WILL CONFER ON LEASE OF L. & P. S. ROAD

Pere Marquette Officials To Meet City Commission On Saturday.

RESULT PROBLEMATICAL

Claim Made That Railway Will Not Recede From Its Present Stand.

Solution of the tenantless condition of the London and Port Stanley Railway brought about by the order of the commission to the Pere Marquette to leave within 30 days is expected to be made on Saturday. According to information given to The Advertiser today, a meeting, at which representatives of the Pere Marquette and its sub-tenants, the Michigan Central Railway, will confer the city commission, has been

Naturally the result of this conference is problematical, but it is claimed that the railway company will not recede from the position it has takenthat it is not responsible for accidents on the road it is operating for the cityand that leaves the commission with no other alternatives, but to accept the Pere Marquette ruling or look around for other tenants.

Since the announcement of the commission's order was made in The Advertiser yesterday, it has been the cause of the greatest comment all over the The fact that the city may have to operate the line as a steam road for some time is one of the possibilities that is being considered by the man on

Referring to affairs at home, the Premier declared that since the order of mobilization had been given between 250 000 and 300,000 recruits have been secured. He made an appeal to noncommissioned officers to return to the army and offer their services. The Premier said his appeal was addressed as much to employers as to the men, who should be assured reinstatement in their positions on their return. Mr. Bonar Law Speaks

The Guildhall meeting came to an end with speeches by Bonar Law, leader of the Unionist party in the House of Commons, and Former Premier Balfour. Law declared that the key peace and war had been in Berlin for nearly a generation. The head of the German Government had merely whisper the word "peace," and there would have been no war. "He did not speak that word," Mr. Law continued, but drew the sword, and may the accursed system for which he stood perish

Mr Balfour said that Great Britain had entered the war because honor and interests could not be divorced, and because of a nation which strove for great power, but which was utterly ignorant

The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem. Later in an apartment adjoining the Guildhall a number of recruits were enrolled. "Not a single colleague in the cabinet repented the decision, which had passed om one of diplomacy to one of honor,' the Premier declared. "It would be a criminal mistake to underestimate either the magnitude. the fighting qualities, or the staying powers of the forces arrayed against the allies," the Premier went on. "It would be equally foolish and insensible
