The Watermelon

The watermelon is a thick-skinned species of fruit which is grown in the south and shipped north to the original packers. A good watermelon consists of 5 cents' worth of rind and 35 cents' worth of fruit. The latter is all waste, however, for after the watermelon has been emptied of its contents the rind is made up into pickles, acrimonious pickles, which are sold to guests who are too polite to refuse.

The watermelon sprang from the soil of Georgia. In the early days of Georgia the drinking water was in the hands of a few brewers and the watermelon was introduced as a substitute for the drive well. It fulfilled its mission nobly and many a proud Georgian has completely quenched his thirst by drinking three or four watermelons, including the seeds.

Watermelons are never permitted to ripen in the south, but are always shipped north in as green a state as possible. As a result, a northern watermelon never knows when he orders a watermelon over the phone, whether he is going to receive a pumpkin or a summer squash. In order to make sure that the melon has attained maturity, most people have it tapped with a long spiral instrument, after which the green sends up an entirely different action which has to be fed to the cow.

The only part of the watermelon that can be eaten without coming in contact with the seeds is the heart. It is also the only section that ever gets ripe north of Mason's and the watermelon served at hotels contains no heart whatever, but is very plentifully supplied with black seeds, which secrete themselves in out of the way places and cause the diner to hunt for them nervously with his tongue. The minute you get a few feet away from the heart of a watermelon, you either run into the rind or bite eagerly into a non-elastic seed.

The home-grown watermelon of the corn belt is a melancholy imitation of the real article which deceives no one who has met the Georgia product face to face. However, it commands a ready sale in prohibition states.

Minimise The Loss.

Practically farmers may easily minimise the loss, due to a backward and cold season, by the judicious use of Sulphate of Ammonia as a fertilizer.

Sulphate of Ammonia contains over 23 per cent of nitrogen, as against 15 per cent in Nitrate of Soda, and is therefore more than 25 per cent better than nitrate of soda as a means of quickening and increasing the growth of crops.

The use of Sulphate of Ammonia has increased enormously of late years and it is recognized to be the most valuable fertilizer obtainable. By its judicious use the production of root crops per acre may be doubled, and the growth of late crops stimulated. We invite the attention of Farmers to our special pamphlet on the best methods of using Sulphate, copies of which will be forwarded free to any address on application.

The price of Sulphate is moderate, and our terms are accommodating.

Auto Kills Dog.

Last night an auto driver running east on Harvey Road killed a fine set dog. Many people were passing at the time and some thought the speed the chauffeur ran at was too high. The poor brute was almost cut in two. The owner was present and mercifully put the animal out of its pain.

Sloan-Duployan Shorthand Competitors

Newfoundland Again First.
The results of the second 1913 International Shorthand Competitions of the Sloan-Duployan Shorthand Society (Headquarters, Bamsgate, England) show that Newfoundland candidates have again done exceedingly well.

The highest award, the gold medal, in Class IV for the best shorthand note and transcript at 150 words a minute, was gained by Miss Marie Dunphy, 12 Cochrane Street, St. John's. (Miss Dunphy was coached by Miss N. Winnicombe, 42 Gower Street.)

The gold centre medal in Class III for the best note and transcript at 100 words per minute was carried off by Miss Eileen Cooke, 71 Gower St. St. John's. To complete the list of Newfoundland successes, one of the five silver medals in Class II was secured by Miss Mabel Porter, 34 Gower St. Both Miss Cooke and Miss Porter are pupils of the Convent of Mercy, Military Road, St. John's. It is obvious from these results that "mere man" has no chance whatever when he has to compete against such expert young lady stenographers as these. Entries were received from many parts of the world, including U.S.A., Canada, West Africa, South Africa, Egypt, Malay States, Mauritius and India.

The Fight of Their Lives.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—Please permit me to congratulate you on your editorials, and the way in which you are handling the political situation.

Robinson and McGrath are experiencing the fight of their lives, and well they might, now that they know for a certainty that Sir Robert Bond is still leading the Liberal Party.

If McGrath had the least shame about him he would not mention that Western Bay incident, but it seems as though he glories in the dastardly action. However, I have no doubt but what the majority of the electors of Newfoundland will show him before the thirtieth of November what they think of such a dirty action.

I suppose McGrath deserves a little credit for having sense enough to drop his laughable parody on "Morris is making good."

I would beseech Robinson and McGrath for goodness sake not to take us in the outposts for such fools. I know the greater number of us have a very meagre education, but please allow us to have a little sense and reason of our own.

Yours truly,
FISHERMAN FARMER.

You Can't Do Without 'Em.

A good workman is lost without up-to-date appliances. Office work is hard work without such labour-saving devices as are provided by the Globe-Wernicke Co. Their sectional goods are the last word in perfection, and are the result of many years of specializing in these lines. Both their Book-Cases and Filing Cabinets are necessities in the homes as well as in the offices. Being made in many styles, their appearance as well as their low price, makes them attractive. In the Filing Cabinets all bodies are made of STEEL, and in this remarkable feature they excel over all other makes. What office is free from the danger of destruction of valuable papers by mice and rats? With Steel Files this is impossible. Mr. Stanley Wright will remain in town until Saturday next, and will be pleased to explain the details of these almost unlimited combinations. Why not call on PERCIE JOHNSON and arrange for an interview.

Eat Whatever You Relish.

Sometimes the digestive machinery gets away off. No kind of Food looks good to you. You need Stafford's Prescription "A".

It is a temporary artificial digestive process to do the work until the stomach recovers normal conditions.

Many people think Peppin is the thing to take. Four times out of five they are wrong. Peppin will digest eggs, meat, etc., but has no effect on starchy foods like bread, potatoes, cake, pudding—in fact most of the articles that cause the trouble. Stafford's Prescription "A" is the thing.

