Chaos at Home.

The situation in the great cities of England may be realized to some extent from the items which we publish from the Daily Mail of Friday week, when the strike of transport workers was but partial. "Mob law reigns in London. The strikers are supreme. In all directions yesterday they stopped traffic and interrupted supplies. The capital finds itself in the position of a blockaded city, within which civil war—though fortunately of a mild type—is in full swing. There is a disquieting shortage of all manner of supplies. Meat has risen greatly in price. Fruit is scarce. Ice is becoming unobtainable. Petrol is hard to obtain. In the docks and the railway stations vast quantities of produce are accumulating, but they cannot be unloaded or distributed. The strikers have given the order, and their will prevails."

"So grave is the outlook, so extreme the danger to London's food, that troops are being held ready at Aldershot, Hounslow, Shorncliffe, Colchester, Dover, and elsewhere; 100 rounds of ball cartridge per man have been issued. Army Service wagons are waiting at Hounslow."

"An order was issued at Aldershot at 10.30 that all the troops were to go to bed, but they were to sleep in their clothes."

"Mr. Tillet stated yesterday to a Daily Mail representative that if the strike continues for another week there will probably be no newspapers, and you may not be able even to buy a notebook," he added.

Ten thousand tons of paper are now lying at the wharves and in ships between Wapping and Blackfriars; and at Marylebone Station, the point of arrival for the Grimsby Mills, paper is accumulating at the rate of 500 tons a week.

London's daily and weekly newspapers require between 4,500 and 5,000 tons a week. One firm, who bring their paper by water to wharves in the City, where they receive 2,000 tons a week, have been endeavouring to bring supplies by rail to the Bricklayers' Arms Station. Their carmen were threatened by strikers but succeeded in getting portions of the consignment through."

"Owing to some 20,000 tons of ice being detained at the docks, factories, and cold storage departments the supply in London yesterday was almost entirely cut off."

"At Covent Garden 500 or 600 porters were standing idle. There was no foreign fruit for sale. It has been impossible to remove 50,000 packages of French and Spanish goods which arrived on Wednesday. Forty-four thousand cases of foreign fruit, valued at £14,000, are lying in ships in the river rotting. One firm has been obliged to drop into the sea about 5,000 bunches of bananas."

The wife of a shoemaker, New George Street, summoned her husband this morning for assault. He did not appear in Court, the Judge then ordered that he find two sureties in £100 each or in default go down for six months. The police were instructed to carry out the sentence at once. The wife beater realized that the Court meant business and quickly found the bonds.

Cable News.

LONDON, Aug. 18.
Fifty thousand troops arrived during the day and encamped at various points where they were able to protect the various lines of communication. Scarcely any railway lines entering London gave a complete service, even the underground tube system was affected to some extent. The Great Western Railway and the Great Central Railway were the two services that were most seriously affected. The conditions in the provinces are somewhat more serious than in the metropolis. The West of England is completely cut off from London. Some disorder was reported at Birmingham to-day, while at Stockport business is at a standstill as the teamsters are still out on strike. At Liverpool chaos is complete. Railway companies have been compelled to discontinue selling tickets throughout Wales, where there is almost a total stoppage of traffic and no train could get through to Fishguard. As the day progressed, more serious reports came in. The strikers took possession of the railway line at Glamorgan, a seaport of Wales, and succeeded in repulsing the police, who attempted to drive them off. At several out of way places at Wales the signal boxes were burned and other acts committed. The threat to call a general strike of teamsters throughout the country is not likely to be enforced, as the men appear satisfied with the settlement recently reached.
