By the way, did you hear the trouble Mrs. Farseeker has with the imported machine she got the same time we got our Williams? PATERFAMILIAS-Yes; it is the best joke in the world. You know, they thought they were going to get something that would beat all creation. Now Mrs. Farseeker hasn't a good word for it. She says she is out of all patience, and that when the agent comes for his money she will make him take the raitletrap away, as it is nothing but a such change invitation of the Williams. New Hamburg Spring Fair. New Hamburg Spring Fair. New Hamburgi, April 6 — The annual spring fair of entire horses, bulls, and seed grain held here to-day drew togetter a large concourse of people, not-withstanding the unpleasant appearance of the weather and the cuuddy state of the roads. There was a fine display of horres, many of them being particularly admired. Prizes wore distributed among the different classes. Horse buyars were present, and soveral sales wore made. Altogether the fair was a decided success. Erin Cattle Fair Eris Cattle Fair. Entry, April 5.—The quarterly fair held in Erin to-day was largely attended. Notwithstanding the large number of cattle that have been bought in this section of the country fordelivery in May, there were quite a number offered to-day, and met with ready sale at prices from four to five cents. A large meeting was held in the town hall in the afternoon for the purpose of taking into consideration the pro-priety of organizing a monthly fair, when it was unanimously agreed to hold the fair on the first Monday of every month.