It contains all the valuable ingredients for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis, and nervous Dyspepsia, etc.

Eat what you like. Stafford's Prescription "A" will do the rest.

Parrieh's Chemical Food, or Syrup is a valued tonic for the young, especially in cases where the blood is deficient in Iron or the Phosphates. It often has a quick effect in restoring the appetite, bringing the color back to the face of the little patient and improving the health generally. After a course of worm medicine it is held to be especially useful as it puts the stomach into a condition which enables it to overcome the tendency of worms to multiply in the intestines. Price 25c. and 51 a bottle.

One of the simplest forms of Menthol Inhaler is that of Dr. Bovel. Dr. Bovel's Inhaler is filled with pure menthol crystals and is useful in cold, croup, catarrh, catarrhal headache and such-like affections. Price 25c. each.

Morris-Barter Wedding.

Jersey Side, Placentia, July 24.—A very dainty wedding took place here to-day, at the residence of John Bradshaw, J.P., when his niece, Miss Florence E. Barter, was married to Dr. W. A. Morris, physician and surgeon of Santa Domingo. The ceremony was performed by the Rt. Rev. Mr. Reardon, assisted by the Rev. J. Sheehan. The bride looked charming in her white duchesse satin gown. Her veil was caught with orange blossoms, and was worked by her mother. She carried a shower bouquet. Her little bridesmaid looked cute in a French frock, and carried a basket of pink sweet peas. Dr. McKendrick was best man. The floral decorations of the different rooms were most artistically carried out. The wedding was private, and only the near relatives were present, among whom were the Rt. Hon. Sir F. P. Morris, brother of the groom; F. J. Morris, K.C., M.P.; Mrs. J. Barter, the bride's mother; Mrs. Foran, her aunt; and Mrs. C. A. LaBel, of Montreal, the groom's sister. Missy Morris, the Premier's little son, acted as page. After the ceremony, refreshments were served, and after this the happy pair left for their honeymoon which will be spent in the States and Canada, before leaving for the South. The bride's traveling dress was royal blue cloth, with hat to match—Daily News.

The Regatta.

The Cate Man, The Man From Carter's Hill and Mrs. Tucker join in the agitation for the Wheel of Fortune at the Races.

The Cate Man, the Man from Carter's Hill and that sensible woman man known as Mrs. Tucker signify their approval of the stand taken by Tucker regarding the "Wheel of Fortune" at the Regatta.

The Cate Man says matters of this kind that affect the common Jack are always conveniently winked out of sight and legal lights who in a moment or so will be preaching their political doctrine to men like Tucker, do not now think it worth their while to come out and tell Tucker if it is contrary to the law to run a wheel at the Races. Some of the high toned, solemn looking individuals smile at Tucker's interest in this matter, but Tucker does not sleep over their sarcastic glances, and would have them to understand that a simple wheel of fortune on the green on Regatta Day, is to him, just as interesting as a dabble in stocks on market day. He is not a gambler, but out of bed romancing on the shortest cut that will land the common Jack into heaven, but if they spent less time adding their feeble brains on matters of this kind and started out saving themselves, the common Jack would be more thankful to them, and they themselves would stand a far better show to manipulate a harp after Gabriel blows his trumpet. Common Jacks like Tucker and the Cate Man are sick and tired of running up against mild faced Purists who are at all times ready to "die" for the benefit of the "toller," but the Cate Man says the game is about worn threadbare and not by any means taken seriously by the Plain Man who's got to toil for an existence in this ancient and loyal quarry. What the common sense man wants to-day is honesty not hypocrisy, and who will not agree with Tucker when he says that the sitting out of the wheel of fortune at the Races is a screaming farce, when we see lotteries going on on all sides of us and no one to say no to it. Surely it is time to call a halt on this farce, especially when the town is deluged with lotteries running from gambling. In stocks on main, down to selling tickets on a decrepit "rag" whose ancestors suffered from an acute attack of lockjaw whilst journeying in that eventful trip to Mount Asarat.

Let us be fair and square in this matter, let us play the part of honest men and if the Wheel of Fortune is to be cut out of the sport at our Annual Derby, then let us drop bare faced gambling in the higher walks of life also. For as long as we go on with this kind of shinnanigan the more hypocrits we will produce in the community.

Once more let us ask if it is illegal to run the five cent wheel at the Races. If it is, then let us go to sack lotteries and races, let us convert the banks of Kitty Vinty into a place where we can do penance for our misdeeds, let us hope that we will awake some fine morning to find ourselves enjoying the reward of a well spent life wherein hypocrits reigneth not and where simple amusement is tolerated to the fullest extent.

For what is more idiotic than to hold a Regatta and debar people from having a go on a simple game of chance. If the law is so stringent then it should be repealed for we are surrounded and bounded at the Regatta with enough diabolical contrivers without turning the scene into a wilderness. We have the Penitentiary opposite us, the Graveyard behind us and the Hospital on our starboard quarter. Tucker says that with those surroundings and a cool day we ought to run no great risk of jumping over the fence, even if the Wheel of Fortune is permitted. So Tucker says let us hear the familiar cry of one more bet, there's a wholesome ring about that cry that reminds us of the times when we weren't as stuck up as we are to day, and when people were as witty as not to recognize a poor neighbor who lived on the same street as themselves. The wheel of fortune died and the same year a lot of common sense died with it.

TIM SHANNAHAN.

The Black Diamond Liner City of Sydney, Capt. McDonald, arrived from Montreal via Gulf Ports at eight o'clock this morning bringing eighty-five first class passengers. For here she brought Angus Keith, W. W. and Mrs. Hallyard and two-thirds cargo. The trip down the river was pleasant. From Sydney the run was made in 36 hours. She sails, again, tomorrow afternoon.
