Germany though Rich is Shamming Poverty.

Germany, far from being poor, is one of the richest countries in the world. Such is the rather startling statement made by a writer for the London Daily Mail, whose proprietor, Lord Northcliffe, was before his recent illness, in Germany investigating conditions with a view of telling the world the truth about that country. No matter that the mark is quoted lower and lower in Toronto papers. National wealth, the writer reminds one, does not consist of money which by itself is worth nothing, but of tangible property and goods, and it is increased by production. Now Germany has plenty of raw material within her own borders and it turning it into manufactured goods at a tremendous rate. Hence Germany's wealth.

FAR RICHER THAN FRANCE.
Germany is far richer than France, whose industrious peasants and bountiful crops used to amaze Canadian soldiers. All North Germany is a level plain, very fruitful and easily cultivable and it is opened up by a unique system of gently flowing deep rivers which can easily be connected, and only turbulent or "small" rivers. The principal wealth of nations is created nowadays in factories. Modern industry, as Canada and the United States keenly realize, depends on coal. Germany lost much coal by the peace terms, but in the Rhur Valley alone, she has about 200,000,000 tons of coal, twelve times as much as France and considerably more than the United Kingdom.

STRATEGIC TRADING POSITION.
For international commerce Germany has the best position in Europe. Russia, which formerly bought more from Germany than from any other nation, and is likely to become a tremendous market for German goods in the near future, is almost next door. Germany has 60 million of population while France has less than 40 million. Owing to her superiority in man power and natural resources, and therefore in production, Germany is undoubtedly twice as rich as France.

HUGE PROFITS IN CHEMICALS.
Germany's industries are extraordinarily prosperous, declares the investigator, but the profits are disguised as far as possible by "writing off" large sums. He cites the Badische Aniline and Soda Chemical Works whose gross profits in 1921 were 497 million marks, whereas its capital was only 400 million marks, and which, after writing off 145,528,245 marks managed to pay a dividend of 30 per cent. Its profits for 1922 can be imagined. And other great chemical industries show similar prosperity despite the fact that they are almost everywhere hampered by high tariffs, prohibitions and Government subsidies. Nevertheless between 1916 and 1921 their net profits have been increased eightfold. Some concerns even paid as high as 220 per cent. on their 1916 capitalization despite of huge sums written off.

BRITISH TAXES FOUR TIMES GERMANY'S.
We are told that Germany is crushed by taxation, but avers the writer, Germany's national revenue for the current year equals at the present rate of exchange $250,000,000 whereas Great Britain's is $1,000,000,000. In other words the people of Britain are paying four times the taxes paid by the people of Germany. Germany is eating good food drinking its full of excellent beer and wine wearing fine clothes, and lastly going in for every form of enjoyment to a far greater extent than it ever did in the palmiest days of the Kaiser. Germany is far from short of what she claims as her greatest shortage, by breeding live stock. The fact that the German masses are not poor, but usually well off is apparent to every visitor and to every reader of a German newspaper. Theatres, concerts, hotels and restaurants are overcrowded with well-dressed people. Even in out-of-the-way industrial towns where there are no visitors, all the pleasure resorts are crammed to their utmost capacity. Picture theatres are arising everywhere and producers are turning out films in which thousands of performers take part.

GAMBLING IS RIFE.
Horse racing meets have never been so numerous nor so well attended. Young Germany is taking to sports with energy. Spectators are luxuriously dressed, and carry Zeiss glasses, which sell for $50 a pair at the Canadian rate. German publishers are turning out sumptuous editions and novels which have unlimited sale. While beer drinking has declined, and the appetite for fine wines, champagne excepted, has increased, and much wine is imported. A veritable craze for sweetened liquors, chocolates and cigars has set in. Liqueur consumption has more than trebled. Never in German history have people been so well dressed, nor have they spent so much money on gambling and betting. Speculation in stocks and shares and exchange has become universal. The central streets of the town are becoming filled with small bankers and brokers, who serve the gambling mania, and the business pages of newspapers are filled with advertisements for managers and clerks familiar with exchange and share business.

COMING TO FISH FOR COD.

The following letter has been received by the Game and Inland Fisheries Board from a prominent citizen of the State of New York, whose name is for obvious reasons withheld.

