New Price for the Government Lime

Under a new arrangement between Hon. J. F. Tweeddale, minister of agriculture, and Smith & Merrithew, who are crushing limestone under an agriculture at Brookville, crushed lime for fertilizer will be sold at the Brookville, siding for $3 a ton f. o. b. in car load lots, according to a dispatch from Fredericton. The purchaser will pay freight charges to destination. The former price was $5 a ton delivered at the railway station indicated by the purchaser. The increase in freight rates has made it impossible to continue the old arrangement. The lime contract has therefore been amended to meet the increased cost in freight rates, as provided by its terms when drawn up.

Hon. Mr. Tweeddale will protest to the chairman of the railways that crushed lime intended for rectification of soils must be classified to come under the increased freight rates. The commission ruled originally that the increase would not apply to such crushed stone.

The lime which is being turned out at Brookville by the analysis of Professor Schutt, Dominion analyst of Ottawa, contains ninety-three per cent pure lime.

Great Britain Will Not Confiscate Property

Paris, Oct. 27.—The French Foreign Office received official notification today that Great Britain renounces the right of confiscation on German property in the United Kingdom.

This has caused "great surprise," which is freely expressed in French official circles as there had been no previous intimation that such a move was probable.

French officials emphasize the gravity of this move, as they fear Germany will make a similar request of France, which it is declared, could not be granted. However, they point out that the renunciation by Great Britain of her rights under paragraph 15, annex II, of paragraph 8, of the treaty of Versailles, is not as sweeping as reported at first.

Some complaint is made because France is confronted with an accomplished fact, without having been given an opportunity to discuss the matter.

It was said at the Foreign Office today that France would send a reply to the British note, but what form the reply would take could not be disclosed at this juncture.

Official circles add that Great Britain retains her rights in case of voluntary default by Germany.

DISTRESS IN EUROPE

Canadian Red Cross to Organize Appeal on Behalf of Orphans—Call to Be Made in Armistice Week.

An urgent appeal for aid to combat the widespread disease and distress in the war-stricken areas in Europe has been made by the League of Red Cross Societies to the nations which have suffered least from the war. In response a War Relief Fund has been undertaken in Great Britain with an Empire-wide appeal for contributions. The Fund is under the immediate patronage of His Majesty the King and has the support of all parts of the Empire.

His Excellency, the Governor-General of Canada, having received communications from London upon this matter, consulted the Prime Minister, and with his approval referred the question to the Canadian Red Cross Society, and it was arranged for an appeal to be made in Canada during Armistice week in November. The Fund will be known as "The British Empire War Relief Fund."

To Make Known the Need.

The Canadian Red Cross Society accepted the task of making this appeal known throughout Canada only in view of the relentless circumstances and the humane desire to help to alleviate the terrible suffering of a large number of peoples. The reasons are numerous and compelling. Large populations are suffering from distress and disease. Millions of innocent children are among them. Even in time of peace great numbers of their people lived close to the bread line. The war drained them of all their surplus resources. Through the years of strife they were denied all but the bare necessities, and their condition now is pitiful indeed. History has repeated itself. The diseases which took such fearful toll of human life after the Thirty Years' War, the Seven Years' War (1757-65), and the Napoleonic Wars are again widespread, and now there are millions of people in Galicia, Poland, Jugo-Slavia and Roumania who, in addition to being poverty stricken, are in the direst misery and despair on account of disease. In some twelve countries, most of which were either our Allies or friendly to the Allied cause, modern civilization is faced with the inevitable consequences of a great war through partial famine and pestilence.

A Previous Epidemic.

That the epidemic is now one of alarming proportions and terrible in its effect may be noted from the following quotation from "The Times":

"At present the worst results of typhus are confined to Galicia, where the schools are closed, business is at a standstill, and civic life is crippled. The whole community is faced with starvation, whilst the absence of clothing and drugs makes it impossible for the authorities to make any headway against the epidemic. Here we have a country into which the idea of modern sanitation has never penetrated; for the most part there is no water supply in the smaller towns and villages save wells, whilst the work of sewers is done by open gullies running through the streets. There are no doctors, no nurses, and no beds, and the miserable typhus-stricken patients lie unattended on the bare floor. Throughout the rural districts whole families exist in miserable one-roomed huts, their diet consisting of starvation rations of potatoes and beet, both bread and meat being luxuries rarely seen. In almost every hut there are several cases of typhus and in many instances whole families are stricken with the disease, and are perforce left to die unattended."

Many Countries Are Suffering.

What is said of Galicia is true of other countries of Europe, such as Estonia, Lithuania, Latvia, huge territories of the Ukraine, Soviet Russia, Jugo-Slavia and Czechoslovakia. Nor is typhus the only affliction. Tuberculosis, smallpox, dysentery and relapsing fever are also ravaging large areas.

Lack of Medical Aid.

These terrible conditions have been called to the attention of the people of the British Empire in a statement by the Right Hon. Arthur J. Balfour, who, speaking for the Council of the League of Nations, says:

"Men, women and children are dying by thousands, and over vast and civilized areas there are neither medical appliances nor medical skill sufficient to cope with the horrors by which we are faced. Governments have in certain cases done all in their power to bring relief, but there remains a vast field for charitable enterprise which can be dealt with only by voluntary effort."

Eleven Million Orphans.

Dr. Livingstone Farrand, chairman of the Central Committee of the American Red Cross, who has just returned from Europe, states that there are 11,000,000 fatherless children in Europe who face the next few years without hope of adequate care unless outside assistance is given.

For Suffering Children.

No stronger call could be made to humanity than that of suffering children, and on their behalf particularly the Canadian Red Cross will appeal throughout Canada during Armistice week. Each provincial division of the Red Cross will have charge of the arrangements in its own province, and all Red Cross workers should put themselves into touch immediately with their local branch or with the Headquarters of the Provincial Division if no local branch is organized.

A New Character

When, four years ago, KING COLE ORANGE PEKOE TEA first appeared, something more than a new tea had been produced—a new character in tea had been created. Only after most searching experiments in flavor-blending were we at last able to develop that peculiarly mellow richness of flavor so delightful to the taste, which has won for KING COLE ORANGE PEKOE the high place it holds. The total annual sale of KING COLE ORANGE PEKOE has doubled twice in the last two years.

We are confident that you will say that it is different to any tea you ever tasted.
