They Must Go.

The Picnic Party are scared these days. They are already in mortal terror of the judgment that is in store for them next year.

They know that the people have made up their minds that the Grabbers shall go, and go the Grabbers must.

The people are outraged at the suggestion that a different standard prevails for a Cabinet in London and a Ministry in St. John's. They do not see why this should be so. They do not agree that it is so, and they insist that it shall not be so.

How does it happen that Minister Morison has not resigned after reading the opinion of Governor Williams that, judged by the standard of the British Cabinet, a member so situated would feel himself called upon to resign?

The hint of the Governor was apparently not strong enough. Some folks need a sledge hammer to drive an idea into their heads. As Mr. Morison did not see the force of the suggestion that he should resign voluntarily, why did not the Prime Minister enforce it with something strong enough to bring it about.

Mr. Morison is still a member of the Ministry, and Minister of Justice, six months after the Governor expressed an opinion to the Secretary of State for the Colonies to this effect: "I might go even further and say that I can hardly imagine a similar case arising, because the traditions and practice of the House of Commons are opposed to it."

Is it possible to convey in clearer terms a hint that the proper course for the Minister concerned was voluntary resignation, and the proper course for the Prime Minister to insist upon was to drive the suggestion home to the mind of the Minister, should he be dense.

Mr. Morison appears to be content to carry the stigma of the opinions expressed by the Governor and the Secretary of State in London, provided he is not forced to give up his office. He is apparently satisfied to take shelter under the cloak of another opinion of the Governor, which follows immediately on that last quoted, viz.: "But it is widely different here and it must not be supposed that the difference springs from corruption."

The Governor, in spite of these opinions, and in spite of Mr. Morison declining to resign voluntarily, retains him on his Council and appealed to the Secretary of State to confirm his action. Here is part of what the Governor wrote: "I believe that I shall be doing right in retaining Mr. Morison on my Council and in continuing to extend my confidence to him, and I trust that you will confirm me in this view."

The Governor's appeal for the whitewashing of his chief fell on deaf ears. The Right Hon. L. Harcourt maintained the standard of the British Cabinet. He lived up to the traditions of the House of Commons and declined to confirm the Governor in his view of Mr. Morison, and curtly stated: "I have to inform you that I am not prepared to express any opinion on the controversy which deals with questions which concern primarily the Government and Legislation of the Colony."

The Pilot's Mistake.

Special to Evening Telegram.

QUEBEC, To-day. It now comes out that the carrying of a lantern on the St. Lawrence beach by fishermen led the pilot of the Royal George to mistake it for a light on a mast of a buoy on Beaumont Shoal. He gave orders to port the helm, bringing the vessel nearer the North Shore. When he discovered his mistake he ordered the helm to starboard but before the steamer swung south she struck and remained.

Smallpox in Quebec.

THE Best Bread IS Ayre's.

Whaling News From North.

The Prospero brings word that the whaler Hawk, operating at Cape Charles, is having very poor fishing, due to the continuous stormy weather, which is hampering the work. In fact she has not a great deal since she went there, only capturing nine fish. This catch in addition to the thirteen caught at Cape Broyle the early part of the season, will not pay for the outfitting of the Hawk for the voyage, much less pay a dividend to the shareholders, who will have to 'dip' to their pockets this year.

The northern boat also reports that Job's whaler Hump, operating around the waters of Trinity, is also meeting with poor success. This aggregate catch of whales to date this season so far, is behind last year despite the fact that whale oil is much cheaper than it was twelve months ago.

Here and There.

FURNESS LINE SAILING.—The S. S. Ripon from Halifax for this for this port at 2 a.m. to-day.

It is strong, durable, speedy, reliable—and yet so easily understood that any 10 year old boy can operate it.—nov11,12

BROUGHT OIL AND FISH.—The Prospero is now berthed at the Furness Wharf Line pier unloading whale oil and fish which she brought from Trinity.

Stafford's Liniment for sale at Ayre & Sons' Grocery Department.—oct24,12

DANCE.—To-night Mrs. W. A. Munn will give a dance at waterford Hall in honor of the return from England of her daughter, Miss Gwen-doline. Thirty five couple will be present.

Stafford's Liniment, Prescription "A" and Phoratorne Cough Cure for sale at Knowledge's Grocery Department.—oct24,12

NO DANGER REPORTED.—By the Prospero we learn that the storm of Friday last was not severely felt along the northward and that no great damage resulted, although fishing boats were prevented from getting on the grounds.

STOLE BARREL OF FLOUR.—Yesterday Mr. Jas. Carrigan, of Loye Bay, left his cart on Duckworth St. east, while he did some business. On it were two barrels of Verbena flour worth $2.30 each. When he returned he found that one of them had been stolen. He reported the matter to the police.

NEW HOTEL MEETING.—The Tourist Traffic Committee of the Board of Trade will meet at five o'clock this evening to further consider the building of the new hotel. It is said that arrangements for the proposed erection have reached an advanced stage and that something of a definite character will be the outcome of this afternoon's conference.

Come to St. Bon's Bazaar, British Hall, Nov. 13, 14, 15. Xmas gifts, wedding presents. Don't miss the Grand Dance, Nov. 15. Cadet Band. Popular prices, 50 and 75 cents; double, $1.00. Tickets at Atlantic Bookstore.—nov8,12,13,14,15.

BIG CRUSH.—There was such a crush for entrance to the Nickel Theatre, last night, that the central iron railing in the steps at the entrance to the building was broken. Had such a crush occurred at either of the sides, people who have been killed, as they would fall to the rocks below a distance of over thirty feet. The crowd a little time blocked the place up to Military Road.

A druggist can obtain an imitation of MINARD'S LINIMENT from a Toronto house at a very low price, and have it labeled his own product. This greasy imitation is the poorest one we have yet seen of the many that every Tom, Dick and Harry has tried to introduce. Ask for MINARD'S and you will get it.

The Big Farce Comedy at Star.

The Star Theatre was filled to overflowing last night, to witness the very funniest comedy seen in a great while. There are ten or eleven people in the cast, each and every one taking his or her part in a manner that shows careful rehearsal. Rossiey has done this act before, some time away back, but it is revised and dished up in such a manner as to make it entirely different. Of course his nbs is in the leading role and the audience fairly rolled in their seats at the antics of the whole show. It will be on again to-night and to-morrow night, and if any person feels blue, or tired out, go and laugh at the Star Theatre.

The S. S. City of Sydney leaves Sydney to-day for this port. The S. S. Odland sails for Botwood to load for England. The S. S. Almeriana, Fairclough, sailed last night for Halifax.

VESSEL SHELTERED.—The tug Ingraham arrived at Westville yesterday evening with the sea, Lottie in tow. The tug made port in there out of the high sea which ran.

The Turkish Debacle.

Ashmead Bartlett's Vivid Description

London, Nov. 6.—Captain Ellis Ashmead-Bartlett, the Daily Telegraph special correspondent with the Turkish Army, continues in a cable dispatch from Constantia to-day his story of the battle of Lala Burgas and subsequent retreat of Ottoman forces after the disaster of October 29, and 31.

Describing the terrible scenes witnessed in the rout of Abdulhalim's army, he says:— "On Thursday not a vestige of an