"Game and Inland Fisheries Board, St. John's, Nfld.
Gentlemen.—The writer expects to be in St. John's, Newfoundland, the latter part of September, too late to enjoy your salmon fishing, but am writing to enquire if there are any facilities for codfishing off the coast, by hook and line, and if there are motor boats which make trips for this purpose. Do your laws restrict fishing off the coast, as outlined above, and are there any other inland fish for which there is no closed season?
Your advice will be appreciated.
Yours truly,

Beer With a Kick.

WOMAN FINED $100.

Charged with brewing hop beer over proof, a woman pleaded not guilty in the Police Court to-day. Accused had been warned a month previously but continuous complaints of drunks on and around her premises had caused samples of her brew to be taken. D. J. Davies, Government analyst, said the strength of the beer was the same as Bass' Ale. Accused pleaded for another chance, but as she had been warned before, a fine of $100 was imposed.

Salmon Plentiful.

MANY POACHERS CAUGHT.

Salmon have been very plentiful in the various rivers this year, as a result of the high water early in the season, which enabled the fish to get up to the pools. Poachers have been numerous, but thanks to the vigilance of the wardens, several have been caught and heavily fined. Cases of poaching have occurred at Curling, Glenwood, Botwood, Little River, and St. Mary's. The salmon are not taking readily to the fly this year, although there are such large numbers in the rivers.

WANTED TO FIGHT WOMEN.

"He met me and my daughter on the main road, and stripping off his coat, challenged us to fight" said a woman from a nearby settlement, who was the plaintiff in a slander case heard before Judge Morris to-day. The "he" referred to was a big, strapping, young man of the same place. Plaintiff stated that defendant had thrown a stone and a stick at her and had called her by a variety of abusive names. Plaintiff stated that she was in bodily fear of defendant. The case was dismissed.

Championship Game.

SAINTS AND B.I.S. MEET TO-MORROW.

As the Highland games take place Wednesday, it has been decided to play the Saints-B.I.S. football game to-morrow evening. The championship may depend upon the result of this game, and there is a considerable amount of interest among fans, as a consequence. If the B.I.S. win, they are champions for the third successive year, thus winning the cup for keeps. If they draw, they play off with the Cadets for first place, while to lose would mean that the Cadets become champions. The largest attendance for the season is expected at this game.

Sailed With Ore.

BOOM FOR BELL ISLAND.

Henrik Ibsen left Friday night for Bremerhaven with 7100 tons of ore. S.S. Hesperus sailed Saturday for Rotterdam taking 8000 tons of ore to Germany via the Dutch port. S. S. Lord Strathcona left this morning for Sydney, taking 8600 tons of ore. Several other ships will clear from the Iron Isle this week.

Visitors to Seaside.

The seaside resorts on the Southern Shore and on the Southern side of Conception Bay were crowded with visitors yesterday, who came to enjoy the fresh breezes and forget the clammy heat of town. Many people ventured into the sea and found the water very much to their liking. There was a very large number of visitors to the Garden at Holyrood.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

IRISH PATRIOT AT REST.

DUBLIN, Aug. 28.
Michael Collins was laid to rest on Monday in Glasnevin Cemetery, after a demonstration of national grief such as has been seldom seen in the long duration of Ireland's troubled history. Collins went to the grave amid the tears of a nation that worshipped him, personally, as a gallant young patriot who combined all those traits that Irishmen hold dear. It was a military funeral. Fellow officers who bore the body into the cathedral last night remaining on guard until this morning, when solemn Requiem High Mass was celebrated before a multitude that overflowed into the street. Sister Mary Celeste came from her convent in England to pray for her "baby brother" and beside her at the grave knelt Sean Collins, brother of the dead hero. Pitying eyes were upon Kitty Kiernan, fiancée of the dead General who knelt near by.

FREIGHTER ASHORE.

QUEBEC, Aug. 28.
The freight steamer Baluchistan, outward bound from Montreal with cargo, ran ashore off White Island, in an electrical storm, early Saturday morning. The wrecking steamer Lord Strathcona reached the scene that evening, and it is thought necessary to unload the stranded vessel before attempting to refloat her.

WIPE OUT AMBUSHERS.

QUEENSTOWN, Aug. 28.
A party of seven British artillerymen, from Bere Island, in Bantry Bay, who landed Friday at Castletown to draw pay for soldiers on the island, were ambushed by rebels and in the fighting that followed nearly all the ambushing party were killed or wounded, while the whole of the British were practically all wounded, some seriously.

