STOCK MARKETS. H. C. Becher, stock broker, Bank of Commerce building, received the follow-ing by private wire from Bartlett, Fra-zier & Carrington today: New York, Nov. 12.—Noon.—The bank statement is much more favor-able than was anticipated, loans and deposits showing so heavy a reduction as to nearly counterbalance the loss in ash. This is likely to result in a coninuance and widening of the prevailng speculation, as it will give confidence to operators for a rise. There seems no doubt the public interest is increasing, but as yet the large traders are the principal holders of stocks, and they naturally will make every effort to hold prices at the present level until they can distribute them. As far as stock market is concerned it was on he whole strong, in spite of somewhat heavy profit-taking in some quarters, Manipulation of the industrials was in vidence, more especially in Missouri Pacific, Corn Products, Distillers, and Con.
