbell, Kate W. Campbell and James Dickson, an order was made this morning adding J. G. Gauld, Norman Slater and William Dick-Gauld, Norman Slater and William Dickson, the executors of the late James Dickson, as defendants. Donald Campbell and Kate Campbell at the time the suit was first started, to recover certain moneys, made an assignment to James Dickson, which necessitated that he be added as a defendant. Under the will of the late Mr. Dickson, John G. Gauld, Norman Slater and William Dickson, were the executors, and the order was to-make them defendants in his place.