MINERS ENTOMBED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.
Seventy-five men, comprising night force of the Argonaut Mine at Jackson, Amador County, are entombed as the result of a fire that broke out at midnight.

MORE TROUBLE IN NEAR EAST.

ATHENS, Aug. 28.
The expected offensive by Turkish Nationalists against Greek forces in Asia Minor appears to have begun, although extent of operations is not yet known. Kemalists hurled several divisions against Afium Karahissar, yesterday, in an attempt to break through the Greek front, but an official statement from Smyrna says they were repulsed. Information both from Greek and foreign sources indicates the excellent condition of the Greek Army.

Peps, Peeps or Pep-is.

In the London Chronicle of recent date, appears the following verse by Ashly Sterry, which deals with the pronunciation of the name "Peps". There are people, I'm told—some say there are heaps—Who speak of the talkative Samuel as "Peeps"; And some so precise and pedantic their step is, Who call the delightful old diarist "Pep-is". But those I think right, and I follow their steps, Ever mention the garrulous Gossip as "Peps".

A HOT DAY.—To-day was one of the hottest for the season, the thermometer registering over 85 degrees in the shade. Work was done in the greatest discomfort as the heat was very sticky. If it were not for the slight breeze which prevailed, the temperature would have been intolerable.

Household Notes.

To make quick chocolate caramel, melt three square chocolates in a pan, add three-fourths cup of butter, 1 1/2 pounds brown sugar and a fourth cup red label Karo. Stir, and cook until rosey. Add a cup chopped nuts, and pour into two bread pans. Cut into cubes when nearly cold.

With the vinegar to be used for salad dressing cover a kernel of garlic. Put this into a closed jar, and when making dressing use a teaspoon of this. It gives a delicious flavor to the salad.

After dishwashing rub lemon over the hands before drying them. Allow juice to remain on hands for several minutes, then rinse off in clear water, dry hands, and then use a greaseless hand lotion.

When you are planning a picnic, lunch or motor trip, try packing individual lunch boxes. Everyone's taste can be considered, and a great deal of unnecessary passing and unpacking is avoided.

To make an excellent horseradish sauce peel one round horseradish and grate. After measuring grated root, beat into an equal quantity of heavy cream beaten stiff. Add salt and pepper, and serve cold with hot fish.

Rich cakes of small size should be put into a hot oven and the temperature gradually decreased. Larger cakes, made with a good deal of flour, are best if put into a cold or cool oven and the temperature gradually increased.

If anything on a cooking range boils over and smokes, open all the windows and lift one plate from the pan to allow the smoke to be drawn up the chimney. A little vinegar put on to boil will destroy any lingering disagreeable odor.

Butterscotch sauce for ice cream is made by cooking together in a double boiler a cup of sugar, a cup of dark corn syrup and a cup of cream. Stir well together and cook for an hour; then beat in two spoonfuls butter and a little vanilla.

A treat for the lover of spice cakes is marshmallow gingerbread. After taking a loaf gingerbread from the pan halve and place it between the halves cut marshmallow. Put back into the oven until the marshmallows are puffy; then serve hot with whipped cream.

Do not discard the cornet which is made with strong elastic webbing. Cut out webbing, wash with soap and soft brush, and use to replace the worn elastic in old brassieres.

Fruits can almost always be canned satisfactorily by cooking in the open kettle, but vegetables keep much better if put into jars first, then sealed and sterilized.

A well-balanced and delicious luncheon for a cool day is creamed tuna fish, baked potatoes, currant bun, canned peas, with whipped cream and chocolate.

To make sour cream cakes beat two eggs well, add one cup sugar and a cup sour cream. Mix and sift one-eighth teaspoon salt, one and a half cups flour, one-quarter teaspoon soda and one and a half teaspoons baking powder. Add to first mixture and flavor with vanilla. Bake in well-greased muffin tin in moderate oven.

To bake a picnic ham soak it overnight first in cold water. Then put in to fresh water and boil until nearly tender, allowing to cool in water in which it was boiled. Take it out and roll in mixture of breadcrumbs and brown sugar, and stick whole cloves into it. Bake in a dripping-pan with a little water in pan, and baste often with sweet vinegar drained from watermelon pickles.
